

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., MAY 30, 1913.

Editorial Notes.

The prosperity of a town depends chiefly upon the confidence the people have in it. No town can prosper whose citizens are untrue to it. If you cannot speak a good word for your home town and your home business men, then "silence is golden."

This is the time of the year when the old men never fails to get into your neighbor's garden. You know the result. One good scratching here can in five minutes scratch up all the friendship that has been growing for many years between neighbors. Keep her at home or cut her head off.

The Liberal Senate has so amended the Highway Bill as it did last year and as a result the $100,000 which would have been available for the roads of the province will again be hung up for no reason whatever except that the senate wishes to play into the hands of the Liberal leader of the commons, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, $100,000 if carefully laid out on the roads of this province year after year, would repair a great many holes. But we are not to get it because the senate fears Hon. Mr. Borden might get a little credit for a vote of this kind!

Supplementary Estimates.

The supplementary estimates were submitted to the House of Commons at Ottawa on Tuesday. The total amount asked for is $23,470,316.

Fishing Abuses on the Gaspeau River.

Mr. Ward Fisher, Inspector of Fisheries, has been investigating the conditions on the Gaspeau river during the past week. He reports that the fishing privileges of the river have been abused to a much greater extent than on any river in western Nova Scotia. He finds that salmon pools are swept, fykes and other unlawful contrivances are used, dynamiting is indulged in, and that fish are taken from fish passes by dip nets and other methods. Hereafter the heaviest penalties will be inflicted upon any persons engaged in these illegal and destructive methods. Much of the blame for its present condition, Mr. Fisher finds is to be placed on the residents of the vicinity for the lack of sufficient public spirit to prevent illegal fishing.

The use of square nets for gaspeau is much abused, and these nets are used after the close of the gaspeau season, for the taking of salmon. To prevent this abuse, all square nets must be removed from the river on or before June 15th. Also attention is called to the bait fishing for salmon, large numbers being caught by the use of worm bait, and any further use of this method will subject the offender to prosecution. All public spirited citizens are asked to report any fishing abuses to the officers.

Letters to the Editor.

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN.
Six.—Now that anniversary is over and the people have resumed the even tenor of their ways, a few lines may not be amiss concerning earthly things. I wish to call attention to speaking, the best owner manager, in our fair town.

After much trouble and expense many persons have planted a nice little garden in which their neighbors' hens will scratch and incidentally gather a large proportion of their food.

No doubt this is pleasant and profitable to the hen owner, but what about the other fellow? Is it not the duty of the town authorities to look after such matters?

They have neglected the henmen in the restricted district, they should now turn their attention to the human pig.

A Safe Medicine for the Baby.

Baby's Own Tablets are a safe medicine for little ones. In fact they are guaranteed by a government analyst to be absolutely free from opiates or any of the drugs so harmful to the lives of little ones. The tablets never irritate the bowels, never cause sleepiness, and never make the baby sick. They have full medicinal value, induce regular action, break up colic and wind, and make feeding easy. The tablets are sold by medicine dealers, or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockton, Mass.

Acadia's Anniversary.

The weather for the closing exercises this year has been very disappointing but otherwise the week has passed off very successfully. Our town has been thronged with visitors, taxing the accommodation of hotels and private homes to entertain them. While the days have not been very stormy the cold winds and leaden skies have interfered to a considerable extent with the pleasure of the many who look forward with pleasant anticipation to visiting Wolfville at this season of the year.

The graduating recitals of the pupils of Acadia Seminary, held last week, were of an unusually attractive nature, and the concert on Saturday evening was a most complete success.

At the Sunday morning service, College Hall was filled to its utmost seating capacity. The students of college, seminary and academy occupied the main floor of the hall, and at 11 o'clock the college graduating class marched in and took the places reserved for them. On the platform were Dr. Cutler, Rev. H. H. Saunders, Prof. Faulkner, D. D., Dr. Newcombe, Rev. Mr. Chipman, Rev. M. P. Freeman, and Rev. Burton W. Lockhart, D. D., of the First Congregational church, Manchester, N. H., preacher of the baccalaureate sermon. The music, under the direction of Miss Hall, of the Seminary teaching staff, was most beautifully rendered. The service was opened with prayer by Rev. H. H. Saunders, of the class of '93. The hymn, "O worship the Lord," was sung. The scripture reading (Psalm 1) was by Prof. Faulkner, D. D., of Drew Theological Seminary. The College quartette sang the Lord's Prayer and the invocation was made by Dr. Newcombe. Dr. Lockhart based his address on Psalm 103:3— "Thy youth is renewed like the eagle's," and presented a most earnest and scholarly sermon. Against the dark background of a human life spent in earthly pleasure and passing hopelessly into death he placed the inspiring picture of the eternal youth of the soul developed through faith in Jesus Christ and His gospel. The hymn, "Crown Him with many crowns," was sung, and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Mr. Chipman, of the class of '55.

College Hall was again filled on Sunday evening when the meeting under the auspices of the College Y. M. C. A. was addressed by Rev. A. B. Cohoe, the clever pastor of the First Baptist church, Halifax. His text was Matt. 18: 10-14, and the subject of his address, which was a most earnest and able one, was "The value of life as the personality of the soul." Life, he said, is the search and service of the soul. This search and service is not easy. When visions of spiritual worth fade, power for such a purpose fails. A life spent in such a purpose depends upon the inspiration of all souls who have dared to serve the eternal, and defied time. The speaker emphasized the place of Christ—perfect life, and how in its fidelity and service it lifts us beyond all doubt. He closed by saying that his final rest is faith in the purpose of God who wills that none should perish.

The closing exercises of Acadia Collegiate and Business Academy on Monday evening were especially interesting. The professional was played by Miss Cora Kaye and Miss Gregory Dalton. Mr. Stephen J. Dick, of the graduating class gave an essay, "The Titanic Disaster," describing vividly the great marine tragedy with causes and effects. Mr. James H. MacNeil gave an amusing prophecy of the class of '13 members as they would become by 1931; and Mr. Miller F. Gregg gave a graceful and inspiring valedictory. The music was: vocal solo, by Miss Cecelia Downes; violin solo, by Miss Helen DeWolfe; song "The Night has a Thousand Eyes," by the college quartette. Rev. R. S. Poole, of the Baptist church, Middleton, addressed the graduates, taking as his subject the class motto, "Strive to Excel." Inspector E. W. Ribison also spoke briefly describing some of the benefits to be derived at the Academy. Forty three diplomas and certificates were presented to the class. Mr. Milton F. Gregg won the Bates medal. Mr. V. B. Van Wart won the prize of $100 for the highest standing in the work.

The graduating exercises of Acadia Seminary, on Tuesday evening, were, as usual, the most popular feature of the anniversary program. The young ladies took their places to the strains of the "Parting March" played by Miss Jennie Prescott and Miss Alice Marvin. The graduating class numbered thirty-four. Miss Kathleen Baker's essay on "Elijah, the Prophet Reformer" gave the history of this prophet in his magnificent struggle to uphold the faith of God against worship of Baal. In "The Growth of Self in Manhood," Miss Helen DeWolfe traced the rise of this great Shakespearean character through his sores and hardships to his death. In "A Glimpse of the Montessori School Method," Miss Ora Elliott described the excellent schools for children founded by Dr. Montessori in France and Italy and showed where the American kindergarten might be improved by following that system of education. The baccalaureate sermon by Rev. Mr. Chipman and Miss Hall were greatly enjoyed. Principal DeWolfe gave the closing address to his graduating class, speaking inspiringly from the subject, "The Character of Man." The class motto, "Strive to Excel," was read, and diplomas and certificates were presented.
