Rev. Dr. Dickie Says Solution of Political, Industrial Unrest Is in God.

"The great war now over was but history's latest protest against man's failure and destiny's latest warning that humanity shall never be blessed unless it has first taken possession of God's kingdom," detlared Rev. Dr. Dickie of Chatham, speaking in the First Presbyterian Church yesterday morning at a joint thanksgiving service of all the Presbyterian churches in the In the light of the text "Seek ye first

In the light of the text "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and then all these things will be added unto you," the speaker pointed out how it was not until after three great days of humiliation and prayer on May 30 in the United States, on June 13 in Canada and on August 4 in Great Britain; that the tide of battle was turned to victory for the allies, and the great arch enemy downed. downed. Forget Mercies Easily.

Is it not most criminal for us to think in the midst of the dangers which now threaten us, from political and industrial unrest in the world, that there is for this no solution by God today?

"My plea is for national dedication, because this is the path along, which we shall be led to success. The fact that the church leads us along this way, does not lessen the calling. I do not does not lessen the calling. I do not see that it is a disadvantage that the great leaders of this movement are churchmen, whose lives are dedicated to God. When the minister begins to churchmen, whose lives are dedicated to God. When the minister begins to speak of the new social order, when he considers industrial, social or political problems, some people think that he has gone out of his sphere. I think not. 'Tis true his interpretation of such things may be inadequate, but he has not gone out of his proper sphere, for was not the aim of Christ to teach men to live in their proper sphere?'

for was not the aim of Christ to teach men to live in their proper sphere?

Christ's Teachings Practical.

Every age has made its new interpretation of the teachings of Christ. And I believe the discovery of the new age will be that His teachings were not idealistic, but practical. Hithertochristianity has been regarded as the distant goal of humanity. Now christianity is regarded as the one reality of the present age. The great forward movement, or inter-church campaign the present age. The great forward movement, or inter-church campaign now beginning aims at christianizing the world. No lie is so vicious and artful as a half-truth. True, the Hearst Government placed the mon-opoly of the dispensing of liquors in Ontario in the hands of the medical pro-fession, thereby paying the profession a very high compliment by thus express-ing their implicit confidence in the medical doctors of the province, that they would not abuse the privilege thus conferred on thm. I may say this arrangment was imposed on the profession without their foreknowledge or consent, an arrangement which they accepted an arrangement which they accepted under protest, yet willing to carry out, pro tem., without fear or favor. True, also, this arrangement made it possible for the wholesale dispensing of liquor to obtain, granting a currupt and purchasable medical fraternity, but will Mr. Wollatt dare to say that the profession is corrupt and purchasable acceptance. will Mr. Wollatt dare to say that the profession is corrupt and purchasable? Mr. Wollatt's statements are intended to convey the impression that under the O. T. Almost three hundred people of the try.

What would happen if the farmers went on strike? What would happen if the farmer worked but eight hours a day? To quote Peter McArthur: "What we need in the world today is the production of common sense."

And as the farms contain the major portion of that most desirable quality, they are not going to strike and they are still willing to put in two eighthour shifts a day, and all they ask is a chance for people to realize it, as they are dimly beginning to at last.

I am on a hundred and fifty acre farm, situated in one of the best grain-producing spots in Ontario. For help there is a man 55 years of age, a woman and a young girl. Hook around among my neighbors, and I find them similarly situated. On an average there is not one man to every one hundred access of land. Help is out of the question.
