Mopping up the Little War Debts

"A most refreshing picture" is presented by the new nation of Czechoslovakia, in the opinion of the Washington News; "she's so different!" different because she is not "an apt in the gentle art of debt-dodging." For thus The News describes her in its "coming across of Czechoslovakia":

"Walking right up to the cashier without so much as batting a lash, she asked: 'How much?'

"A little matter of $115,000,000," replied Mr. Mellon. "With 3 per cent. for the first ten years and 3 1/2 per cent. for fifty-two years more."

"OK," she said, cheerfully.

"Which will make," the cashier added after doing a bit of figuring on the back of some European IOU's now used in Washington for scratch-paper, that you will pay, during the whole fifty-two-year period, approximately $200,000,000."

"Fair enough!" she answered. "You're very kind. My regards to the folks and au revoir."

"Whereupon Miss Czechoslovakia gave a dimpled smile and flitted off home to Prague."

Similar high praise comes from many an American editor, doubting the more enthusiastic because of the contrast with the failure of others to agree on a permanent settlement. And even in Prague the papers are just as well pleased with Uncle Sam, one of them cheerfully remarking that the settlements agreed on are "quite bearable." There was a difference of opinion over the exact amount of the sum paid by this debtor, but a compromise figure of $115,000,000 was quickly reached. The Czechs will pay us $3,000,000 a year for 18 years and then about $6,000,000 a year for 44 years. The rate of interest will be 3 per cent. for ten years and after that 3 1/2 per cent. When the 62 years are up the Czechs will have paid us in all around $200,000,000. This settlement was reached on October 9 by the commissions representing the respective countries.

On September 24, Secretary Mellon had quietly announced that a settlement had been made of the $5,775,000 owed us by the little nation of Latvia.

BETTER IN EVERY WAY

After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Ingomar, N.S.—"I took your medicine for a run-down condition and inward troubles. I had pains in my right side so bad at times that I could not walk any distance. I saw about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers and have taken five bottles of it. I am better in every way and you can use my letter to help other women."—Mrs. ALVITA M. PERRY, Ingomar, N.S.

Nervous Breakdown Relieved

Toronto, Ont.—"It is pretty hard to explain your feelings in nervous troubles. I felt low spirited, had pains in my head and eyes, always tired, and did not want to go anywhere. I do knitting and fancy work, and I would get irritable after a few minutes of work. I have been in Canada five years and have been this way ever since I came. I am taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I sleep better and it seems to make me eat, and I must say I am feeling more jolly. I have great faith in your medicine because of what it has done for my husband's sister and she recommended it to me."—Mrs. A. SMITH, 10 Burleigh Ave., Richmond, Toronto, Ont.

All druggists sell this dependable medicine, and women suffering from these troubles so common to their sex should give it a trial now. C $12,000,000,000, including accrued interest. Of this about $5,000,000,000 has been funded. The French debt of $4,210,000,000 and the Italian debt of $3,138,000,000 are the largest unfunded obligations. Roumania's debt amounts to $46,000,000, and Jugoslavia's to $35,000,000.

The Czechoslovakian settlement leads the New York Journal of Commerce to say of trying to appeal to American investors. Not long ago it was reported that new financing was in prospect for the Czechoslovakian Government, the City of Tokyo, the German Potash Syndicate, and several German municipalities. And so—

"Simultaneously with the announcement concerning Czechoslovakia came the news that that country had reached a funding agreement with the American Debt Commissioners. The Czechs have a reputation for possessing excellent business sense, and they have lived up to their reputation most satisfactorily. They have refused to become demoralized by the French incident and have had the wisdom not to haggle overling with creditors from whom they want good treatment in the future."

"The Japanese loan has been long and carefully prepared for with a certain Oriental deliberation. First, the American public hears that Japan intends to return before very long to the gold standard. Japan is discouraging foreign loans that might unfavorably affect exchange stability. The American investor therefore has a chance to profit not only from current interest but from the increases in capital value of Japanese securities which will certainly follow a return to gold parity."

