LESSON VII .- MAY 17, 1908.

Jesus Betrayed and Denied .- John 18

Commentary.-I. Jesus betrayed (vs. 1-5). 1. Had spoken these words—The discourse and prayer recorded in John 14, 15, 16 and 17. Went...the brook Cedron—Or Kidron. This was a small stream that flowed to the east of Jerusalem, through the Valley of Jehoshaphat, and divided the city from the Mourt of Olives. Where was a garden—Gethsemane, which means "oil-press." The very name was an emblem of trial, The very name was an emblem of trial, distress, agony. It was near the foot of the western slope of Olivet and "was probably an enclosed olive vineyard, containing a press and garden tower." The present Gethsemane is about three-quirters of a mile from the wall of Jerusalem. He entered and His disciples—John passes over the events connected with the entering, and the agony of Christ in the garden, probably because it was so fully described by the other evangelists. See Matt. 26, 36-46; Mark 14, 32-42; Luke 22, 39-46.

2. Judas... knew the place—Luke

14, 32-42; Luke 22, 39-46.

2. Judas...knew the place—Luke tells us that this very week they had spent their nights on the Mount of Olives (Luke 21, 37); and having been there frequently with the Master Judas was familiar with His resting-places; yet he went so far as to meet Him in that sacred place and there betray Him. What a picture of a fallen nature! 3. A band of men—Judas received the Roman band of men—Judas received the Roman cohort, which consisted of from 300 to 600 men, who were quartered in the tower of Antonia and guarded the peace of the city. With the Roman soldiers came also "the chief priests, and captains of the temple, and the elders" (Luke 22, 52), and "a great multitude" (Mark 14, 43). Lanterns and torches—It was at the time of the full woon. band of men-Judas received the Roman It was at the time of the full moon and these were not necessary, only as the band might have expected to search the shady recesses of the garden of the valley of the Cedron. Weapons—The Roman soldiers were armed with swords, but the crowd with "stayes" (Matt. 26.

Whom seek ye—Jesus speaks to lead them to admit their purtaken unawares, but voluntarily delivered Himself up. Whom seek ye—Jesus speaks to lead them to admit their purpose. 5. Jesus of Nazareth—The answer may perhaps reveal the light in which Judas had represented Jesus to the Roman authorities; "of Nazareth"—a Galilean prone to revolt.—Schaff. I am Galilean prone to revolt.—Schaff. I am When she fainted, they carried than." When she fainted, they carried the state of the transfer of the state of t Galilean prone to revolt.—Schaff. I am whom you are searching. Judas—stood with them—That is, with the band of soldiers. A kiss had been agreed upon as a signal to mark the person they were seeking. As the band reached the garden Judas went somewhat in advance of them (Luke 22, 47), and reached Jesus after He had roused the three—Peter, James and John—and was preparing to go and meet His capter. Juwere seeking. As the band reached the garden Judas went somewhat in advance of them. (Luke 22, 47), and reached Jesus after He had roused the three—Peter, James and John—and was preparing to go and meet His captors, Judas saluted Him, "Hail, Rabbi," so as to be heard by the rest, and kissed Him repeatedly, loudly, effusively (Matt. 26, 49). The Saviour submitted to the indignity, not stopping, but only saying Job abhorred himself (Job 42; 6): if 49). The Saviour submitted to the indignity, not stopping, but only saying as He passed on: "Friend" (not the endearing word, but "companion"), 'is it this for which thou art here?" (Matt. perdition."

17. Jesus arrested (vs. 10-12). Peter drew his sword and cut off the right car of the high priest's servant. From Luke 22. 49; we see that the disciples asked Jesus if they should defend flim with the sword. Peter did not wait for an answer, but at once begins the defence. "Probably he wished by this blow to prove his readiness to risk his life for his Lord and to fulfil his vow. Mark 14. 27-317; "in all-sprobability it was also his design to give a signal to the friends and the Lord Himself to rise in arms against the foe."—Lange.

IV. Jesus before the high priest (vs. 13. 14, 19-23). Jesus was taken to Annas and Caiaphas occupied different apartments, which was probably situated on Mount Zion, near David's tomb, in the southwestern part of the city. Annas must have had great authority in his nation. "He was an old man of seventy years, who had been high priest twenty years, who had been high priest twenty discussed the same way."

It is any other way. But there must be submission with the suffering, a gladeness to be counted worthed was the lamb led to the shall be our strength.

VI. Divine meekness. "Bound him.. and led him away" (v. 22. 13). The type of Jesus was the lamb led to the slaughter (Isa. 53). Jesus, "when He was reviled, reviled not again; when He suffered, He threatened not; but committed Himself to Him away" (v. 22. 13).

