Apprentice Lang Promising Jockey

Lloyd, Brother of Chick, Expected To Develop Into Star Rider

Jim Arthur, the Baltimore turfman, one of the most promising apprentice jockeys ever developed in Lloyd Lang.

Lloyd Lang, a wee mite of a youngster, is a brother of Chick Lang, who is under contract to J. S. Cosden, the Baltimore turfman. Lloyd Lang still remembers him when he first broke in under the careful tutelage of Jim Arthur. Chick came with a rush, and not long ago Arthur sold his contract to Cosden for a reported price of $25,000.

ALWAYS WITH PONIES.

Chicklets, as Lloyd is called by his intimate friends, has been under Arthur's wing for a year or so. The youngster is learning all there is to learn about thoroughbred racing. He is a natural, and his knowledge is being built from the ground up.

WINS WITH BELPHRIZONIA.

Several days later Lloyd won all the way over a distance of ground with August Swenke's Belphrizonia, at 15 to 20. Then he won with D. L. Richards' Pehrah, at 19 to 1, and with Coral Reef, at 18 to 1, the same afternoon, November 20. Young Lloyd has been riding frequent winners since going to Jefferson Parish.

Arthur declares Lloyd knows more about horses at this stage of his career than did such boys as Chick Lang, Joe Rodriguez, Alvin Richerick and Alfred (Whitey) Abel, all of whom Lloyd has beaten.

Arthur should know whereof he speaks, because turf followers recall the splendid riders these boys were when Rodriguez, a Spaniard, rode well for Arthur several years ago.

Chicklets, as Lloyd is called by his intimate friends, has been under Arthur's wing for a year or so. The youngster is learning all there is to learn about thoroughbred racing. He is a natural, and his knowledge is being built from the ground up.

Tecumsehs Will Train In South

Manager Beatty Negotiates With Several U. S. Cities For Suitable Camp

BY FORD RUTHER
Manager Jack Beatty, of the Tecumseh baseball team, has decided to carry away from home this year and he is now carrying on negotiations with several municipalities in the Southern States for a suitable training camp.

Last year for the first time the Tecumsehs trained on the home lot, and while the training was probably satisfactory from the point of conditioning the team, as a whole, did not get the necessary pre-season competition required to put them on edge for the long season's grind. So far as weather conditions are concerned, there is not a great deal of difference between this part of Canada and the Northern States, but there are several reasons why training away from home is advantageous. In the first instance the majority of the players reside in the Northern States and the expense incurred in bringing them to the training camp is considerable. Secondly, a large number of minor league clubs train away from home, and this makes exhibition games possible, which make a double purpose, usually sufficient money is picked up in these pre-season games to pay for the spring training, and the club competition gives the manager a much better opportunity of getting a line on the merits of his squad. Another advantage of training away from home is the fact that when the team returns to the home town, the home folks have had no opportunity of previously looking them over, and the team is therefore a surprise in the opening series, which might otherwise have had the team not made an impression showing in the pre-season training carried out at home.

It is a fact that the Tecumsehs are slow in getting into condition and Jack Beatty realizing this, is making a considerable effort to get the team into shape by training in the South. The manager is now in the process of negotiating with several municipalities in the Southern States for a suitable training camp. ## Big Three In Women's Tennis

BY BILLY EVANS.

Who are the three ranking women tennis players in the United States? That isn't nearly so difficult a problem as naming the first 10. Three players stand out, after that there is much room for argument regardless of selection.

We nominate Miss Helen Wills, of California, for championship honors. Then comes Mrs. Molla Mallory, closely followed by Miss Eleanor Goss, of New York.

For eight years Mrs. Molla Mallory, a remarkable tennis player, has reigned supreme in the women's ranks. Her conqueror, Miss Helen Wills, just 15 years old, adds another triumph to her record.

Miss Wills seemed to acquire the seasoning needed in the international team match with the best women players of England. Her defeat of Mrs. Mallory in the Middle States championship played at Philadelphia Cricket Club in September.

Defeating the former champ as well as the present titleholder in the season's season is quite an achievement.

There are several matters besides the migration of players which must be discussed by the officers of the two associations. We shall not, however, go into them at this time, as outside parties might seize them as an opportunity to create controversies between the two organizations, which we are not seeking to do if it can be avoided.

Mr. Schooley asks the O. H. A. to consider the matter of the opening of the season at the amateur standing of any of the players who have migrated from Canada to the United States. We respectfully desire that they be submitted.

The reserve seat plan for the New York Manhattan Lassies' basket ball game, to be played here a week from Saturday with the London Shamrocks, Ontario champions, will open at Wendell Holmes to-day at 3 o'clock.

Judging from the heavy demand for tickets, many of the basket ball followers will take advantage of the first opportunity of securing their reserve tickets for the big basket ball tilt with the New York girls.

The New York girls play their home games in the largest armories in New York City while feature attractions are booked for the Madison Square Gardens. The Manhattan Lassies have only cut one defeat in their season with United States juniors.

The Manhattan Lassies enjoy the reputation of being the strongest and fastest girls' team in the New York State, and have suffered few defeats during their long basket ball career.

On Saturday evening of this week the Shamrocks will play the return game in St. Catharines, which should be a good workout for the coming New York tilt.

STEWART MAIDEN, Atlanta golf professional, who made national champions of Bobby Jones and Alex Stirling, says golf beginners would get along a whole lot better if they disregarded all the advice they are given by the "old pros" and concentrated on hitting the ball. "Get a feeling of mastery over the ball in the beginning and then the technical features come easier," he explains.
