The Week on 'Change.

London, April 29 .-- The rate of discount last week was 1¼ for both three months and thirty days. The banks' stock of goid was £31,750,000, and there was no sign of a decrease. Silver fluctuated in response to a speculative demand, despite the fact that rumors of the re opening of the ladian mints were discredited. The business on the Stock Exchange wis inactive, although the purchase of investment securities continued. Prices of American railroad securities relapsed under the influence of the coal strike. They are not likely to rally permanentsettled in the Senate.

Continued From Sixth Page. and announce the approach of the day-dawn No one was ever more glad to see the morning than was Jacob after that night of ing than was Jacob after that night of struggle. It is appropriate for philanthropists and Christians to cry out with this angel of the text, "The day breaketh." The world's prospects are brightening. The Church of Christ is rising up in its strength to go forth, "fair as the moon, clear as the sun, and ter-rible as an army with banners." Clap your bands all we neople the day breaketh. The hands, all ye people; the day breaketh. The bigotries of the earth are perishing. The time was when we were told that if we wantto get to heaven we must be immersed or sprinkled; or we must believe in the perseverance of the saints, or in falling away from grace, or a liturgy. or no liturgy; or they must be Calvinists, or Arminians; in order to reach heaven. We have all come to confess now that these are non essentials in religion. During my vacation, one summer, I was in a Presbyterian audience, and it was sacramental day, and with grateful heart I re-ceived the Holy Communion. On the next Sabbath I was in a Methodist Church, and sat at a love feast. On the following Sabbath I was in an Episcopalian Church, and knelt at the altar and received the consecrated bread. I do not know which service I enjoyed the most. "I believe in the communion of saints and in the life everlasting." "The day breaketh." As I look upon this audience, I see many who have passed through waves of trouble who have passed through waves of trouble that came up higher than their girdle. In God's name I proclaim cessation of hostili-ties. You shall not go always saddened and heart-broken. God will lift your burden. God will bring your dead to life. God will through the board's black staunch the heart's bleeding. I know He will. Like as a father pities his children, so the Lord pities you. The pains of earth will end. The tomb will burst. The dead will rise. The morning star trembles on a brightening sky. The gates of the east begin to swing open. They day breaketh. Luther and Melancthon were talking toge-ther gloomily about the prospects of the Church. They could see no hope of deliverance. After awhile, Luther got up and said to Melancthon, "Come, Philip, let us sing the forty-sixth Psalm of David, 'God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. Therefore will not we fear though the earth works service, soon had the fire under control. The building was slightly dam-aged. The stock suffered from smoke.
