The "WITNESS" Celebrates Its Diamond Jubilee.

The "Witness" has been preparing, by large expenditures for new machinery and equipment, to celebrate its Diamond Jubilee, and important additions will be made to its staff as soon as the right men can be found.

As it is, the "Witness" is in a better position than ever to serve its day and generation, as it has conscientiously endeavored to do in the days that are past-for more than one generation.

'Although the "Witness" is a newspaper, at first sight | much like any other newspaper, it stands at all times ready to fight the people's battles. Its subscribers know that they can count on it at least in any time of political or social struggle or emergency. They know that it will not betray their trust or sell itself to serve party or vested interests however great the inducements offered. And not only in times of crisis, but also in many every day kind of ways they know that the but also in many every-day kind of ways, they know that the "Witness" will, at any sacrifice, respect and protect their interests—that it will faithfully give the news in its due proportion rather than distort it and so pander to any morbid craving for sensation, and that it will daily refuse (to the extent of between thirty and fifty thousand dollars annually) advertising calculated to defraud or do hurt to body or soul

There is, of course, a tremendous—a fundamental difference between a paper published in the interest of its sub-scribers and one published mainly in the interests of its pub-lishers' bank account, and while only journalists can fully appreciate the extent of that difference, it speaks well for the people of Canada that so many have been discerning in this matter and have shown their appreciation of the "Witness" by subscribing for it and by extending its circulation among their friends.

We Don't Want Diamonds

by way of celebrating our Diamond Jubilee. We want an increasing number of subscribers to show their preference for the "Witness" type of journalism. A large proportion of "Witness" subscribers "agree to differ" with it on many matters of importance-preferring a paper that has principles and sticks to them to one that simply "plays to its constituency."
