Northern Navigation Company's Headquarters Will Move From Collingwood.

3.600

SARNIA. Sept. 17.— (Special.)—The head offices of the Northern Navigation Company will be removed from Collingwood to Sarnia, the change to be made sometime towards the close of navigation. The departments of auditing and accounting of the administrative head-quarters will bring some ten or twelve more office employes here.

The directors decided to make the change this week, in line with their policy of centralizing as far as possible the entire business of the line in Sarnia. One of the drawbacks, in fact the only one, is the fitting out and laying up of the boats in the spring and fall, owing to the small dock space to be secured. This objection will be done away with however, when the piers are constructed in Sarnia Bay by the government.

Mr. C. A. McDonald, the comproller, win have charge of the auditing and accounting departments es usual.

The south half of the company's building will be entirely remodeled and fitted up with the office for the new employes from Collingwod. The store rooms are now located at Point Edward, and the space can be utilized without cramping freight storage room.

When the judgment was rendered, the civic authorities extended hearty congratulations to the solicitor. It is not felt that municipal ownership has been secured by any means, but today's decision is taken to mean the first real step in that direction

Improved Accommodation Greatly Needed, But Local Intercst is Limited.

GALT. Sept. 17.—(Special.)—Scarcely better than a baker's dozen attended the public meeting called by the executive of the Local Option Association, to discuss improved hotel accommodation. The feeling expressed was that good men and good government were the needs of the situation, as available hotel buildings were not lacking. It was decided to confer with representatives of the hotel company as to best steps to take. The idea seems to be to have citizens provide the hotel, and hand it over to approved expert management. Interest in the proposition appears limited, and many express doubt as to the fruition of the contemplated project involving a large investment.
