MAY BE THE AURANIA.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., April 30.— While it is the general opinion in marine circles to-day that it was the Corrigan Line Steamer Aurania which Captain Boyce, of the Peavy, saw sink yesterday in Whitefish Bay, nothing definite has yet een learned. A ferocious storm is raging to-day over the upper lake re-gion, and it may prevent any boats get-ting down from Whitefish Bay to-day. Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., April 30 .-

Decorations Have Been Completed

and New Altar Erected. For some time past St. Lawrence Church has been in the hands of the decorators and a magnificent marble altar has been in course of erection. The decorations are now complete, the altar has arrived from Italy, and has been ex-ected, and the church is now ready for a series of services to celebrate the com-pletion of the improvements which make it one of the handsomest in the country. On Sunday evening Rev. Father Brady will give a describing of the decoration. On Sunday evening Rev. Father Brady will give a description of the decorations and speak on the religious signification of ecclesiastical decorations generally.

One week from Sunday next, on May 9th, a two weeks mission will be begun, and on Sunday, June 6, the solemn consecration of the church and the new altar will take place. At this event two archibishops will be present, also two bishops, and a large number of the lergy, and it will be an occasion of rejoicing among the people.

St. Lawrence Church has wrought a great work in the north end, under the direction of Rev. Father Brady, who has been its pastor from the first.

Mr. Schelter contended that there was Mr. Schelter contended that there was no case, claiming that whatever had happened she had brought on herself. He said that Mr. Luxford was perfectly willing to take her back, provided she stayed away from the Colbourne homestead and avoided certain of the neighbors.

George S. Kerr, K. C., acting for the complainant, thought that a woman had rights in her home as well as her husband, and thought, that Luxford should. band, and thought that Luxford should be found guilty even if the punishment was small.

In summing up the case the magistrate said: "I hold that a man has the right to keep his wife out of his house if he wants to. She can take recourse to the civil courts for maintenance, but has no right to bring that man up in the nolice court and charge him with assault because he refused to let her in.
