Mr. Joseph Steen, one of the leading business men of Halifax, died in that city last week, much to the regret of his many friends throughout the city and province. For some time past Mr. Steen had been in ill-health. About six weeks ago he was obliged to take his bed, and continued to grow worse. The deceased came to Halifax about 40 years ago from Moncton, with his brother, Robert B. Steen. Both engaged in business soon after, their establishment being near the foot of Sackville street. They were subsequently appointed agents for the Innan line of steamers. They purchased the wharf at present occupied by Messrs. Pickford & Black, and did a large business at that time. They built the premises at present occupied by the People's bank, but sold it soon after to the bank. They did not build in the building, formerly the saloon house. The firm dissolved partnership, B. B. going into business for himself and Joseph associating himself with Arthur Mitchell in the wholesale grocery and commission business.

Correspondence.

We do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions of our correspondents.

Mr. Errol.—As the columns of your valued newspaper are as a rule generously open to anything affecting the public we, I would call the attention of our strict commissioner for the central part of the town, to the condition of Queen Street, where it joins Granville Street. It will be remembered that last fall when the old Quirk stand was being repaired, a lot of clay was thrown to the surface and allowed to remain in a rough state, and a large quantity of gravel was placed there, also with a view, it would appear, of elevating the sidewalk to bring it well up to the platform built to accommodate the new store. The result is that all through a long and tedious season of ice and snow the public has had to climb this mound at a risk to life and limb. Whether it was the intention of the contractor to place the clay on the street or to the platform, which is private property, to get around the turn, and then to get to the street again to avoid the numerous teams anchored in the quadrangle which the public has had the use of ever since the last buildings were erected here, some sixty years ago. Again, this sidewalk and corner has been built and left altogether too sloping, the angle being about 45 degrees, who the public has had to climb, or nearly so. The public has been badly imposed upon in this matter, and although long suffering, will insist upon having this encumbrance removed and made right. We are, &c.

NEW LINE OF STEAMERS BETWEEN NEW YORK AND ANNAPOLIS. The New York Steamship Company, equipped with three new 1,800 ton steamships, of high speed and with every modern improvement intend to work the coast of Maine and maritime provinces passenger and freight traffic, with quick transportation and cheap rates. These steamers will be first class high speed ocean going ships, superior to anything ever seen on the east coast. Trips will be made twice a week from New York calling at Cottage City, Rockland and Eastport, and terminating on trip at Annapolis and one at St. John, N. B.

Leaving Annapolis, on the arrival of the express train, passengers by this line will reach Boston via Rockland, the next day at noon, or Montreal at evening by taking rail at Rockland, giving only eight to ten hours; or connecting at Rockland with the palace steamers of the Bangor and Boston line, which reach Boston the same evening by water, as will all Boston freight. The New York Steamship company's line will open to western Nova Scotia the New York market by quick regular transportation, rates of freight as low or lower than any paid to Boston, for farm products—potatoes, hay, straw, horse, beef, mutton, hemp apples, wool goods, etc.—and as Ontario flour as well as western corn and meal, pork, etc. The fact has been called to our attention on the Atlantic coast (New York being the nearest coast to Ontario and the west), this new line will be a boon to the export and import traffic of Nova Scotia. The steamers are expected to start early in May.—M. Chronicle.

MURDERER PALMER HANGED. CONCORD, N. H., May 1.—Soon after 5 o'clock this morning Sheriff Coffey and his assistants began the execution of the scaffold in the prison yard upon which James Palmer will today expiate his crime for the murder of Henry J. Whitehouse in Portsmouth, May 27, 1888. The prison officers remained with Palmer all night. At a late hour he retired and slept some time. Before retiring he looked at an illustrated paper and a prayer book and spent some moments in prayer. He awoke at midnight and partook of a luncheon. At 12 o'clock he was taken to the gallows, which was being erected on the roof of the prison. He was dressed in a suit of blue cloth, and his hands were bound behind his back. He was then taken to the gallows, where he was hanged by the neck. He died without a struggle, two or three slight twitching movements being all that were visible. Life was pronounced extinct at 11.15, after hanging just 14 minutes. Palmer showed remarkable courage throughout the awful ordeal. His step to the gallows was firm and elastic. Deputy Whidden adjusted the rope and noise before he put on the black cap, and even when it had been placed about his neck his countenance did not seem to change in the least. He made no confession. His body, at his request, will be interred at Portsmouth beside that of his mother, who died since her son's conviction.

CANADIAN FISHERMEN IN GLOBEYER. Special Treasurer Agent T. Aubrey Byrne testified before a Congressional Committee at Boston Friday as follows:—

Allen fishermen from Canada are now pouring into Gloucester at the rate of 75 to 100 per day. From 65 to 75 per cent of the fishermen who are manning American fishing vessels are aliens, and they work for less wages than citizens of the United States. Their relatives in the Province are engaged in fishing. The latter sell their fish in American fishing vessels, and their fish are brought to our ports and entered without paying duty as American fish. Thus American citizens are crowded out of the fishing business, and fish caught by aliens are entered without paying duty.

GRANT GUYS FOR RUSSIAN PORTS.—The largest gun yet manufactured at Krupp's works at Essen, which is intended for the naval fortifications at Cronstadt, is made of the finest quality of cast steel and weighs 270,000 pounds (about 135 tons), the caliber is 16 1/2 inches, and the barrel 44 feet long. It will have a range of 20,000 yards. The greatest diameter is 64 feet, and the range about twelve miles. It will fire two shots per minute, and is estimated to cost $300,000. At the trial the projectile, 4 feet long and weighing 3,000 pounds, was propelled by a charge of 700 pounds of powder and penetrated 19 inches of armor, going 1,312 yards beyond the target, and striking the armor at an angle of 30 degrees. It was carried from Essen and framed on a car specially constructed for the purpose at Work in England, and is being pushed forward on several gons which are being used for the purpose.
