St. John's Again United.

THE EAST AND WEST CLASH HANDS ONCE MORE TO DEFEAT THE COMMON ENEMY.

That St. John's East and St. John's West are again united as in the days of old, to defeat the common enemy of Coakerism, is now such a positive fact that even the most rabid opponents of the popular cause quite freely admit it. The political separation of St. John's which was once so united, was brought about by the splitting of the Liberal forces when Sir Edward Morris withdrew from the Liberal Party and formed a political organization under his own leadership. The great personal strength and popularity of Sir Edward, in St. John's West, attracted to him many of the Liberal followers who were instrumental in giving him his first victory in that District and who, by remaining loyal to him, enabled him to attain the Premiership until his withdrawal two years ago from active politics. St. John's East meanwhile remained loyal to the Liberal Party under Sir Robert Bond, until this great leader also withdrew from public life on account of the treachery to his principles which Coaker planned. When the National Government broke up in the Spring of this year, because the Liberal element therein could no longer tolerate the whims of Coaker, all this best element amongst our public men joined hands under the life-long Liberal Sir M. P. Cashin and thus reconstructed the Grand Old Liberal Party again. This unification has thus caused the Liberals of both portions of the city to come together once more and fight a battle against those principles of Coakerism which found an ally in Tory R. A. Squires, and all those shell-back Tory followers who, in days gone by were always on the wrong side in every political fight. This grand display of unity amongst both sections of the city gives intense joy again to all the old time Liberals who recall with delight the great manifestations of popular feeling which always resulted in the return of the six Liberal candidates for both sections of the city. It is also a further source of delight to witness the immense number of intelligent young men who have joined forces with their more elderly ones so that altogether there is a real genuine old time universal Liberal sentiment now spread out over the whole of St. John's East and West. This delightful aspect of the political situation copperspentans any doubt regarding the election of six men sure for both divisions of the city, but the aim of returning six men through a grand ideal, must be made more magnificent still by rolling up majorities that have never been surpassed, even in the most illustrious periods of our political existence. The victory for the six is our high aim but the majorities must be our higher one and it will only be accomplished by an assault on the enemy in such monster proportion that Coakerism or any one who in future joins up therewith will never again rear its head against the army of Liberal voters in this city, we love so well. This unity of the people once more will, we hope, long continue for it will teach politicians that it is only those who are imbued with Liberal principles for the common welfare of the whole country, that they will consent to line up with. This example of the joining up of the Liberal forces in St. John's is having its effect already over all the other Liberal Districts of the country, and we are glad to hear that all divided Liberals of the past few years are now doing also in this fight what the city has pledged to perform. Congratulations therefore, are extended by the Telegram to the Liberals of St. John's East and West and the more so is this paper proud of it, as it has never yet abandoned the Liberal principles, and has been ever looked up to as the leading exponent of the aims and ideas of that great popular cause. How delightful it is then to place on record this union of St. John's East and West and the fact that—

"The hearts that have been long estranged
And friends that had grown cold;
Now meet again like parted streams
And mingle as of old."

S. O. S.

If Constipated, Bilious or Headachy, take "Cascarets"

Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, or sour, gassy stomach—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels. Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.
Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.
A Cascaret to-night will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep.

Of Britain and Her Might.

Of Britain and her strife
For all that sweetens life,
Let her deeds on land and sea
Speak to all her sons to be.
How her men
Flocked from city, mountain, fen;
Left the field, the forge, the pen;
Ploughshares into swords did beat,
Fought to victory through defeat
Once again!
Of Britain and her might,
In Armageddon's night,
Babes unborn shall tell the tale:
How she knew not how to fail;
Tribute bring
To her leaders, to the King,
To her men, all conquering;
To the sons called from afar
By the flash of love's bright star,
Signalling.
Of Britain and her dead,
Of souls to duty wed,
Who shall sing the immortal song
Who shall tell with faltering tongue
How they bled?
Whilst we welcome days of peace,
Whilst we pray that wars shall cease,
Let us tell, and let us sing,
How life's sacrifice did bring
Life's release.
—ALFRED B. COOPER.

Opposition Press Seething With Vulgarity and Abuse.

It has been the proud privilege of the Evening Telegram to take part in every election during the past forty years, and during that time it is only natural to suppose that we received many hard knocks, and like the knights of old we gave many in return. In all our encounters we, as well as the majority of our political opponents, confined ourselves in every instance to the ethics of decency and morality. We never lowered the dignity of the fourth estate, which is looked upon, when properly conducted, as the greatest blessing conferred upon the human race. The old and the young peruse the columns of their daily or weekly newspaper "seeking information" of an elevating nature, such as will fortify them with such facts that will enable them to keep in touch with the doings, sayings and workings of the people of the world and enable them to converse intelligently with their neighbours upon all matters of interest which pass before them day after day, more especially in our own country—Newfoundland.

But we ask every respectable man, woman and youth in Newfoundland—how can the press escape censure in this country to-day, and instead of a blessing become a curse, when such papers as the Star and Post publish to the world such articles with glaring headlines as those which have appeared in their columns the past two months. Take for example that of Jethro Penney and "what Jethro said" of a fortnight ago, and then the remarks of the Post on Tuesday morning. Could such filth be excelled in the lowest pot-house of Five Points, New York or any of the slums in our great cities at any period of their career. The language used by the degraded specimens of humanity in those slums was confined to their own environment, and did no harm to any but themselves, who, probably could go no lower in the social grade, but here in St. John's we have vulgarity and filthy expressions "blazoned" forth in glaring headlines in the Post and Star, and these papers find their way into the homes of our respectable families, and unfortunately amongst the children, male and female. We ask how can the instructions which we receive daily from our clergy from the altar and the pulpit have the effect which they desire their exhortations to have, if the young minds of our children are polluted and poisoned by the vulgar and vitiating language used daily by a certain portion of our press. What must the people of the outside world think of us, because, unfortunately, many of those issues are sent out of the country? We condemn poisonous literature from abroad, and the authorities prevent its entrance into this country, but here in our midst to-day we have the Opposition Press making use of vulgar and beastly expressions which are not found, even in the columns of some filthy books and newspapers from abroad.

It is high time that the author took a hand in the matter, and put a stop to this course of procedure which can bring nothing but ruin and degradation upon our people and our country. The minds of our youth will be poisoned by perusing these filthy effusions of the Opposition Press, and all the efforts of our clergymen will be in vain to keep our people in the path of Christianity and civilization. The fact is that the Opposition Press has become so degraded, so vulgar, so sizzling in filth, slander, malice and every other abomination, that it is a wonder that Providence has been so good to us in His Mercy up to the present. Their conduct is a disgrace to Christianity and civilization. Talk about German Kultur! Could it be more than the exhibition published in glaring headlines in the Columns of the Post and Star? And yet there is no redress so far. You can lock the door from a thief, but you have no preventative against the slanderer and vilifier. And yet such hypocrites will parade to church on Sunday and from their prayer-book read the command: "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor," but take good care never to act up to that command, because they have no respect for the laws of either God or man. To accomplish their ends they would stop at nothing.
