REMARKS BY JUDGES.—In relation to the awards made in the herd class, the judges have found great difficulty in coming to an accurate conclusion as to the superior merits of the herds submitted to their inspection, on account of the different breeds of animals competing on equal terms with each other. Three breeds were submitted, viz:—Short-horns, Herefords and Galloways, each of them possessing certain eminent and valuable qualities. Such diverse breeds should never be submitted on equal terms for prizes. Each is valuable for certain soils and surfaces of our country. The Short-horns are, beyond question, the most popular, and probably the best breed of cattle with the majority of our stock breeders and graziers. Yet there are large districts of country where they prove inferior to either the Herefords or Galloways. So with either of the latter breeds, each of them the best of their kind. Hence it to say we have given our awards under most embarrassing circumstances, and had we fully considered the difficulties of the case before us, we would have hesitated to act on this committee. Under all the circumstances, we beg leave, with all due respect, to the better judgment of the managers of the Board of Agriculture, to suggest that prizes be offered hereafter for the best herds in the best several classes, and that each breed be exhibited in a class by themselves, under whatever name they may be recognized. Under permission of the rules of the Board, your committee, satisfied of the superior excellence of the two herds of Herefords submitted to their inspection, name them as if in a class by themselves, both eminently worthy of prizes. Also, the Galloway herd, as of line quality and uniformity in style and finish.
