BREAKS AIR RECORD

American Aviator Ascends Over Nineteen Thousand Feet in Hydro-Airplane.

New York, Sept. 29.—The world's altitude record for a hydro-airplane carrying a passenger was broken today by Caleb S. Bragg, when he reached a height of 19,100 feet in a flight over Port Washington, N.Y. It was announced tonight by the American Flying Club. The machine was a Leaning monoplaner, equipped with a 300-horsepower motor. Fifty minutes were required for the ascent and 11 minutes for the descent, according to the official record. The former record for an airplane carrying a passenger was 12,000 feet, also made by Bragg, in 1917.

LACROSSE GOSSIP.

Orangeville's band of 300 rosters should certainly make themselves heard (if given a chance) at the Beach on Wednesday. They are coming down chock full of confidence that the intermediate laurels will winter at Orangeville.

Bracebridge are unable to make special train arrangements with the Grand Trunk, financial difficulties being in the way. Secretary Anderson, however, is getting his party of supporters together and will show you how to play it on the regular southbound express, so that the Bracebridge fans may journey to the city in time.

It is a long time since an intermediate championship final has roused as much interest locally as that to be staged tomorrow at the Beaches between Orangeville and Bracebridge. A member of the O.A.L.A. executive predicts that this will be one of the cleanest and speediest matches that has taken place here for many a day.

"That 'allence is golden" seems to be the password with Coach James Collins of the Bracebridge squad. When asked last week as to what he thought his chances were for the championship, all he would reply was, "There Wednesday and we'll show you how to play lacrosse."

The O.A.L.A. executive will meet at the Empress Hotel tomorrow night to deal with the Maitland protest against St. Catharines in the juvenile series game played across the lake a week ago. Members will please accept this as notice of the meeting.

PENNY ANTE

The Times, in a leading article, draws a parallel between the railway strike in England and the experience of Winnipeg, and says: "For the public the lesson of Winnipeg is the lesson of this strike, energetic self-defence, and for the government, unwavering firmness and determination in the quarrel forced upon them."

ABSTAINERS TELL EVILS OF LIQUOR

Ward 3 "No" Representatives Meet in Westminster Presbyterian Church.

In the interests of the referendum a meeting of ward three representatives was held in Westminster Presbyterian Church, Bloor street, last night, Rev. James Little in the chair.

The first speaker was Rev. Lloyd Smith, who said that considering what it had to build on the campaign, the Ontario temperance act was very cleverly devised. All should do what they could to fight it. If the opponents succeed, said the speaker, it will open the flood gates of ruin to sweep upon the land.

Mr. Smith quoted Dr. Hastings as saying that of all the drug habits alcohol is the worst. The speaker also stated that scientific investigation had shown that alcohol is a poison, even in small quantities. In a trial of soldiers with and without 4 per cent. beer it was found that they fired 30 per cent. less in slow and 50 per cent. less in quick firing than without the beer. Mr. Smith quoted a Catholic priest as saying that alcohol was a curse to mankind, it crushed women's hearts and sent more souls to hell than anything else. The speaker urged all to do their duty on October 20.

It has been said by opponents, Mr. Robert Holmes pointed out, that prohibition cannot be forced upon large cities. He showed that Detroit, which had voted wet, but went dry when 36 out of 48 states gave in its favor, prohibition was now a great prohibition success, and that the board of commissioners had recently declared that "we would as soon think of returning to slavery as to the old conditions. Portland and Seattle have the same success."

"It is a lie," said Mr. Holmes, "to say there is more drink than when seven-sevenths liquor stores were filled." The speaker laid stress on the 500-000 boys in Ontario who do not know the taste of liquor. These are the country's best asset, and must be saved, was his conclusion.

Rev. Peter Bryce spoke to the meeting on the method in which the campaign should be conducted. The organization had covered the city and added 21,480 names to the voters' list. Open-air meetings and meetings in Masey Hall and in wards would be held between this and Oct. 15. To the 1000 at a meeting, it was the hope to impart enthusiasm to the cause.

