Figure In Norris Trial

THE scene of many a hard-fought legal battle in the past, the Travis county courthouse, Austin, Texas, is in the limelight again with the Rev. J. Frank Norris of Fort Worth, Texas, answering a charge of fatally shooting D. E. Chipps, wealthy Fort Worth lumberman. Last July 17 Chipps was killed when he appeared in the minister's study to remonstrate against alleged attacks on friends. No rris will enter a plea of self-defense, it is believed, as he has said he acted to protect him self. The trial will be held before Judge James R. Hamilton, upper right, who led an investigation, several months ago, into the activities of the Ku Klux Klan in Texas. J. D. Moore, district attorney of Travis county, will head the prosecution. SEEKS Lambeth Conference Opening P. E. I. MAN MAKES

BY HERBERT BAILEY British United Press

ONDON, Jan. 11-What is described as the "greatest crisis in the history of the Church of England" will be faced tomorrow when bishops assemble at Lambeth Palace to complete their consideration of the proposed changes in the prayer book, concerning which Evangelicals and Anglo-Catholics are hopelessly divided. The Anglo-Catholics are said to be decirous of retaining many forms of the prayer book which the Protestants declare were ejected at the time of the Reformation, and to have threatened that if these forms are abolished they will

The Bishops of Birmingham, Duram, Norwich, Worcester and Ripon are on the side of the Evangelicals; the Bishops of Truro, London, St. Albans, Chester and Southwell are on the side of the Anglo-Catholics, while the Bishops of Manchester and Winchester will, it is said, vote for a reservation

The Archbishop of Canterbury is striving to the utmost to secure a compromise, but his efforts in this direction are not regarded optimistically, as much bitterness has already manifested itself in heated debates whenever this question is Throughout the entire church there is the greatest anxiety over the outcome of this conference, which will continue until January

$2,000,000 In Window Fails To Halt Run

NEW YORK, Jan. 11 - Two million dollars in cash was piled up like so much waste paper in the show-window of a Broadway bank yesterday afternoon to convince a besieging army of depositors that the institution was solvent.

The unparalleled display of ready money caused the eyes of the besiegers to grow like saucers, but it did not stop the run. The gesture to stop a run on the Broadway Central Bank, that began Saturday morning when news that three officials had been arrested for embezzlement of $250,000, did not have an immediate effect. The scramble for ready cash continued.
