INFLUENCE OF THE MOVIES

(Ottawa Journal)
Thomas A. Edison, called by the United States Government to give evidence in an inquiry as to the influence of motion pictures on public opinion, confidently declared the pictures to be the most potent influence now bearing on public opinion. He stated as confidently that the sphere of the movies would expand until they replaced books as the medium for teaching.

On many subjects Mr. Edison's knowledge and wisdom are great. Perhaps he knows more about the mechanical side of motion pictures than any other. He has made valuable discoveries in his laboratory. But laboratory work cannot qualify him to speak with infallible authority on the question of the influencing of public opinion. His absorption in scientific work would rather tend to prevent his forming a very careful judgment on such a subject.

Few people would agree with Mr. Edison that the movie has become the most influential force in moulding public opinion. Most observers would still credit the printed word with greater power. In fact, the movies still must have the assistance of the printed word to make themselves comprehensible. Neither will it be believed that text books as agencies of education are to become obsolete. There are many things that cannot be taught by pictures.

The movies do exert a subtle influence on the popular mind and are a good medium of propaganda. Their principal field, however, remains that of entertainment, wherein the fault with which they are most commonly charged, that of distortion, does not do much harm.

Sole Owner of Yankees.

Colonel Jacob Ruppert, president of the New York Yankees, has acquired the half interest of Colonel T. L. Huston and on June 1 will become sole owner of the club and the new stadium. It is estimated that Colonel Huston received from one and a half million to two million dollars for his share.

Financial Assistance

Reports from various officers were dealt with at a meeting of the Garrison Officers' Mess, held last evening. It was decided to grant $100 to the Garrison Sport Club and $50 to the Garrison baseball team.

TURF

Ottawa, May 22.—That the big Canadian stables will be well represented in today's racing at the Connaught Park Jockey Club, which is to take place at the local park, May 29 to June 5, is now an assured fact. Commander J. K. L. Ross has written the Connaught Park management that he will send his entire string of about fifteen horses, to the park, and Edward Seagram has asked that twenty-five horses be placed at his disposal.

Edward Whitney of New York for the Connaught Park Jockey Club meeting will attract the cream of the thoroughbred racing there at the meetings of the Quebec Racing Association.