Arguments against the need for alcohol for the flu were that in Montreal, where there was liquor, 33 died, while in Toronto there were 2059, and allowing even for greater population of Montreal, Toronto came off best. Regarding the soldiers' vote, he did not believe that they would all vote for a return of old conditions.

In answer to a question, it was explained by a man in the audience that for medical purposes alcohol would be sold by the government, but not under speculation prices, as it was during the flu.

FAVOR GRAND DUCHES.

Luxembourg, Sept. 29.—Unofficial reports reiterate that the vote of the women in the plebiscite exceeded that of the men, thus assuring the retention of Grand Duchesse Charlotte as ruler. The attitude of the women regarding the economic alliance with France or Belgium is believed to have been generally similar to that of the men in the same family.

DRAWS WINNIPEG PARALLEL.

Uncle Wiggily and the Ice Cream

BY HOWARD R. GARIS.
Copyright, 1919, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

"Dear me! There must be something the matter," said Uncle Wiggily Longears, the bunny rabbit gentleman, as he came down stairs in his hollow stump bungalow one morning. "Nurse Jane isn't here to get breakfast."

That was very much like a surprise party, for you see Nurse Jane, the muskrat lady housekeeper, was almost always up early. And when Uncle Wiggily came happily down stairs on his red, white and blue striped rheumatism crutch, this time there was no Miss Fussy Wuzzy boiling the turnip pancakes, and sprinkling rose leaf sauce over them, or baking some carrot shortcake with sassafras trimming for the bunny's breakfast.

"I wonder why Nurse Jane isn't up yet?" thought Uncle Wiggily. "I think I'll call her down stairs." So he gave a jolly shout and asked:

"Is anything the matter, Nurse Jane?"

"Answered the muskrat lady housekeeper. 'I think I have the eye zootie. I can't get up. I can't cook your breakfast, and you'd better go for the bunny's breakfast.'"

"I will," said Uncle Wiggily, and away he hopped over the fields and thru the woods to where the animal doctor had his eight and nine cent store.

"I'll be right over to see Nurse Jane," said Dr. Possum. "You go back and get yourself some breakfast. You may have to go to the five and six cent store for medicine."

So Uncle Wiggily hopped back to his hollow stump bungalow, and after telling Nurse Jane that Dr. Possum would soon come and make her better, the bunny rabbit gentleman got his own breakfast.

He tried himself a piece of lemon pie with cherry pudding hemmed on around the edges and by that time Dr. Possum had come.

"Ho! Hum! Let me see," said the animal doctor, as he felt of Nurse Jane's nose. "It's quite hot," he went on. "It needs cooling. Ice cream is what she must have." You know when a dog or other animal is ill, their nose gets hot, which shows they have a fever.

"Ice cream for Nurse Jane!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "I'll hop right on. It's the eight and nine cent store."

"Correct," said Dr. Possum. "The sooner she has ice cream the better she'll be."

So over the fields and thru the woods hopped Uncle Wiggily Longears, and he found Nurse Jane had run on his paw which were his mittens, he didn't mind the cold ice cream very much, and he soon hopped on with it to Nurse Jane. And before noon it had cooled her nose and made her all better.

"You had better hop along fast with that ice cream, Uncle Wiggily," said Billie. "It's a hot day and the cold cream will melt fast. And I hope it doesn't freeze your paws."

"I hope so, too," spoke Uncle Wiggily.

FINE SEASON OF CRICKET JUST CLOSED

ANNUAL MEETING OF T. & D. NEXT WEEK

The constitution of the Toronto and District Cricket Association calls for the annual meeting to be held the first week of October, and accordingly this year the meeting will be held on October 7, 1919, at the Templar's Hall, Queen and Dovercourt, at 8.30 p.m.

As is customary, general meetings of the association, all cricketers and those interested in the game are invited to hear at their meeting on Tuesday that the old members, pass many pleasant hours during the winter months.

Cricket has passed thru a strenuous year. Differences of opinion on cricket topics have arisen, and occasioned many heated debates. The only demonstration of the interest that is being maintained in the game and any sports place that are open can easily be healed during the social evenings at the Templar's Hall.

From a playing point of view the season has been most enjoyable, the grounds have been better looked after by the Parks Department, and the fact that grass has been regularly cut, has been very much appreciated.

