PROCEEDINGS AT NELSON MEETING

F. D. Becker Tells of His Attendance at Meeting of Manufacturers —The Lumber Case.

The direct examination of F. D. Becker in the alleged lumber combine case was continued when the court resumed yesterday afternoon. The witness was taken over the content of his report to Grogan with respect to the proceedings at the Nelson meeting to which witness was appointed a delegate to present the grievances of the retailers. He explained the part he took in the proceedings at the meeting, which was substantially the same as the report as published already in the proceedings of this trial.

"The millmen knew I was going to look into the proceedings at the meeting of the Alberta dealers," said the witness.

Witness stated that his report was made up from representations made in conversation by F. C. Wells, then secretary of the Mountain Millmen's association, which Mr. Bennett objected to, as he said, it did not im- plicate the defendant Clark.

The witness repeated his former statement given at the preliminary trial with respect to his recommendation with respect to the "Savvy" letter to refuse the application of Lachner, of Didsbury, for a new yard, viz., that he thought Lachner wanted a yard to boom his townsite. It will be remembered that the witness advised secretary Grogan to be out of a price list when Lachner would apply.

Cross-examined by Mr. Bennett Becker stated that Otis Staples, the president of the Staples Co., had nothing to do with the formation of the Alberta association, and that his activity in forming the association was not dictated by any of the British Columbia millmen. The chief aim of the association was to prevent the mills from shipping to consumers, and thus competing in the field of the retailers.

"How were prices fixed, and how were they kept?" asked the witness. "I don't know anything about it except in the Calgary district."

He held his lumber at the list price whether he had a monopoly of the trade at the point or not.

Mr. Bennett, in his cross-examination of the witness in his capacity as delegate to Nelson, attempted to belittle the importance of the position of the secretary of the Alberta association in sending him, and of his reception at the manufacturers' meeting. Counsel wanted to know if any resolutions were passed at the meeting. Mr. Woods raised the objection that the evidence of a resolution should be the minutes of that meeting, and the minute book was one of those that had been burned by Mr. Wells. Mr. Bennett implied by his argument that the meeting of the manufacturers was an offhand, free-and-easy affair, conducted with the doors open.

"Public Should Know of It."
"Well," said Mr. Woods, "if a meeting of lumbermen must be carried on in the dark, to be constituted as a meeting, then it is time the public should know that effect."

Questioned as to his motives for burning his letters, he replied that when he moved from Calgary to his home in Savannah he was cleaning up and destroyed a considerable mass of old correspondence.

Secretary of Edmonton Association, Frank S. Green, of Victoria, but formerly of this city, was the next witness. He was appointed secretary of the Edmonton dealers association in February, 1906. He identified the minute book of the association. At this time the Edmonton dealers were in the western association.

The correspondence of Secretary Green was produced. A letter was submitted and put in as an exhibit. This letter was from W. H. Clark on behalf of the Edmonton Lumber Co. applying to the local members of the retail members of the association.

The duties of the secretary of this association, as written by himself, stated that when cutting of prices was reported by a firm of the association, the secretary should have access to the books of the firm to establish the charge.

The court rose at 5 o'clock yesterday, and handed over all his books and papers to his successor, Mr. Hell- iwell. A minute of one of the meetings was read in court, signed by Mr. Green and Mr. Clarke, with respect to supplying lumber to the Edmonton city council. From this minute it was shown that the Edmonton dealers divided on their tenders for native and imported grades at list prices.

This Morning's Evidence.
The examination of Mr. Green, secretary of the Edmonton Local Dealers' association up to Oct. 1st, 1906, was continued this morning. The first matter taken up was his correspondence with the Edmonton dealers, among the members of the local association. A letter from Grogan on March 29, 1906, in which Mr. Grogan asked Mr. Green for a list of the members of his association in order that the millmen would know who to ship to, was put in. Witness was sure he sent no membership fees to the secretary-treasurer of the Alberta association, but was not certain whether he sent a list or not.

The letters relating to the Fillets application were produced. This matter was objected to as a matter with which the Alberta association had no connection. On two occasions Mr. Green had been appointed secretary of the Alberta association. Finally he was admitted and accordingly was recom- mended for secretary of the Alberta association by the Edmonton association.

Not Familiar With Organization.
Cross-examined by Mr. Bennett, witness stated that he was not familiar with the Alberta association when he was secretary of the local association. The firms in the local association were represented by different individuals at the meetings.

"Why did your association reject Fillets' application?" asked the chief justice.
"I think it was his financial standing," said the witness.
"Did you have any rule?"
"No."
"Just a rule that they should be rich? Just made rules as they went along?"

Organization of C. N. R. Towns.
Mr. Hellwell was then called and sworn. He began with a history of the association contained in the interest- ing record of a meeting held at Ed- monton on 23rd July of this year. In his meeting the dealers charged one another with selling under list prices. The firm thus charged was that of Cushing Bros. and as a result of this protest that firm resigned from the Edmonton association.

The announcement made by Mayor Griesbach on Wednesday is as follows: "No. I shall take no active part in the coming municipal election. I am a private citizen and I shall vote for him. Of course I know that some of the aspirants for municipal office will endeavor to gain favor by criticism of the administration of the present year. In the event of their success, too it may become necessary for me to make a more specific statement. Any misrepresentation of our civic affairs will be duly met."

The anonymous letter published in the Journal, containing a personal attack on Mr. John A. McDougall, one of the mayoralty candidates, is as follows: "Editor Journal.—Candidate McDougall's platform as published in the local papers might well be referred to as the 'Savvy' of John. The closing words of the address breathe the condescending superciliousness of the 'Savvy' of John. The address is replete. 'If the citizens of Edmonton give me the opportunity of contributing to the further progress of the city, and again to contribute to the city's growth and to put in my power.' 'To contribute to be a generous offer on the part of Mr. McDougall to take the city into partnership with him. Does the 'Savvy' of John think that the city of Edmonton is a 'Savvy' of John's? These are steps which should be first taken by Mr. McDougall in order to secure the city's growth and to put in my power. 'My own interests' were somewhat identical with those of the city. It was in the interests of the city that I should be elected mayor. Before Dr. Stewart began to speak, Mr. McDougall was on his feet bringing in a motion to make the decision of the convention unanimous, and was seconded by Mr. Jones, and then there was another outbreak which lasted nearly as long as before. When the chairman succeeded in securing silence, Dr. Stewart proceeded to make a short speech. An organization meeting was then held, and the following officers were elected: Hon. president, Dr. Stewart. President, Jas. Short. Vice-president, Frank McCormack. Secretary-treasurer, W. M. Davidson. Executive committee, S. Stirton, D. Brayson, R. A. G. Bell, A. D. McDougall, S. Downe.
