a special despatch of Monday to the New York press quotes from the Mark Lane Empress of Monday evening, reviewing the above trade for the preceding week, as follows:—"Both wheat and Darley, especially the latter, have improved greatly during the past fortnight. Warmer weather, however, is still wanted. The deliveries of Eeglish wheat at the principal towns continue about half those of the corresponding time last year. The offerings at Mark Lane were also quite unimportant, and trade quiet. Holders, however, despite the improvement in the appearance of the home crophave not pressed sales. Millers have taken what, few lots were suitable for grinding at former prices, but there was no icquiry for inferior samples. The importance at foreign wheat into London have been moderata. This circumstance, combined with the Continental demand, which has now extended to the grain in the London warehouses, neutralized the tendency usual at this period of the year to discount the effects of the weather. Prices, consequently, are well sustained, though the demand is not very active: Red American was somewhat dearer in consequence of the comparative scarcity. In London, millers are only buying from hand to mouth, and speculators are holding entirely along, and 18 to 16 for tous and advices take that at Pesth there was prevalent a sectal manuous of animation in the best trade on the water that at Pesth there was prevalent as declined in the struct rade on the water that at Pesth there was prevalent as declined in the sectal flow, and the struct rade on the sectal manuous of animation in the heat trade on the water as only a trade on the sectal flow of the sectal flow of the sectal flow of the sectal flow of the section of the sectal flow of the sectal flow of the sectal flow of the sectal flow of the section of the sectal flow of the section of the sectal flow of the section of the s holding entirely aloof, as they consider present prices merely sustained by the wheat ring in America. Nearly all the wheat received at London lately has gone direct to consumers. Granary mate. There was a good demand for oats, though the recent heavy arrivals have caused a decline cf 6d on the week. The arrivals of wheat at ports of call have been large, and consisted almost entirely early in the week, both for United Kingdom and the Continent, at fully previous prices, but during checked by brilliant weather, and lower prices from America. White scrts declined a shilling per quarter, while red sorts, in consequence of their scarcity, only slightly favoured buyers. The coast is still bare of maize. Wheat for shipment was freely offered at declining prices, red winter closing at 1s 6d, and spring from threepence to sixpence lower on the week. There was some little business in red winters at 43s 6d for July and August shipment. There has been a good demand for maize, 3d lower. The sales of English wheat last week were 28,458 quarters at 44s 11d, against 44,546 quarters at 41s 4d for the same period last year. The imports into the United Kingdom for the week ending June 5th were 965,246 cwt of wheat, and 192,724 cwt of flour. The following is the official report of the Toronte

The market has been very dull at declining prices since our last. There have been scarciely any buyers to be ound even at the decline, and this more particularly during the last three days. Holders have generally been willing to sell, but not inclined as yet to make sacrifices. The cause of this dullness ems to be the fine promise of crops both here and elsewhere. Nearly all over the world the prospect seems to be good, and in view of it holders are apparently tettling themselves down to meet low prices. Stocks here have been declining.

WHEAT—The demand has fallen off; sales have been small, and prices have feel mand prices hav and stood on Montay morning as follows :- Flou 5,480 bbls; tall wheat, 111,594 bush; spring wheat, 101,929; oats, 17,080; barley, 2,556; peas, 1,581, and rye sil bush, against on the corresponding date last year:-Flour, 3,3 0 bbls; fall wheat 28,853 bush; spring wheat, 111,795; oats, 9,650; barley, 26,200; peas, 47,882 and rye not bush. Outside advices show in English quotations a fall of 1d on red and club, of 1d on red winter, and of one half-penny on corn. Markets were very quiet on day and Tuesday, but seemed rather firmer to-day quiet. The arrivals of foreign wheat at ports of wheats. Early in the week the demand was active both for the United Kingdom and the continent and at firm prices : but later on fine weather and weak prices on this side checked it. Home deliveries remained at much about half those at the corresponding time last year. Stocks in store are said to have become very light and nearly all the wheat lately received at London to have gone direct to consumers. Still speculators held aloof, as they thought prices to be sustained only by the ring in the States. Supplies last week were again short of consumption. Home deliveries were [118,882 quarters and imports 226,000 to 226,000 quarters of wheat, and 95,000 to 100, 000 barrels of flour, making a total supply as they thought prices to be sustained only by the 000 barrels of flour, making a total supply equal to 422,269 to 430,082 quarters of wheat, gainst an average weekly consumption of 454,000 quarters, leaving a deficiency of 23,418 to 31,731 quarters. The quantity of wheat and flour in transit decreased 200,000 quarters during the week, and stood on the 10th inst. at 1,900,quarters against 2,223,000 on the 20th ult. and 1,482,000 at the corresponding date last year.

The total quantity of wheat in sight on this continent and in transit to Europe on the 29th ult.

amounted to 41,163,000 bushels, against 40,394,000 in the previous week, and 32,118,000 on the corresponding date last year. The crops are said to have improved considerably in appearance during the past fortnight, but weather seems to be still wanted. Continental advices by mail state that in France continued armness of prices prevailed; the quantity of home-grown wheat available appeared to be reduced to a very low point, and foreign wheat was entering more largely into consumption, and meet-ding a ready sale on arrival. Advices from Paris say that there can no longer be any doubt concerning France; it is therefore pretty certain that further arge imports will be required before the next harwest is available. In the period from August 1 1879, to May 21, 1880, the net imports into France have been about 7,000,000 grs, and in spite of these large imports, there seemed to be quite a paucity of stocks, as is evidenced by the eager purchases made off the English coast during the past few weeks ter wheat at Havre, free on null, was still held at about 56s per 480 lbs, whilst June deliverie were offered at 55s, and September and December at gun down to 26,000 qrs, and prices were firmer. The extremely dry weather has continued to be the cause of many complaints from farmers in this country,

Excellent despatch of Monday to the New York press quotes from the Mark Lane Express of Monlay evening, reviewing the above trade for the veceding week, as follows:—"Both wheat an advices state that at Pesth there was prevalent a sertial amount of an advices state that at Pesth there was prevalent a sertial amount of an amount of a sources reliable and final accounts of the profitable exports from these colonies; the yield is officially stated to have been 1,782,000 quarters in South Australia; 1,865,000 in Victoria and 1,062,000 in New Zealand, making a total of 4,210,000 quarters. Of this yield the surplus for export is stated to be 2,566,000 quarters, but of it the other colonies will require about 650,000 quarters, which leaves an available surplus for Europe of 1,916,200 quarters.

estimates current some time ago. In the States harvest has begun in the valley of the Ohio and in Missouri. In the North-Western States rain was complained of in the week ending on the 5th inst., but since then the weather is reported to have been warm and favourable for the growing crops, and the outlook for bountiful harvests of all soits of grain promising. Markets have continued weak; on Saturday Chleago prices ran down to 91½ for July, electing as 92%c, being a fall of about six cents on those of Wednesday. Since then they have sgain declined, and stood at 89½ to-day. It is manifest that the prospects of an early harvest are exercising influence on Western markets. In New York also prices have been weak, with reduced limits to shippers' orders, and increased receipts. The export demand for the continent has fallen off, and sales have been chiefly for the United Kingdom. The deliveries of wheat at seaboard ports for the week ending on the 5th inst. were 2,801,570 bushels v. 2,734,026 bushels the previous week, and 2,518,327 bushels the corresponding week in 70. previous week, and 2,518,827 bushels the corresponding week in '79.
