

GREY CALLS ACTION OF AMERICAN TARS AN INCREDIBLE ONE

Reported Withdrawal Before
U-53 Unbelievable.

RECALLS DEWEY INCIDENT

Quotes Yankee Admiral To Show How British Aided in Manila.

LONDON, Thursday, Oct. 29.—(Correspondence).—During the discussion in the House of Lords on Monday last, regarding the operations of the German submarine U-53 off the coast of the United States, Earl Grey, former governor-general of Canada, in asking for assurances that reports regarding the conduct of commanders of American destroyers in this connection were incorrect, gave an interesting account of a conversation he had had with Admiral Dewey as to the action of Captain Chichester of the British navy in Manila Bay at the outbreak of the Spanish-American war. Alluding to the question put by Baron Charles Beresford to Viscount Grey, the foreign secretary, with regard to the German submarine operations, which Viscount Grey subsequently answered, Earl Grey said:

Did Destroyers Obey?
"My lords, before the secretary of state for foreign affairs answers the question put to him by the noble and gallant lord, I should like to be allowed to ask a supplementary question, of which I have given the noble viscount private notice—namely, whether there is any truth in the statement in the press of Tuesday, Oct. 10, that the commander of the German submarine U-53 asked the commander of the American destroyers Denham and MacDougall to clear out of the way so that he might have room to blow up the ships he was attacking, and whether it is true that American destroyers promptly acceded to the German request. I sincerely hope the noble viscount will be able to assure the house that there is no truth in the statement that the American destroyers deliberately moved out of their positions in the open sea in order to enable the German submarine to sink the merchant vessels without British and neutral, which they desired to attack."

Calls Story Incredible.
"To me it is so incredible that commanders of American destroyers would have acted in the way reported that I cannot and I will not believe it until all room for doubt has been removed. Such action on the part of American destroyers would involve a new and startling departure from the old traditions of mutual service between American and British ships in the cause of humanity. The custom—nobody knows this better than the noble and gallant lord who has just spoken—of both British and American sailors in all parts of the world to render assistance to one another's assistance in moments of difficulty has been so invariable that I have learned before the war to regard American and British ships as of a united front for the safeguarding and promoting of the highest interests of mankind."

Dewey's Emotional Tribute.
"I hope I may be permitted to quote one illustration of the way in which this spontaneous mutual service has had far-reaching effects in promoting good will between America and Britain. In 1905 I had the honor of meeting Admiral Dewey and some distinguished members of the American senate at dinner in Washington. On that occasion Admiral Dewey narrated to me in a voluble and with gestures eloquently suggestive of the most grateful emotion, the story—that at that time entirely new to me, and perhaps new to some members of your lordship's house today—of the way in which he had received invaluable assistance from Captain Chichester at Manila at a time of great anxiety."

Admiral Dewey informed me that the presence at Manila of German cruisers with a heavier displacement than that of the American ships caused him to realize the grave character of the danger menacing his country in the event of the German ships beginning the hostile action, of which he at the time had reason to be apprehensive. He described how the whole American fleet watched in silent anxiety the visit of the German admiral to Captain Chichester's ship and the intense relief with which they saw, shortly after the German admiral's return to his own ship, his majesty's ships under Captain Chichester's command, hoist their anchors and shift their anchorage to a position which placed them in the direct line of fire between the German and the American ships."

Act is Spontaneous.
"No action has ever done more to promote the friendly feelings of one nation to another than that action of Captain Chichester, which with a noble and absolutely spontaneous on his part and which is well known to every officer in the naval service of the United States."

I trust that the noble viscount may be able to assure the house that the rumors attributing to American officers action so different from that of Captain Chichester are wholly and absolutely without foundation."

DOCTOR PRESCRIBED VINOL

To Restore Strength to This Weak, Nervous Woman.

Many fair-minded doctors prescribe Vinol because they know of what it is made, viz., beef and cod liver peptones, iron, manganese, peptones, and glycerophosphates with a medicinal wine. They know these are the most and most famous tonics. Read the result in Mrs. Mason's case: "I keep house for a little family of two, and got into a weak, nervous, rundown condition. I was tired and weak and did not know what ailed me. My doctor prescribed Vinol. I noticed an improvement before I had finished the first bottle, and I am now feeling fine, and doing all my housework."

ONLY MAN WHO CAN MEET THE BIG PROBLEMS

F. B. Carvell, M. P., Pays Tribute to Sir Wilfrid Laurier at Montreal Meeting.

MONTREAL, Oct. 29.—Frank B. Carvell, M. P. for Carleton County, N. B., was banqueted by the Montreal Reform Club last night, and he expressed the belief that the only man of proved ability and prestige sufficient to meet the great, crowding problems of the day after the war is Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Mr. Carvell claimed that though the Liberal Government had established the Ross rifle factory, they had not established the Ross rifle, only the policy of making rifles in Canada. Mr. Carvell stated that the report of General Alderson had been in the hands of the Borden Government five months before an Ottawa paper had published it.

