

is talking about it, and everybody is quite right.—Spectator (London.)

THOUSAND.

PRICE 15 CENTS.

THE GERMAN

CONQUEST OF ENGLAND

IN 1875,

AND BATTLE OF DORKING;

OR, REMINISCENCES OF A VOLUNTEER,

DESCRIBING THE

ARRIVAL OF THE GERMAN ARMADA—DESTRUCTION OF
THE BRITISH FLEET—THE DECISIVE BATTLE OF
DORKING—CAPTURE OF LONDON—DOWN-
FALL OF THE ENGLISH EMPIRE.

BY AN EYEWITNESS, IN 1925.

(Reprinted from Blackwood's Magazine.)

Toronto :

ADAM, STEVENSON & CO.

1871.

The verisimilitude is wonderful. Nothing like it outside of Robinson Crusoe.—Journal of Commerce.

The most remarkable Magazine Article of this generation.—Evening Telegraph.

As natural in its touches as can well be conceived.—Pall Mall Gazette.