BRITISH PARLIAMENT OPENS FOR AN EVENTFUL SESSION

ATTORNEY-GENERAL DISCLOSES CAMPAIGN OF LIBERTY LEAGUE

Raney Opens His Fight for a Seat in East Wellington Riding.

THE RACE TRACK ISSUE

Special to The Toronto World.
Fergus, Feb. 10.—Attorney-General Raney's surprise attack in opening the by-election campaign in East Wellington here tonight was the following letter, which he read to a crowded audience in the town hall:

"Citizens Liberty League
"233 College street,
"Toronto, Jan. 28, 1920.
"Dear Sir—In view of the coming election, in which Mr. Raney, I believe, will seek to obtain a seat somewhere in Ontario, this league has taken into account his continuous and uncompromising attitude towards race tracks, and his stand on prohibition, and we have decided that we must oppose him at the polls. This will entail an expenditure of about $20,000, and we are asking our friends to help. We will appreciate it if you can see your way to contribute. Thanking you in advance,
"Yours very truly,
(Signed) "L. C. Carruthers,
"General secretary."

"I have no knowledge," continued Mr. Raney, "whether a similar letter was sent by the Liberty League to the distillers and brewers. Neither have I any knowledge whether a similar letter was sent to the race-track people and the brewers and distillers with respect to the premier's candidature in Halton. But Premier Drury is as much the same port as myself, and you can draw your own inference as to those things, and particularly from what is happening at this moment in Halton.

Stands Behind O.T.A.
"I would be quite willing to assume full responsibility for the advance of prohibition legislation in Ontario, but I am compelled to admit that my share has been a very humble one. The simple question for the electors of East Wellington is: Does the fact that the attorney-general is in sympathy, very hearty sympathy, with the objects of the O.T.A. disqualify him for that office? That is the issue raised by Mr. Carruthers' letter."
Turning to the race-track issue he said: "I suppose they would equally condemn the silk passing thru this port."

COMPLETE TIE-UP OF U. S. RAILWAYS IS NOW THREATENED

If Trainmen Walk Out, the Effect on Transportation Will Be Serious.

WILSON TO TAKE HAND

Washington, Feb. 10.—President Wilson is expected to make an effort to avert the threatened strike of railroad employes of the country who are pressing the railroad administration for further wage increases. The entire situation was placed before the president today in a long memorandum from the director-general of railroads. It is expected here that he will back up Mr. Hines.

Officials of the railroad administration felt tonight that the situation was extremely critical, not only as regards the shippers, who have decided to go out on strike Feb. 17, if their demands are not met, but also with respect to 2,000,000 railroad employes throughout the country. Renewed conferences tomorrow with union leaders are expected to have some definite result.

Most insistent among the union leaders here is W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. He has impressed upon officials the imminence of a trainmen's strike if a settlement is not reached. The administration has been given notice of cancellation of their present contract by the trainmen Feb. 23. A strike vote is said to have shown a large majority in favor of drastic action.

If Refused, Keep Holland and Germany Out, Says French Legal Expert.
Paris, Feb. 10.—The only way out of the present extradition tangle is to demand the delivery of the accused Germans in the name of the league of nations and refuse Germany and Holland admission to the league until the persons demanded are delivered, according to the view taken by Georges Scelle, of the law faculty of the University of Dijon, in an article in L'Information.

Premier, at Opening of Parliament, Speaks on Policy Toward Russia—No Information Regarding Ireland—Urges Increased Production—The King's Speech.

London, Feb. 10.—The speeches which the new session of the house of commons was launched today will not make history. Mr. Lloyd George, William Adamson and Sir Donald Maclean spoke for the government. Laborites and Liberals, respectively.

The premier gave a long explanation of the government's Russian policy, but refused to be drawn by the other speakers on the topic of revising certain "workable" features of the peace treaty.

Dealing with the burning question of economy, the premier recommended the familiar expedient of increased production. His remarks on Ireland gave no new information regarding the measure which is soon to be introduced.

Colonel Sidney Peel, Coalition Unionist, who made the reply to the address from the throne, said: "It will be a grave disappointment to us if the United States finds itself unable to take part in the work of reconstruction. But she must be master in her own house, as we are in ours."

Sir Donald Maclean, urging revision of the peace treaty, said: "One of the essentials of the guarantee was the fact of increasing production agreed to it, that the signature of the president of the United States was appended. It does not now look as though this is going to be honored. I only hope I am wrong," he added, as Mr. Lloyd George indicated his dissent.

Must Expect Discontent.
Replying to general criticisms of the government's policy made by William Adamson, Sir Donald Maclean and others, he demanded especially the revision of the Versailles peace treaty. Premier Lloyd George declared that it would be impossible in a single speech to deal with all the questions raised. He said, however, that he would speak after the excitement of the great war nobody could expect anything but a steady and dignified content, and even a certain measure of dissatisfaction.

Alluding to Ireland, the premier asked, "Mr. Adamson meant by 'self-determination' that the majority of the Irish people demanded a republic he would give it. Unless Mr. Adamson meant that, said the premier, his talk of self-determination was dishonest. There were murders and assassinations 'of the most cowardly and despicable kind in Ireland' and the premier told his audience, and he asked whether the member thought the government should withdraw its troops and leave the assassins in charge in Ireland."

Declaring that the duty of the government was to maintain law and order in Ireland, the premier turned to the high cost of living. He said, was attributable to the depreciation of money and not to profiteering. The only remedy was to increase production, he declared.

Replying to Sir Donald Maclean's inquiry, the premier said he was glad to be able to say that the coming year would balance, and more than balance.

Cannot Crush Bolshevism.
Dealing at length with the situation in Russia, Mr. Lloyd George said he agreed with the view that Russia could not be restored without putting Russia, with all her strength and resources, into circulation.

Bolshevism was possibly efficient, said the premier, but it was not democracy, and Russia must be restored under an anti-Bolshevik regime.

"Bolshevism cannot be crushed by force of arms," continued the premier. "I held that opinion a year ago, but my advice, tendered on that assumption, failed. The war was decided. It was necessary to give the anti-Bolsheviks a chance to recover Russia, but they failed. The failure was not due to lack of equipment, but to more fundamental causes."

The premier contended that the suggested "ring of fire" to crush the Bolsheviki was impossible, because it was doubtful whether Finland would consent, and the Baltic states he pointed out, were making peace with Russia, while Rumania was really engaged in watching the Hungarian front, and the Japanese were declining toward the idea. Moreover, he added, neither France, the United States, Italy nor Great Britain was willing to provide the funds.

Can Save Russia by Trade.
"Until," added the premier, "they are assured that the Bolsheviki have dropped the methods of barbarism in favor of civilized government, no civilized community in the world is prepared to make peace with them. Further, there is no established government possessing the right to speak for the whole of European Russia. We failed to restore Russia to sanity by force. I believe we can save her by trade."

Commerce has a sobering influence. There is nothing to fear from a Bolshevik invasion of surrounding countries or the middle east, because the Bolsheviki cannot organize a powerful army. I believe that trading will bring to an end the ferocity, rapine and cruelties of Bolshevism more surely than any other method, and Europe badly needs what Russia