Some very promising material is being developed among the boys, which will be of service to the senior clubs, and the earnestness displayed by the new clubs above mentioned augurs well for the future.

The new executive will have plenty of scope for doing useful work at its meetings. One thing especially should have their immediate attention, and that is the question of improving the standard of the grounds.

Co-operation in representative games is necessary and can best be brought about in one accord and see to it that they are not put off any of the grounds that are being played there. The attention of the authorities should be drawn to this without delay.

Owing to unavoidable circumstances the present secretary will not offer himself for re-election and a new man will have to be found for this position. This should be decided as there is a plenty of good material among the members from whom to choose a capable successor.

Cricketers must combine their resources and no one should stand aside, those who think that better results can be obtained by different methods, let them come along and show their "grain of salt" is worth a ton of pity."

There is likely to be some competition as to who will go to Winnipeg next season to bring back the Ross Robertson cup to Toronto. Every player in the club should be interested in challenging, and whatever club has to make the journey it should have the whole-hearted support of the members.

So come along to the general meeting and make a bigger effort for the good of the game.

MEET MISS SELINA SWAN!

"You! Wow! Skow! Wow! Oh, this is the picnic for me. I didn't know freezing cold winter was coming so soon. I must run home and get out my fur coat." And away he ran, dropping the box of ice cream.

"Well, I'm glad he's gone," said Uncle Wiggily, as he picked up the box. "I was afraid for a moment that he might bite my nose." Then, as Uncle Wiggily had run on his paw which were his mittens, he didn't mind the cold ice cream very much, and he soon hopped on with it to Nurse Jane. And before noon it had cooled her nose and made her all better.

"You teach us that ice cream has its uses, and if the autumn doesn't run over the lollypop stick and make it look flat, like a tried egg, I'll tell you more about Uncle Wiggily and the potato roast."

She's going to be a very famous personage one of these days. She, perhaps, won't travel far on her appearance, altho even on that point she is not quite without interest, is she?

You've got to know Selina to appreciate her and her whimsical ways and sayings. Once you get to know her you'll like her. Watch for her regular appearance in The Toronto Daily World next week and see if you don't.

fortunately, Mr. Dymond joined the association too late in the season to register the necessary ten scores, otherwise he would undoubtedly have taken first place.

The outdoor season has been a very success. But one, and, soon as the October matches have been shot off, preparations will at once be made to conducting the indoor season. The following shows the list of scores, the possible being 1050 points:

1. S. Dean	1005
2. W. A. Hawkins	999
3. G. W. Bull	998
4. Lieut.-Col. Elliott	988
5. R. Edmond	982

Close of Season FOR THE RIFLEMEN

The usual competitions run by the Irish Rifle Association during the summer months ended with the shoot last Saturday. For deciding the winners, each competitor's best ten scores of the available sixteen Saturdays were taken, and useful and valuable prizes will be presented to the winners of each class.

These prizes were kindly donated by Toronto business firms and influential citizens who interest themselves in the sport of rifle shooting, and realize the importance of improving the standard of marksmanship amongst civilians.

Whilst the individual shooting was not up to the usual mark during the early part of the season, a great improvement was shown at the closing shoots, and many new shots have shown the benefit of their training with the association. S. Dean, the winner of the Lowndes Co. prize, has shot consistently well through the season, and has proved himself to be a first-class marksman.

W. A. Hawkins, the well-known rifleman, gets second place, which carries with it the Controller Maguire prize. G. W. Bull was only one point behind, and takes the B. W. Ezzy contribution.

Lieut.-Col. A. Elliott of Blesley fame was fourth, winning the donation of Capt. John Phillips, whilst R. Edmond lands the fifth prize, presented by T. G. Marrett. The B. class winners have not yet been determined, and prizes from the following await distribution: Manning Cold Storage, Lieut.-Col. Elliott, Jas. Hillis and G. W. Bull.

It is only fair to mention that W. L. Dymond put in eight zeroes totalling 800 points, a remarkable performance. Unfortunately, Mr. Dymond joined the association too late in the season to register the necessary ten scores, otherwise he would undoubtedly have taken first place.
