"DON'TS" FOR APRES LA GUERRE

W. E. E. in The Veteran.

Don't ask: "How many on this lot?" When having a meal in a private house. They have plenty of bakeries in Canada.

Don't enquire for the nearest canteen. The country has gone dry while you were away.

Don't say: "What d'you want, jam on it!" You may be misunderstood.

Don't throw a fit if you see a gentleman in a frock coat and plug hat walking with a common-looking person in a check suit. Chances are the latter was an officer and the former a buck.

Remember that "cafe" in Canada indicates a place to eat. There are no estaminets.

Don't undertake to kiss young ladies with whom you are not acquainted. They look at things differently from the mademoiselles of France and Belgium; where a kiss goes with every glass of vin blanc and sometimes without.

Cut out the "Ah, oui," and "sil vous plait" people will know you've been in France without that.

Don't say "dangle." "Dangling" goes with shell-holes.

When leasing or buying a house, it's not necessary to examine the cellar first. "He" doesn't bomb now.

When at meals don't say, "Shoot us the pork" or "Once on the du pain" Neither is it good taste to ask for a "dip." Mess-tins need not be brought to the table.

Don't expect to punch your late sergeant at the moment you are out of uniform. You will have to fall in at the end of the queue.

Don't refer to spurs as "gut-hooks." It might sound rough to the members of the District Staff who wear them.

Don't, if you happen to have a variety pistol or a few rockets among your souvenirs, send up flare-light or "Red over green over red" from your front lawn. It is more likely to bring the police than reinforcements.

Don't start a Crown and Anchor game on the main street of your town. "Over There" it is likely to be regarded as a gambling device.

Don't "bum" too many cigarettes from your neighbor. There is no issue in Canada.

Above all, DON'T SCRATCH.

THE CAUSE AND CURE OF BOLSHEVISM

(Continued from Page 3) doctrines of such iniquities as "free love," have championed the cause of abolition of "white slavery"—an even greater curse—that is carried on in every city in the Dominion? Never were there so many millionaires in Canada as there are today—and never were so many men and women hovering around the starvation-line in the accumulating slums of the cities. If the government is alive to facts, and desires to prevent the spread of Bolshivism, let it at once commence to clean out the nest of thieves who have fattened on their organized robbery of the people, and give the protection from thievery that is the common right of every citizen. If the government desires to lay its hands upon the arch-promoters of Bolshivism, it must not confine the search to the underground cellars and secret meeting places of the big cities. The men mainly responsible for fostering Bolshivism in this country—in conjunction with the alien enemy—are the practical profiteers who suck the life-blood of Canada under the protection of the law; men who have forfeited every consideration to respect through plundering the national treasury while occupying positions of public trust; titled heads of corporations that grind out the widow's last nickel and "patriotically" invest their swollen dividends in un-taxable Victory Bonds, upon which the people must pay a second profit; "representatives" who create disgust and distrust by making one law for the rich and another for the poor; who filch the natural resources and wealth of the nation and resell them to the "common herd" at a hundred per cent. profit; and all who place personal interests in advance of those of the community.

The suggestion has been made to "The Veteran" that the "Returned Soldier" presents a particularly attractive venue for the Bolshivist, but we would point out that the other group—the grand larcenists—are far more likely to drive him into the Bolshivist camp, and that by their acts of oppression to his loved ones while he was away fighting. As Veterans who know by actual experience the ghastliness of warfare and the horrors of bloody conflict, we become the natural champions of quietude and peace. The despicable treachery and loathsomeness associated with the Russian brand of Bolshivism but makes us foes to the very thought of it, and the strongest opponent to its growth in Canada. Well we know the sources of its origin, its slimy trail of blood and filth, the ultimate aim of its virile intrigue and the foul effects of its teachings. We are also acquainted with the breed who propagate Bolshivist doctrines—and we blame the government of Canada for the freedom which it has been allowed to, and made such full use of, by the disciples of sedition and treachery while we have been overseas fighting for true democracy. But the plutocrat who raises deprecatory hands and horrified eyebrows, as he demands that Bolshivism be stamped out, need not look in the direction of the so-called "returned soldier." The men from "over there" recognize the real issues at stake. Those issues, notwithstanding all camouflage, resolve themselves simply into Canadianism versus Bolshivism. And having but recently returned from scenes and surroundings where the truest spirit of Canadianism is everlastingly recorded upon the humble crosses that mark our dead comrades' graves, Canada need have no fear for the actions of her reprobate citizens. One purpose in dealing with Bolshivism in this outspoken manner is to make plain to our fellow-citizens that as a body, the Veterans of the war repudiate all connection with the insidious campaign now going on, and intend to see that the responsibility for Bolshivist propaganda and encouragement is placed where it rightfully belongs—upon the alien enemies and the "big interests." Under the pretence of seeking to curb Bolshivism, the plutocrats of Canada hope to draw the red herring across the trail, and themselves pose as the saviours of democracy, the white pretenders that all as well; that they desire but the protection of the "social order," while in reality enthroning the "God-of-all-things-as-they-are," hoping and trusting that a smoke screen of "confidence," "optimism" and camouflage will eventually enable them to steer their luxurious craft safely back to placid waters of 1914. The men who won the war intend to see that true Canadianism and real Democracy shall triumph. The Deputy Minister of Highways announces that the Department has just appointed several constables who will act as motor cycle constables to patrol the Q. & G. stone road. Riot insurance to the aggregate value of between fifty and sixty million dollars has been taken out by Winnipeg firms and individuals.
