Brigade Week.

GOVERNOR INSPECTS BATTALION At 8.30 p.m. yesterday His Excellency the Governor, attended by Captain P. Saltmarshe, A.D.C., inspected the first Cadet Battalion, Newfound land Regiment, C.L.B.

The inspection was arranged by the Adjutant's Department as their share in the Brigade Week proceedings. Amongst those present were Mrs. R. F. Goodridge, Mrs. J. R. Bennett and the following officers of the Battalion: -Lieut. Col. R. F. Goodridge, Majors Tait, M.C., and Williams; Captains J. Snow, Rev. H. L. Pike, G. House, F. Miles; Lieuts. R. G. Ash, G. Hunt, W. Reeves, M.B.E., L. C. Hayward, H. C. Hayward, M. G. Winter, Jr., F. Reid, P. B. Rendell, W. A. Motty, A. B. Perlin, L. C. Colley, Lewis, Padre Clayton, Rev. Canon Jeeves, ex-Capt. N. Snow and Captain A. Morris.

His Excellency arrived shortly before 8.30 and was received by Lieut. the Governor was conducted to a seat and from there he watched the various military evolutions and exercises St. Paul's congregation, Trinity, will which formed part of the programme. always have cause to be thankful for The Manual Exercises and Physical Drill were very well done and the Morris, one of its members and Church gymnastic marching, of which C. Company always makes a special feature, years ago. To-morrow, the Sunday drew forth considerable applause. Afbefore Advent, Thanksgiving Day, a ter some marching by F. Company untoon Drill were performed. After the ted at Evensong, particulars of which programme had been concluded the Battalion formed upon three sides of a hollow square and were addressed by His Excellency who complimented them on their splendid display. He gave the lads some very practical advice which was greatly appreciated Orders were then read, announcing Duties for the week, and the Church Parade for Sunday. After the Royal Salute, His Excellency had a short, informal chat with the officers whom he congratulated on the success of Bri-

> A new member has been added to the Officers' Mess in the person of Mr. Maurice Taylor who will be given the rank of second lieutenant.

Several ex-members, incited by Brigade Week, have joined the Old Comrades, and many are sending substantial contributions to the Armoury Repairs Fund with their subscriptions.

To-night, at the "At Home" in the Grenfell Hall, Major G. R. Williams. Quartermaster of the Battalion, will deliver an address on the History of the Brigade. It will be illustrated with lantern slides. Many of these slides are very interesting and will be well worth seeing. The Ladies' Auxiliary will provide refreshments during the evening. This is the Old Comrades share of the Brigade Week events and they intend ernoon will take the form of a Thanksgiving Service. It is expected that it will be even larger than the Anniversary Parade as many more Old Comrades and lads prevented from turning out previously, will be out to-

My Boarding House.

"Home sweet, sweet home," the poet

says, "there is no place like home"

But I am with the other favs who testify in seven ways, there are some places-some, while every scrap of homely craze is driven from your dome. A year ago I took a jaunt into an Eastern town. I did not seek a dear old aunt to help me settle down; no cousin to me said, "I can't have boarders, who perhaps will rant for privileges, around. But to a stranger I applied for shelter in his place; to me the door he opened wide and showed me to his fireside with welcome on his face. A year ago, I say, since then I've lived a happy life; he takes me as a kindly friend and I in turn make love to him, his children and his wife, They gladly greet me as I sail to port each noon and night, and Towzer even does not fail to wag a welcome with his tail when I appear in sight. I don't hear of the grocer's bill when I sit down to eat; and when I've eaten up my fill I do not have to take a pill to keep me on my feet. No Sunday-leavings fried and frayed are brought on Monday noon; delicacies are not delayed until the very day I'm paid, then taken off too soon; but meals and talk alive are made to keep us all in one unhappy lot to dabble in the dirty Sales Co., of 1 Beacon Street, Boston, both so very kind, and me so very ter, Edith M.