Early Participation of Greece Forecast By Army Changes

ATHENS, Oct. 29.—Via London.—The Greek Government officially made it known today that following the recent series of visits by the Entente ministers to the royal palace, King Constantine had spontaneously undertaken further to dispel Entente suspicions of his sincerity by ordering what he had previously refused to grant, on the insistence of the French military attaché, that is, the transfer of the third and fourth army corps from Thessaly and the sixteenth division from Epirus to the Peloponnese, the Southern Greek peninsula. In both districts only a force sufficient to maintain order is to be kept. The transfer is to begin on November 3.

Such an evidence of good-will on the part of the sovereign is taken in usually well-informed circles here to indicate a not far-distant agreement for the co-operation of Greece with the Entente Allies.

REDMOND URGES IMMEDIATE HOME RULE COMMENCEMENT

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Speaking at Sligo Sunday, John Redmond, the Nationalist leader, urged the immediate putting into effect of home rule for Ireland.
"The present state of Ireland," said Mr. Redmond, "is a serious menace to the British Empire to a victorious ending of the war. Ireland's suspicion of British statesmen and their promises should be met with trust, and home rule, put immediately into operation. This would do more to help the successful ending of the war than the alliance of half a dozen neutrals. Ireland is suffering from a brain-storm. A gust of passion has swept the country, and a period of calm is necessary to restore a rational and sane view of the causes and the consequences of the tragedy through which Ireland has just passed."

"Common sense is rapidly reasserting itself, and the passion is subsiding. Ireland has come to believe that she must not sacrifice the fruits of 40 years' patient labor for the momentary anger and disappointment of the war."

FALL OF FORT VAUX MATTER OF HOURS, CAPTURE ASSURED

Last German Stronghold in Verdun Doomed.

ENEMY ARTILLERY 'BLIND'
Direction Impossible.

FLURY DE VANT DOUAMONT, Friday, Oct. 27.—Via Chantilly, Oct. 29.—(From a staff correspondent of the Associated Press).—Vaux, which is the only point remaining in the hands of the Germans in the immediate vicinity of Verdun, is threatened hourly with capture. While the correspondent of the Associated Press was observing from a nearby ridge before dawn for an approach, which was only possible at night, some French advanced scouts were seen to the precincts of the fort to reconnoiter.

Vaux is dominated by the French artillery and the guns incessantly batter it. Every effort at counter-attack which the Germans have made up to the present has been checked easily, although some of them have been attempted in heavy force.

German Artillery Blind.
The Germans suffered a terrible blow when they lost Douaumont, their principal point of observation. Their artillery is now blind, as the aeroplanes are hindered by the frequent mists. Consequently, the German curtain of fire is ineffectual for stopping the arrival of French reinforcements, although it is anticipated the figures of the battle will be in favor of the French.

First Returns.
First returns from the front line showed a considerable majority opposed to conscription. The income tax vote was: "Yes," 627,000; "No," 722,000.

IRISH HOME RULE INVOLVED.
LONDON, Oct. 29.—There is a great diversity of opinion, and the Government, regarding the result of the referendum among the Australian soldiers serving in France, England, and the near east, which ended yesterday. It adds that although it is anticipated the figures will be substantially in favor of conscription, it is conceded that many Australian soldiers are against the innovation.

An interview with a well-known Australian authority, published by the Observer, attributes the large number of anti-conscriptionist votes to the alienation of a large Irish vote by the failure of the home rule negotiations, and to the syndicalist views of industrial organizations.

Declares Wilson Told Germany Not To Be Frightened.
NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The first real sensation of the presidential campaign was sprung last night by U. S. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, while in a speech at Somerville, Mass., he asserted that President Wilson, at the time the second Lusitania note was sent to Germany, wrote a postscript informing the German Government that the contents of his former "strict accountability" were not to be too seriously interpreted.

Mr. Lodge insisted that William Bryan had been kept out of the campaign and approved of the president's postscript, and that when Secretary of War Garrison and other members of the president's cabinet learned of it they threatened to resign unless they were withdrawn. Senator Lodge quoted Dr. Charles H. Bailey, a professor of Tufts Medical School, as his authority for the truth of the charge, and Dr. Bailey named Former Assistant Secretary of the Navy Breckinridge as his informant.

Denials and counter-denials were issued from various quarters today. Dr. Bailey tonight reaffirmed the truth of his story and promises to produce indisputable proof of its accuracy.

TORONTO, Oct. 29.—The first meetings of the new national service campaign were held in Toronto tonight, and attracted large numbers. Premier Hearst, N. W. Rowell and the Countess of Limerick were the chief speakers.

The premier spoke at a monster meeting at Massey Hall, Mr. Rowell at the podium, and the countless at the Hippodrome. All emphasized the immediate need of men to fill the ranks, and declared that the existence of the Empire was at stake.
