Sunday. The use of cabs for the conveying of ministers and teachers to the Toronto prisons on Sundays is both expensive and inefficient. Here we have an admission in the report itself that those who undertake the Sunday services frequently do not keep their appiontments. The absence of street car facilities is largely responsible for this shortage of teachers. We learn that there are 46 regular teachers for the Central Prison Sunday school. The average attendance per Sunday is 35 teachers. If a street car service were in operation on Sunday there would be no dearth of teachers in any of the prisons. Twelve dollars spent in street car service were in operation. The week and the cheap and ephemeral plank walk between the expensive and inefficient. Here we have the cheap and ephemeral plank walk walk for the cheap and ephemeral plank walk as 12-foot brick walk is just the thing that is required for the Island. The sand and water play havoc with the plank walks. A new walk will soon be required from Hanlam's Point up to the lighthouse. Brick is the material that should be used when this improvement is decided on. Hereafter nothing but brick should be used to fill in the devil strips throughout the city. This strip is but 3 feet wide. There is practically no wagon traffic over it. It is almost exclusively used by wheelmen. A considered for the Const. in the United States, but Canadian work ingmen are represented in the organization as well as Americans. Mr. P. J. Loughrin is an executive officer of the Federation, holding the position of Canadian organizer. For some time back Mr. Loughrin has taken an active and prominent part in the movement to have an export duty placed on Canadian pulp wood. He has argued the question from a workingman's point of view, showing the great importance of the industry in the districts where pulp wood is obtained. At Sault Ste. Mario, for instance, where Mr. Loughrin resides, hundreds of workmen are employed in the pulp wood industry. These men are liable to lose their situations if legislative action is not taken to prevent the Canadian pulp industry from annihilation. The big pulp mill at the Soo has already been obliged to lay off many of its hands on account of the chilling effect the Dingley triff has on our pulping industry. Now Mr. Loughrin has been exerting himself to arouse public attention to the fact that the Canadian pulp industry is threatened with extinction unless something is done to offset the Dingley tariff. Mr. Loughrin's solution of the problem is the same as that recommended by Boards of Trade all over Canada and by almost every one who has given the subject adequate consideration. His proposal is to impose an export duty of $2 or $3 per cord on pulp wood. Such a duty would have the effect of keeping the Canadian h pose an export duty of $2 or $3 per cord on pulp wood. Such a duty would have the effect of keeping the Canadian mills in operation and of reinstating the Canadians who have been thrown out of work by reason of the Dingley tariff.

have these registrations been used as a means for subjecting citizens to the tax. No individual was made liable for the poll tax because he registered when the last vote was taken on the Sunday car question. The same thing is true of the registrations that preceded the provincial general election three years ago and the Federal general election last year. These registrations are used merely for the particular purpose for which they were prepared and for no other. Let no one be scared by the mean insinuations of The News.

Even if it were true that registration might subject the individual to the poly tax, is this any reason why he should refuse to register? Certainly not. On the contrary, it is a privilege that every young man should highly

An extra staff of clerks for the Queen street store.

We make every provision for the many buyers. You've taken us by surprise lately—didn't look for such tremendous selling on the street that your store neighbor proclaimed to be "going down hill fast," There never was such a shoe business on Queen street before, or the history of West End trade had been different. You can remember when Queen and Yonge fought for business supremacy. Yonge street won.

Rather than anuse us, defame us and try to do us injury by false statements, the West End shoe menshould send a deputation to thank Guinane for showing that it is still possible to do a big business on Queen street—simply by selling at close cut prices, by direct buying from makers, and by letting everybody know of your abilities and facilities.
