Q. O. R. TO RAISE DEPOT BATTALIONS

Change in Policy of Militia Department Indicated by Latest Order.

RAILWAYMEN'S UNIT

Recruiting Starts for First Overseas Section of Skilled Railway Employes.

Word that the Queen's Own Regiment has been authorized to raise an active service battalion was received from Ottawa last night, but the authorization stated it is to be a "depot battalion," to train and furnish drafts, presumably for Q. O. B. units already overseas. It will be the first "depot" infantry battalion to be raised in Canada. The announcement is important, as it indicates a change in policy of the militia department, and may mean that all future infantry battalions to be organized in the Dominion will be be organized in the Dominion will be "depot" draft-giving units. This change of method was predicted in a despatch from Ottawa appearing in The Toronto Sunday World of Nov. 19, which stated that instead of creating new overseas battalions, reinforcing the state of the convited of the c new overseas battanons, reinforcing drafts would be recruited.

It was stated by Q. O. R. officers last night that their recruiting campaign for men for the depot battalion will commence next week. It is thought not unlikely that an affort will be made by the Q. O. R. officers.

will be made by the Q. O. R. officers to have the new unit changed from a depot battalion into an overseas battalion, with a battalion number.

On the nearly $5,000 recruits enlisted in Toronto military divisional area since the start of the war, 60,659 have gone overseas. This information was announced yesterday afternoon by the military authorities. The 60,659 troops were made up as follows: First contingent, 7027; Cavalry, 1857; Artillery, 2915; Engineers, 658; Cyclists, 780; Infantry, 39,860; Signalers, 508; Army Service Corps, 2442; Army Medical Corps, 1193; Veterinary Corps, 62; Infantry officers and drafts, 149; miscellaneous, 3718.

In Control Daily. The British Government, thru the committee on enemy supplies, were in daily control of the output and des-tination of every pound of the Inter-national Nickel Company product that went overseas or to an American plant, The British admiralty had control of all the product of that plant, and they were in the best position to and they were in the best position to know to whom the product should go.

The assertion was made that in seven months 2,400,000 pounds of refined nickel had gone abroad, not to Great Britain or her allies. This, he said was not true. The quotation was said to have been made from the American Government returns, but this was not shown by those returns. He had the returns for the end of August for a period of eight months, which gave the export to France, Italy, Russian Empire, the United Kingdom, the Netherlands, and other countries. He rather thought that the allies were composed of more than four countries. What about Russia in Asia? He gave figures of shipments to Russia in Asia, a total of nearly a million pounds. Nothing About Deutschland. As by-product, about a hundred ons a month were refined in the nonth on the average over which canada had no control. He did not think it necessary to speak about the nickel cargo on the Deutschland. The regrettable fact was that a commer-cial submarine could get across, but it was an exigency, a development of warfare. He quoted an engineering journal, which estimated that 375 tons was the total capacity of the Deutschland, and agreed with Mr. Kemp's estimate that 75 fons was about her possible capacity of nickel. He disagreed with the amount of nickel-steel that 375 tons of refined nickel would make, quoting as his figures 12,000 tons, composed of three per

Regarding the Henry Merton Company, he admitted and explained that company's conviction, but stated that it had been recognized, and all the German stockholders had been bought out. Their stock now was held by British citizens. It was the largest metal house in the world, and the British Government had used and still were using it as their agency. He quoted from The Times the result of its investigation, in which it was stated that 85 per cent. of the stock is now held by British-born or naturalized British subjects, the remaining 15 per cent. by those of neutral and allied countries; and by an article of the company, in case of war with British ownership.
