The bage of mail were also handed to the baber going boat, and the big timer's basi-ness with Viotoris was disposed of. Here trip across was pleasant and eventful. When she left Hongkong the air was already full of news of battle and rumors of block-ade. No call was made at either Kobe or Nagasaki, and the navigation of the Ohnesse cost was astended with more than ordinary difficulty, the greater can-tion being necessitated by the removal of all the usual aids to navigation. It was to this no doubt that the stranding of the Empress of Chins is to be attributed, and until such time as the war is over and the become and buoys are replaced, few if any of the trans Pacific fleet will visit any ports but Hongkong and Yokohams. The saloon passengers across by the Empress were but thirty-one in number, the most notable pa-sengers on the list being Mr. and Mrs. Von Wartegg, the latter known in public life as Miss Minnie Hank, the colebrated Ameri-oan singer, who with her husband, has been making a triumphal tour of Eastern landa.