"Germany requires loans at wholesale, not on the retail scale preferred by Japan. Consequently recognition is given to this fact by sending the president of the Reichsbank as a sort of general emissary to plead the needs of many and diverse would-be borrowers. At any rate, that is the way in which his visit to this country is being interpreted. It, too, is characteristic of the German habit of centralizing responsibility and systematizing business operations. The method undoubtedly tends to prevent overbidding by various contenders for foreign funds and encourages their more equitable distribution among borrowers."

In this connection it is interesting to find in the Washington dispatches a reaffirmation of the Administration's attitude against putting its seal of approval on the public flotation of private loans to nations which have not funded their war debts to the United States. Not that the Government has any legal power in such cases, but when loans are subscribed, inquiry is always made to the State Department as to whether there is any objection to flotation, and any objections offered usually have the effect of causing the loan to be refused. As we read in a Washington dispatch to the New York Times:

"In the opinion of President Coolidge, it is for foreign Governments to determine whether the settlement of their debt-repayment terms here would make their credit better. It has been the belief of this Government, it is declared, that the liquidation of foreign debts makes the credit better in this country of those Governments which made settlements."—Literary Digest.

Bishop Issues Warning

Nicean Creed Still Preferable to Pantheism, Says Bishop Roper. The Right Rev. Bishop T. C. Roper, preaching at a special service in commemoration of the council of Nicea, last night in St. Alban's Cathedral, uttered a warning against the revival of Pantheism which was beginning in the church to-day. The council held 1,600 years ago in considering the Arian teachings, had found them lacking in faith which was the central factor in Christianity. They had put these

N.S. Man Kills Sister Who Asked for Board Money

NEIGHBORS AFRAID TO GO NEAR HOUSE UNTIL SHERIFF ARRIVES.

LIVERPOOL, N.S., Oct. 26.—(C.P.)—As Henry Inness, 53-year old bachelor, 200-pound giant and neighborhood bully, was about to start on a moose-hunting trip from the fishing hamlet of Southwest Point Mountain, near here, his sister, with whom he had been living, asked him to pay something on his board bill. He returned to the house, and using the .45 calibre big game rifle he carried, sent two bullets through the frail body of his sister, then turned the gun upon himself and blew off the top of his head.

Fearful neighbors and relatives covered outside the farm house for more than an hour, awaiting the arrival of the sheriff, but in the meantime the 17-year old son of the dead woman arrived from duck hunting, entered the house and found the tidy kitchen turned into a shambles in the midst of which reposed the dead bodies of his mother and uncle. The dead woman, Mrs. Laura Thibault, was the mother of six children. Inness had boarded with them for some time, but he had been delinquent in payments and so evil a reputation had he gained as a bully that the Thibaults were held in constant terror. He had served a sentence for pointing a gun at a relative and the entire community feared him.

The shooting took place at 8.30 o'clock in the morning. Lawrence Thibault, husband of the dead woman, had left at 7 o'clock to bring home a load of straw. Inness was talking with an uncle at the door yard gate, about his moose hunting trip. Mrs. Thibault called from the door asking her brother to "settle up" before departing. Inness started back to the house and his uncle proceeded to his own home 100 yards away. The latter heard three shots in quick succession, but, according to his evidence, feared to go to the Thibault house. He believed Inness had shot his sister. He therefore called the sheriff by telephone and with others who had heard the reports settled down to wait outside the silent house. Neighbors' children on their way to school called for the Thibault children, but ran away in terror when they saw the bodies on the dripping kitchen floor.

When young Clifford Thibault returned from his hunting trip he unhesitatingly entered the house and disclosed the terrible tragedy.

It was stated in evidence at the inquest that Inness had exercised a bullying attitude over the entire community to such an extent that when he was guilty of culpable offences there was no one with the temerity to lay information against him.

Golf Tourney

Radical Change in System to Decide British Championship Next Year.

ST. ANNES-ON-THE-SEA, England, Oct. 23.—A radical departure in the method of qualifying for the British open golf championship will be instituted next year, when sectional qualifying competitions will be held, two in England and one in Scotland. This was announced following a meeting of the championship committee here at which the plan was suggested by representatives of the Professional Association. Heretofore qualification play has been held just before the championship proper on two courses, one of them usually that on which the championship is contested. The eighty entrants with information is available as to how the foreign golf invaders will qualify under the new plan, but details will be announced later.
