WIFE OF RHODE ISLAND'S GOVERNOR.
WHO ARRANGES TO AID JOBLESS WOMEN.

Mrs. Beekman, wife of Governor R. Livingston Beekman, of Rhode Island, is making her influence for good felt in the State of which her husband was recently elected Governor, and, like her husband, she already is popular with all classes of people. Her latest effort is a novel movement arranged at her home, in Providence, for the benefit of jobless women of that city. The scheme is to hold a big auction on January 27 to obtain a nucleus for a fund for unemployed women. Many women will give articles to be auctioned, and merchants are expected to contribute heavily so that the sale may last several days. Nearly all the organizations of Rhode Island club women are identified with the scheme.

ST. JOHN NEEDS CO-OPERATION

Lack of this spirit great weak point, opinion of Board of Trade Secretary.

To the Editor of The Standard.

Sir,—If I was asked to place my finger on what I considered the weak spot in St. John's anatomy, I would say the lack of co-operation, of harmonized effort. Of earnest endeavor there is no lack, but much of it is dissipated by reason of the absence of a properly co-ordinated plan. We are all pulling, but we are not all pulling the same way. The City Council is not the harmonious body it should be; there is a lack of co-operation between the City Council and the Board of Trade that ought not to exist; the benevolent organizations are numerous and each is trying to solve for itself the problem of its existence.

If this lack of co-operation could be removed; if the members of the council, agreeing among themselves, were to enter into a closer working agreement with the Board of Trade; if the various benevolent and philanthropic enterprises of the city could be banded together into a body of benevolence, a great deal of dissipated effort might be saved and better results achieved.

I believe that a closer alliance between the elected representatives of the city and the men who are banded together to promote the business interests of the city would be the very best thing that could happen to the city.
In advocating this alliance I do not mean that the Board of Trade should assume any of the functions of the commissioners, or usurp any of their prerogatives, or relieve them of any of their responsibility to the present and future of the city. They should be in a position to assist the commissioners in working out city problems.

The recent public demand for a revision of the civic estimates is only a proof to my mind of the necessity for an arrangement such as I have outlined. Had there been that co-operation between the two bodies that there should have been, a way might have been worked out whereby the grants for sorely-needed philanthropic enterprises could have been continued, without adding materially to the present taxation or without starving any of the public services, and we might, perhaps, have heard less of the failure of the commission form of government.

Of recent and the like the commissioners would have better understood the temper and desires of the people, and the people would have better realized the difficulties which beset the path of the commissioners. From a lengthy association with municipal bodies, I have learned that most of the misunderstandings and misconceptions that arise between the people and the men who, for the time, govern them, spring from a lack of knowledge of the true position of affairs. This lack of knowledge begets dissatisfaction and very frequently unjust suspicion against men whose motives are wholly unselfish and honest.

While the recent agitation has been productive of much good in awakening the people from the apathy into which they had fallen, it has not by any means settled the problems which confront the citizens. It has only shifted the responsibility from one shoulder to the other.

The development of our material interests, the beautifying of our city, the suppression of unnecessary noise, and the like, while they are all very good and we should strive to attain them, are small in comparison with some of the social problems which clamor for adjustment and which have to do with the most vital things of life.
We may boast, and with good reason, that we have a City Beautiful so far as its natural environment is concerned, but we are far, very far, from being a City Perfect. We cannot hope to attain perfection, but we must strive for it, and the striving will make of us better citizens. Our community problems must be solved, not only in their relation to the tax accounts, but in their large relation to the good name and character of our city—and a proper solution must be found for them. To reach this solution more must be applied thought and co-operation on the part of the leaders of the community—the city rulers, the Board of Trade, the people who have to do with the benevolence of the city.
This co-operation should be willing and spontaneous.

This war is teaching us many lessons. It is bringing us closer together in thought and in action; it is leading us to truer conceptions of the values of the things which go to make up life; it is teaching us self-sacrifice; it is impressing upon us the need of action to our fellows; above all, it is teaching us the great lesson of organization.
Without organization we cannot hope to defeat our national enemies; without organization we cannot win the industrial and trade triumphs which should be ours when the war is over;
without organization we cannot hope to satisfactorily and permanently solve the civic and philanthropic problems which await solution.

In making this appeal, I might add that these are my personal views, which I feel that as a citizen of St.
John, and as one who is interested in its welfare, I have a right to express.

Yours truly,
R. E. ARMSTRONG.

DIG GAME PLentiful IN NEW BRUNSWICK

A. E. O'Leary, Chief Game Warden, states Guides all report a large increase — Statistics of game shot last season—Preventing forest fires.

Nearly 4,700 of big game, including moose, deer, caribou and bears were shot in the province last year, according to A. E. O'Leary, chief game warden who was in St. John's recently.
The following shows the quantity of game shot in each county:

County	Moose	Deer	Caribou	Bears
Albert	110	215	0	3
Carleton	65	405	0	0
Charlotte	90	120	0	0
Gloucester	77	53	11	0
Kings	105	80	1	0
Kent	131	188	0	0
Madawaska	43	237	168	0
Northumberland	337	528	168	0
Queens	165	192	18	5
Restigouche	56	81	5	0
Sunbury	135	165	7	0
St. John	62	40	0	0
Westmorland	161	205	3	0
Victoria	35	102	1	0
York	159	285	6	0
Totals	1737	2705	231	8

"Game has been plentiful," Mr. O' Leary stated. "The guides all report a large increase. There were not as many non-resident sportsmen as last season, owing to disturbed conditions caused by the war, but all who came were well satisfied with their luck."

