At evening, (if it is thought necessary to row in the night time) a blue flag will be hoisted in the Major's boat, which is the signal for the boats to dress, and then proceed in the following manner: the boats next the hindermost, are to wait for the two in the rear, the two third boats for the second two; and so on to the boats leading a-head, to prevent separation, which in the night would be hazardous.

“Mr. Brheme is not to mind the order of march, but to steer as is most convenient for him to make his observations; he is however desired never to go more than a league a-head of the detachment, and is to join them at landing or encamping.

“On landing, the Regulars are to encamp in the center, and Lieutenant Holmes's division on the right wing with Mr. Croghan's people, Lieutenant M' Cormick on the left wing with his division; Mr. Jequie to be always ready with his Mohegan Indians, which are the picquet of the detachment, part of which are always to encamp in the front of the party; Capt. Campbell will mount a guard consisting
