

THEY KNOW THEIR WORTH

"One of the most vital results of the presence of women in business, says Anna Steege, Richardson, in the October Woman's Home Companion, is the fact that the invasion of the business world by an ever-increasing army of inexperienced, untrained, half-grown girls has lowered the wages of men and withered ambition in many of them."

"Time was when America's great merchants received their commercial training behind the counter. 'Clerking' was then merely preparation for active management or ownership. The salesman was a human bundle of commercial possibilities which he could readily embrace in thousands of cases."

"To-day, with twice as many saleswomen as salesmen in the average small store and three or four times as many in large department stores, the male clerk has lost prestige. He is tolerated, not improved. The title of retail salesman has become more or less a reproach."

"While gathering the material for these articles I spent one whole day with the superintendent of a new department store while he hired all sorts of help, from drivers of delivery wagons to buyers and floor clerks. He approached the superintendent with an air so unconsciously pitiful that it baffles description. His walk, his carriage, his tone, all said plainly: 'I know I ought to be ashamed to apply for this sort of work, but I've got a family to keep—and anyway I ought to be worth more to you than a raw, untrained girl.'"

"But let the man enter who could drive a horse, lay a carpet, or even polish stoves in the hardware department, in fact do any sort of work where he would not come in competition with the line of gum-chewing, pompadoured, sixteen-year-old girls, and he would radiate that wonderful air of buoyancy, elasticity and hope which marks the man who believes life still holds something for him. He knew what his services were worth and he asked for that amount. The agreement with him was on a logical basis."

PLENTY OF GAME

IN KENT CO.

That the Miramichi is a mighty good game country there is no doubt, but one of the residents of the country around Kent Junction thinks that they have more than their share in that vicinity. He bases his statement on an experience which befell him lately when he was returning quietly home along a wood road after a day's cruise in the lumber, armed only with an ordinary woodman's hatchet. He was walking briskly along, when a sudden bend in the road brought him face to face with a good sized bull moose, and he halted. Neither party said anything, but his majesty of the forest looked a whole lot, and his attitude was decidedly warlike. The man concluded that a hatchet was no weapon with which to tackle a bull moose who seemed to be looking for trouble, so he wisely stepped off the road and started to cut through the woods and take the road further on. Again he was brought to a halt, confronted in this instance by a she bear and four cubs. This time the hatchet looked smaller than ever, and he hastened as much as he could with dignity to put space between himself and the bear family, when he found himself once more face to face with the moose. To have introduced the moose to the bruin family would have been a happy solution of his difficulty, but he was not skilled in the etiquette of the woods and he was no nature fakir either, so he executed a flank movement and got safely out of the road, much to his own satisfaction, and the merriment of his friends when the story was told.

A WARNING TO MOTHERS.

There are unscrupulous dealers who for the sake of trifling gain, are willing to sacrifice the health—perhaps the lives—of little ones. This is proved by the fact that there are a number of imitations of Baby's Own Tablets offered. The mother can protect her child by seeing that the full name of Baby's Own Tablets and the four-leaf clover with child's head on each leaf, is found on the outside wrapper around every box. Do not take anything else as you may endanger your child's life. If you cannot see the genuine Tablets from your dealer send 25 cents to The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and get a box by mail post paid.

A FARMER'S TRIALS.

Weak and Worn Out Through Over-work and Long Hours.

The farmer's life is always a hard one, but if he is weak or suffering it is almost unbearable. The hours are long and the work so hard that none but the strongest can stand it. An illustration of the effect of hard work on the system is given by Mr. Geo. Hunteberg, a farmer of Spry, Ont. He says:—I have lived nearly all my life in the Bruce peninsula. I am a farmer and have always had my share of hard work and like a good many other men I thought there was no wearout to my system. In this I was mistaken, for about a year and a half ago I began to go gradually down hill. I would tire at the least exertion; my appetite failed me; I had a severe pain in my side and around my heart. The doctor told me I was suffering from pernicious anemia; that I was almost bloodless, I doctored for six months, the instead of improving, I grew so weak that I could hardly move without assistance. I lost flesh till I was almost a skeleton. A friend from Stokes Bay told me of the great benefit she had derived from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and advised me to try them. My sister-in-law had also received great benefit from their use, so I decided to give them a trial. After using the pills about a month, I began to gain in strength and from that on I improved rapidly. New blood seemed to course through my veins; my appetite improved; the pain left my heart and side and I gained in weight. After using about a dozen boxes of the pills I was again enjoying the best of health. I have nothing but praise for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as they cured me after medical treatment had failed—I really believed they saved my life. Good blood is the secret of health. Keep the blood pure and such diseases as anemia, rheumatism, sciatica, indigestion, heart palpitation, eczema and the secret ills of women will not exist. The most perfect blood tonic and nerve restorer in the world is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

COCKLEY—DIO TIE.

A charming event took place at the residence of Mrs. Arsenau, at ten o'clock Monday morning, when Miss Charlotte Diotte and Mr. Jerome Minor Cockley were united in marriage.

The bride was handsomely attired in a suit of grey with hat to match. After the ceremony the happy couple drove to the bride's home, where a dainty luncheon was served.

Among the invited guests were: Mrs. James Falconer and her daughter, Miss Ethel M. Falconer; Misses Craip and Crommond; Mr. and Mrs. Fare; Mrs. Wm. McKenzie and Mr. Charles Jardian.

The bride was the recipient of many valuable presents.

FERGUSON—STABLES

At nine o'clock Thursday evening, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Stables was the scene of a brilliant event, when their eldest daughter, Susie Marguerite, was married to Allan J. Ferguson, of the firm of John Ferguson & Sons. Rev. S. J. MacArthur was the officiating clergyman.

The bride entered the drawing room on the arm of her father, preceded by her sister, Miss Adelaide Stables, who acted as maid of honor. The bride's costume was white satin with embroidered Brussels overdress and pearl trimmings. She wore a bridal veil and carried bride's roses. The maid of honor was attired in a pink silk gown with overdress of white point d'esprit, and carried white chrysanthemums. The interior of the house was adorned with ferns and potted plants, and the wedding ceremony took place beneath a handsome floral bell.

Among the guests were, besides the immediate members of both families:

Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Aitken; Mrs. Hiram Humphrey; Mrs. John Fleming; Mrs. D. Morrison; Mrs. C. Hamilton; Mr. and Mrs. John Russell; Dr. and Miss Pedolin; Mrs.

JESUS LEADER OF WORKINGMEN.

Interesting Sermon by Rev. Mr. Dockrell of Moncton, List Sunday.

(Moncton Times.)
Rev. Mr. Dockrell, pastor of the 1st Baptist Church, in his sermon last evening spoke on three things. First, Jesus as the equalizer; second, Christ the liberator of man; third, new future of man. Mr. Dockrell found, his text in John 5, 20. "My father worketh hitherto and I work." God is the Master Worker of the universe, the great Architect and the inventor, said the preacher, God is the great friend of work. Jesus was a member of the working men, and his text in John 5, 20. "My father worketh hitherto and I work." At the close of the service communion was held and a large number of the members were in attendance.
