One of the other new recruits this year will be Crawley, who caught for the Lucan intermediate champions last year. Although he did not show up to he mark at the first of the season on account of a sore arm, he has more than made up for lost time. He will do the bulk of the catching while Binns will likely perform on the third sack.

The diamond at Pinafore Park is rapidly nearing completion, and President R. J. Cottress stated today that the players would be able to get on next week. Cottrell asserted that he took Robert Emslie out to see the new diamond, while he was in the city for a couple of hours last week, and the yeteran National League umpire declared that the field was second to none on the continent. Emslie pointed out that with such a fine field, amateur ball should flourish in St. Thomas as never before. Over 500 seats will be never before. Over 500 seats will be feserved in the grandstand and a new lence, to keep fans off the foul line, is limost completed.

There are few bigger gambles than aying a huge price for a minor league baseball star. Money will get them, but it does not insure they will deliver he goods. John McGraw paid $65,000 or Jack Bentley, the star pitcher of the International League and a tre-leadous hitter in that company. Yet Bentley, backed with the splendid efensive strength of the world's chambionship infield and a great offensive, silled miserably in his first two starts of the season. McGraw, according to his listom with young pitchers, picked the sey spots for Bentley to start. Boston and Philadelphia, shattered hulks of aseball teams, were the opponents, oth drove Bentley from the box before he game was far along. Many will draw a comparison between entley and Rube Marquard. Both were urchased for the highest prices ever aid a minor league club for a left-anded pitcher. Both were beaten hally in their first starts. Yet there the omparison ends. Marquard when he vent to the Giants was a youngsier. Lentley is well along as baseball age is bimputed. He had a tryout with the cationals nine years ago. Bentley must roduce without delay, for he has passed e stage of development. Two games not make or break a pitcher but ey make Bentley's row the harder. Bentley was opposed in his first game Joe Genewich, a youngster the aves picked up on the sandlots of at city. Genewich is comparable with eorge Uhle, who also came from the riner diamonds to the big leagues. The levelander soon became a mainstay on peaker's firing corps, and Genewich omises to do the same for Fred Mittell. Apparently he has both ability dinerve. The cases of Uhle and Genewich high-priced minor leaguers came hrough to the fullest expectations.

New York, May 9.—Jack Kearns chasing around town today trying to dig up stalwart young men wno are willing to let Jack Dempsey practice sharp shooting on them. The fact that Jack will wear eight and twelve ounce gloves, has not caused Kearns to be besiege by young fellows anxious for the job. In fact, there is a shortage of heavies on the hoof at the present time.

Aside from disinclination to stop the champion's jolts and drives, there is another a still greater reason, for the shortage. Almost all the scrappers of any importance at all are hooked up for battles, and instead of looking for jobs as sparring partners they are looking for partners themselves.

Scene—the boxing room of the Madison Square Garden. Firpo sparring with a negro boxer before a crowd that filled the little gallery and the roped off space on the floor below. Not a word save the grunts of the negro as Firpo sent home one of his right-hand body wallops, not an expression upon the Argentinean's face—merely a grim, swarthy fighting machine who showed neither satisfaction when his punches landed nor chagrin when they missed.
