Market and News

There are two boom times, when the Canadian market is full of beans, namely, in the fall when the lumbermen are going into the woods and in the spring when they are coming out for the drive.

Since our last issue, the congestion caused by lack of cars, has been partially relieved and a good many are being loaded with all kinds of grain. The Kent Mills are paying 70c for wheat. Farmers having been so busy with their corn, have neglected delivery of wheat, so the mills are short and the price higher than exporters can pay dealers.

The Kent Mills seem to be always making improvements. They have imported a carload of British Columbia pine, the beams being 50 ft. long by 14 inches square. These are intended for a weighing machine which they are making, to weigh a whole carload at a time. The Kent Mills will soon have a new set of offices which are being rapidly got ready under the superintendence and from the designs of architect Carswell who is remodelling the house corner of Kent and Dover St., (next N. H. Stevens' dwelling house), and converting it, into an elaborate and commodious office building 32 x 50 with return wing 25 x 20 ft. The Kent Mills with elevator, coopers' shop, stables, offices etc., is growing to the dimensions of a village and justifies the faith of its proprietor in the present and future of Kent as an agricultural county.

Some of our farmers think that husking ought to be done for 3c a bushel instead of 5c. In some places the great difficulty is to get firewood for the engine. They could burn soft coal at a dollar a day if the fire-box was adapted for it. The fodder when stored heats surprisingly.

The Flowing Bowl.

One of our esteemed farmers who is impatiently waiting to go to Arkansas hot springs and thence South, found his corn huskers, in the language of Mrs. Beecher Stowe, had allowed the physical to conquer the intellectual, otherwise stated, they were on a big drunk for 3 weeks and 2 days. He fumes to be off South but waits perforce.

Coroner's Inquest.

Before Coroner, Dr. Bray, Nov. 18th, Jury, James Graves, John Carpenter, J. M. Northwood, John Harper, Robert Gullen, Andy Pike,

James Milner, Sr., Samuel Smith, Arthur Richardson, J. J. Neahr, Jan. Oldershaw, W. E. Hamilton, J. J. McGregor, constable, inquest on body of unknown man found dead, 3 miles East of city on G. T. R. tracks, head terribly gashed and hand cut off. From the evidence he seemed to have been perfectly sober, out of work, without money and trying to get to Merin. It is thought by some that he said "Berlin" Age about 30, height 5 ft, 10 in., weight about 190. Inquest adjourned till next Monday, 7.30 p.m., Jhanke's.

Why!

Why waste your old carpets when beautiful, desirable rugs can be made from them, out of all kinds and plys of old ingrain, unions, Brussels, tapestry and velvet carpets and at prices within the reach of all. We can weave any size rug from one-half yard to three yards wide and any length. We call for work in the city and deliver the same. Call and see us and our samples. Payment by installment if desired.—Rug factory next J. & J. Oldershaw's office, West King St.

McKAY'S CORNERS.

Mr. Robertson, of Woodstock, is spending a few days with his nephew, the Rev. D. M. Robertson.

Mrs. Elizabeth Clark was attacked with a cerebral hemorrhage, the left side being now paralyzed. Mrs. Clark was just convalescing from a previous severe illness.

Delegates to the East Kent Liberal Conservative Convention to be held in Ridgetown on 21st inst., from this polling division are to be appointed at a meeting held in Botany school house to-night. East Kent anticipates a big day on 21st; more enthusiasm than ever displayed in this riding. (Much good is expected from the visit of our leader, J. P. Whitney, and J. J. Foy, K. C., M. P. P.)

John Fluellin has returned from Michigan to spend the winter with his son, C. M. Fluellin.

Considerable hay was marketed in the village on Saturday; prevailing price $7.00 per ton prime timothy.

John Simington, Dunc Leitch and Geo. McCann are building a barn in Raleigh at the present time.

J. J. Broad, teacher, is training his pupils for an entertainment to be given about the 20th of next month.

Miss Annie Hutchinson is the new organist in St. James, Miss Morrison having gone to the Maple City to take up kindergarten work under Miss Aylesworth, McKeough school.

John Mulhern is again compelled to retire from farming, hence he has an auction sale soon to dispose of his chattels.

James Holmes has returned from the country, where he spent the summer.

A small pigeon match here on Saturday—nine birds James McBrayne and Dr. McRitohie each killed seven, Alex. Clark and John McKay each six, and J. J. Broad hurt one, so your correspondent was told.