VII. Divine frankness. "I spake openly to the world" (v. 20). Adam Clark says: "The answer of our Lord is such as became a person conscious of his own innocence, and confident in the righteousness of His cause. I have taught in the temple, in the synagogues, in all the principal clies, towns and villages, and through all the country. I have had no secret school. No doctrine has ever proceeded from My lips, but what was agreeable to the righteousness of the law, and the purity of God. My disciples have taught in the same way.

ter was admitted into the court of the palace vs. 15, 16). Peter followed "afar off" and "sat with the servants" while John went with Jesus. If Peter had stayed by the side of John he would not have denied his Master, for John seems to have had no such temptation. Peter put himself in the way of temptation. He was in an excited crowd for two hours or more.

PRACTICAL APPLICATIONS.

Each evangelist wrote of Jesus from Each evangelist wrote of Jesus from a different standpoint. In John he is the Life, the Light, the Love. There is no record of his genealogy, no account of his birth, no hint of temptation, no reference to the transfiguration, no word of the agony in the garden, no mention of darkness. His death is imperial and voluntary; the word of triumph is spoken on the cross. As Son of God he was above the world's rejection, above the reproach of the people, above the treachery of the traitor, above the longing for the sympathy of the disciples. The divine transcends the human everywhere. In our lesson we see.

I. Divine courage. "Jesus ... went

I. Divine courage. "Jesus ... went forth" (v. 1). Went to "the place" which Judas the traitor knew (v. 2). Knowing all things that should come upon him, went straight to the place where his enemies would arrest him, and then he quietly asked. "Whom seek ye?" (v. 4). All their torches and lanterns would not have availed to find him without his words, "I am he" (v. 5). The true follower of Jesus has the same divine courage. A twelve-year-old girl in India was permitted by her husband in India was permitted by her husband to attend the mission school. One day she begged him to give up their idols, which were no true gods, and go with her and learn about Jesus. He was troubled; he had only meant to have her taught to read. "I must take her away," he said. "You shall live with my mother." He carried her to the village of her mother-in-law, where there was not a single Christian. Soon after the child's husband died, and then, as is the custom in India, his family treated the custom in India, his family treated her cruelly. They accused her of caus-ing her husband's death because she had ing her husband's death because she had deserted their gods. They said, "Now you shail worship our gods and promise not to become a Christian." "I cannot," the child answered: "I am a Christian." They threatened her, but she was firm. The brother in-law, becoming exasperated, took the little child-widow into the garden and fastened her hands and feet to four stakes, and said, "Now we will bring fire and burn your feet unless you brone to revolt.—Schaff. I am is no further; I am the one for on are searching. Judas—In them—That is, with the bands. A kiss had been agreed upon nal to mark the person they ting. As the band reached the

III. Divine majesty. "If therefore ye seek me let these go their way" (v. 8). In the majesty of heaven Jesus controls the multitudes so that they make no attempt to revenge Peter's murderous assault (vs. 10-13). Words of authority, anot words of entreaty. A command rather than a second of the disciples fell on their faces (Matt. 17: 6); if John fell at his feet (Rev. 1: 17), how shall the sinner stend? (Rev. 1: 17), how shall the

Any remedy that benefits digestion strengthens the nerves.

The nerve centres require nutrition. If the digestion is impaired, the nerve centres become anaemic, and indigestion is the result.

UP IN THE AIR.

No Union Cards.

Chicago, May 11 .- Industrious and charitably inclined employees of the Wellington Hotel have succeeded in getting the management of that hostelry into considerable trouble with a score of labor unions and incidentally tying up work on the pending improvements in-definitely. It all grew out of a natural desire of the hotel employees to assist in hurrying the work on the improve-ments. According to charges of the union officials, these employees extended the plumbing and carried on other branches of work during the night, after the regular workers had gone home.

As the hotel men were not members of these unions, complaints immediately were made. Yesterday 250 workers, representing practically every branch of the Building Trades Association went on strike, because they believed that these non-union men were encroaching upon their territory.

Meanwhile the hotel is, strictly speaking, "up in the air," hoisted upon jacks, where the union men have left it.

Magnificent Structure at the Franco-British Exhibition.

London, Eng., May 11.-Of Canada's representation at the Franco-British Exhibition, the Grand Trunk Railway building is the most advanced, and will be completed for official opening on May 14. Covering an area of two thousand square feet, the structure is erected from an original design, Renaissance architecture. Above the portico is an allegorical group representing the Grand Irunk Pacific linking the Atlantic to the Pacific. It rises to a great-height, surmounted by an illuminated star, emblematic of Canada as the star of the Empire. The interior of the building is beautifully arranged, and includes a decorative frieze of grains and grasses from Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. Large photographs depicting the lighing hunting versions and account of the same property of t and Alberta. Large photographs depacting the lishing, hunting regions and popular summer resorts of Ontario, and industrial features of Eastern Canada, adorn the walls.
