TRADE AND FINANCIAL GOSSIP.

The formation of a $10,000,000 fur combine midsummer seems incompatible with weltering surroundings.

In spite of the efforts of the United States banks the flow of gold continues Europe-wards in volume, not at all pleasing to our neighbors. The New York World blames the Sherman Silver Act and says that "so long as the present law remains on the statute book just so long must we face a constant menace to the suability of the money system of the country." But then these are election times in the States.

Corn is king in the United States, and since the hot spell he has been feeling his im-

Stagnation is still the condition of the London money market, and there is no immediate prospect of an improvement. Russia's demand for gold is exceptional, and still the Bank of England gains on gold balances, and this week its stock will be further augmented by consigningly of the precious metal from by consignments of the precious metal from Australia.

The federal authorities of the United States have called into question the legality of the absorption of the Philadelphia refineries by the American Sugar Refining Company. An affidavit has been filed by the latter in which economy is stated to be the object of the deal, that no refineries are to be dismantled and that no increase is to be made in the Push, energy and money have enabled the Fush, energy and money have enabled the States to accomplish much. But notwithstanding that all these forces have been applied to tin-mining that industry has proved ansuccessful. The Harnby Peak Company's mines of South Dakota were floated in the London market some years ago at $15,000,000, but according to The Engineering and Mining Journal no paying tin mines have yet been opened in South Dakota, though many magnificent specimens and "promis-ing" veins have been found in many places. The mines in California and Virginia have also proved unprofitable. In the manufacture of tin plates our neighbors have met with no better success. There is no saying, however; what will yet be done.
