

THE NOVELS OF E. W. HORNUNG

MY LORD DUKE

"It is pleasant to turn to a real story by a real story-writer. Such is 'My Lord Duke.' . . . Its story is its own, both in plot and in characterization. It is a capital little novel."—The Nation.

$1.25

YOUNG BLOOD

"Whether Lowndes be entirely realized or not does not much matter: the conception of him is already a distinction. He is an adventurer of genius, but not huilt on the usual lines."—The Bookman.

$1.25

SOME PERSONS UNKNOWN

"The dramatic and tragic aspects of Australian life are treated by Mr. Hornung with that happy union of vigor and sympathy which has stood him in such good stead in his earlier novels."—London Spectator.

$1.25

In the Ivory Series. Each 16mo, 75 cents

THE BOSS OF TAROOMBA

"Remind us by their vividness and fantastic quality of Stevenson in some of his South Sea Island tales. . . . The hero is an uncommon creation even for fiction."—Chicago Times-Herald.

A BRIDE FROM THE BUSH

"Mr. E. W. Hornung is one of the most successful delineators of Bush life."—Chicago Tribune.

IRRALIE'S BUSHRANGER

"A capital little story of Australian love and adventure. There is no flagging in the press and stir of the story."—The Nation.

Charles Scribner's Sons, New York
