Irishmen Kept Up Their Winning by Upsetting Frenchmen From Top.

Jimmy Murphy has resurrected his old-time smile again, and his voice is just as clear as ever. The reason is a very simple one, as Jimmy has a winning team again. The Ontario hockey team started on their upward journey, and look just about good enough to make the leaders huddle before another fortnight is upon us. They kept up their winning pace Saturday night at the Arena, when their best Canadian by the score of 6 to 4 at least, while they are within knocking distance of their next best for third place. Canadians on the other hand were forced to relinquish their position at the top of the heap to Ontario and step back on even terms with Toronto who had also added another notch in the winning column. This fact has been one of the features of the season.

Doherty Shows Up. The perceptible improvement of the Irishmen has been very marked, and they are to be congratulated on their victory all the more. They look to have the nucleus of a hard team to beat out now, and will stand as a team to be reckoned with. Doherty was given his chance to make good, and he made good. He is a heavy player, like Walker, perhaps not so brilliant and as steady; yet he shows flashes of form that under good coaching should make him a valuable member of the team. He is capable of taking and giving bumps with the best of them, and he has lots of speed. Without him Saturday, Ontario would have hardly been anywhere, almost most of the others were also in the line.

McNamara was in good form and played a very steady game. He checked hard all the time and stopped most of the wily Frenchmen in many unexpected ways. He was given a major foul for hitting Scott, and another for his appearance in a Canadian uniform against his old team-mates. Scott deserved a match foul, as he did not seem to be at the nets, and McNamara promptly went after him, and got him. McDonnell and Lower were also skating, and flashed in spots, but they did not last. Lake was very effective, and the Ottawa boys gave one of the best exhibitions of the game shown. He had the Canadians scared to death every time he started. Creighton was in the game for a little while, but did not stay long enough to accomplish much.

Lalonde and Laviolette divided the honors for the Frenchmen. They were good and tried hard, but Lalonde seemed to be suffering from something, and would not be a surprise to hear of him still feeling the effects of his fall. Lalonde is always a demon for work, and when he is in the line he is in the line. He scored a couple of goals that never have got by. Don Smith is still as aggressive as ever, but the fact is the Frenchmen did not win out seemed to be that they expected to win, and even when Ontario was in the line, they hardly expected them to last, and did not try hard enough until it was too late.

The first period had only seen a couple of end-to-end rushes before McDonald broke away, and slipping by the defence, tallied in a minute and half. Doherty broke his skate and Creighton took his place. Hebert was in the head with a shot and was laid out. He was taken to the dressing room, but revived immediately and returned to the ice. Doherty also came back, and Creighton retired. Before Hebert could get his wits together again Lalonde scored a high one into the head. This left the score at 1 in favor of the first period 2 to 1 in favor of Canadians.

Ontario Take Lead. The second period opened with a rush, and McDonald and Lake combined in one minute for the tying-up score. Doherty was given a minor for tripping, and McNamara also for riding Laviolette into the boards. Doherty put the lead into the lead when, after being checked all the way down the boards, he shot from behind the net, and the puck rolled into the net between Hebert's skate and the goal post. McNamara and Scott were given majors for their fracas, and retired to the fence. Gardiner cut down the lead to one goal on a high one on the outside, and it looked as if the Frenchmen would tie it up and perhaps win out. In their anxiety to do this the whole Canadian team moved up on the firing line, and in a face-off from Lalonde with the goal, Doherty took possession of the puck, and outskating all his checks, went thru and enched the game.