Possibly the largest moose shot during the season was by City Norman Adelaide street, St. John, the antlers having a spread of 64 1/2 inches, with thirty points. Another monster was shot by Stephen Speight of Musquash, his moose having a spread of sixty-three inches with thirty points.

Hunting Accidents
One thing marring the hunting season was the unusually large number of accidents. James Herbert Goggin of Millstream, Kings county, was killed by a shot from a rifle in the hands of his cousin, Henry Tokes. Arthur McCoey, Little River Road, York county, was shot dead by his younger brother, Karl Irving, Baltimore, Albert county, was shot by his cousin, Corey Irving, in mistake for a deer. Mariner J. Thingley of Riverside, Albert county, was shot and killed by John Douthright, J. Baptiste Vineau, St. Therese, Gloucester county, was killed by the accidental discharge of his gun. Frank Charlton of Campbellton was shot and lost a limb. David Long of Midland, Kings county, was accidentally shot by his chum, Wm. Roper.

In order to minimize shooting accidents Manitoba requires hunters to wear a white coat or sweater and cap, and Saskatchewan insists that those who hunt big game must wear a complete outer suit and cap of white. The latter province has recently made the penalty for accidentally shooting a person, a fine ranging from $500 to $1,000, or imprisonment, said the game warden.

Forest Fires

Mr. O'Leary who is provincial forest fire inspector reports that during 1914 there were thirty-three forest fires in the province. The total area burned was estimated at 4,881 acres, of which 3,345 were crown lands. Damages to crown lands was placed at $4-740 and to private property and granted lands at $4,688.

Carelessness of fishermen on holidays will account for half the forest fires in New Brunswick. Through the influence of the chief forester of the Dominion Government a very thorough system of fire patrol has been established railways subject to the Board of Railway Commissioners, but further measures of protection are needed along I. N. R. and I. C. R. If the Department of Forestry could be kept rights of way clean and burn up old grass dangers of fire from locomotives would be greatly lessened.

MILLIONS OF SALMON EGGS AT LITTLE RIVER HATCHERY

Hon. Mr. Hazen has taken keen personal interest in the Cultivation of Game Fish—Waters of Province to be restocked.

The hatchery built by Hon. J. D.
Hazen on the city property at Little River is proving a splendid success.
Last year 2,500,000 salmon and 250,000 trout eggs were cared for, and this year an even larger number, over 3,000,000 salmon and 300,000 trout eggs are now in the troughs, and are expected, according to reports of the department officials, to yield splendid results. Up to the present trout eggs have been secured from the province, but Hon. Mr. Hazen, who is taking a warm personal interest in the effort to cultivate the game fish of the province and restock the lakes and streams, has hopes hereafter of getting the eggs from local sources.
It is also planned to increase the efficiency of the hatchery by having tanks in which the young fish can be developed to the fingerling stage before they are sent away. The benefit of the work of salmon propagation is now so well recognized that the hatchery is being visited by hundreds of people from the more difficult work of shad propagation, although the officials have not been able to get all the eggs desired. A year or two more will pretty well demonstrate what the results are and if the work is not altogether successful, a close season for shad may have to be declared. The report on the hatchery sent to Hon. Mr. Hazen by his officials is as follows:

"I am pleased to report that 300,000 speckled trout eggs were laid down in splendid condition, in the St. John Hatchery on Saturday last, the 16th instant. The inspector reports that judging from their appearance on the following day he does not think the loss will exceed 2 per cent. These eggs were purchased from the Acton Trout Ponds of Acton, Ont., at 80c. per thousand. Last season's supply was purchased from the Acton Trout Club, of Inglewood, Ont., at $1.00 a thousand.

"Three million and sixty-four thousand salmon eggs from the St.
John Hatchery were also placed in this hatchery last November. They have developed satisfactorily and are in splendid condition at the present time."

"The above is as many eggs as should be carried in this hatchery.
The troughs could carry a few more if absolutely necessary; but if no more than the usual loss occurs, they will be conserved when the fry begin to hatch. Provision has been made to relieve this congestion by transferring some of the fry to outside tanks."

"The increase in the number of eggs in this hatchery over last year is shown below:

	Atlantic Salmon	Trout
1913	2,500,000	250,000
1914	3,000,000	300,000

(Sgd.) "J. A. RODD.

HINTS AT MISTAKE BY THE PATRICIA'S

Toronto, Jan. 25.—A somewhat mysterious statement appears in a letter from William Arnold, a former Toronto constable, who is with the Princess Patricia's regiment. It is these words:

"If the stay-at-home critics were to come out here and see some of the things we have to put up with, the weather conditions, etc., and take the same medicine that we are taking, they would not think hard things of us for making one little mistake."

No statement is given as to what the mistake was.

SUITS FOR GIANTS

"I have suits that would fit men of Goliath stature and build," said Mr. P. Condon of the Semi-Ready Store, and these are included in our big Consignment Sale.

"We show regularly suits for men who measure 42 and 44 inches around their chest, and we have suits and overcoats for 46-inch breast. One suit will fit a man who measures a full 50-inch chest measure, even though he stand and swell himself to a 52-inch man."

"There is more than a mere slogan in our statement that Semi-Ready fits the hard to fit," he said.

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE HOLD UNION MEETING

Interesting exercises in Ludlow Street Church
last evening.

The gathering of the Young People's Societies of Christian Endeavor of the United Baptist churches, held the Ludlow Street Baptist church, last evening. The meeting was one of the most successful of its kind ever held in this city. The Rev.
W. R. Robinson was chairman and Miss M. E. Mullin presided at the plans. J. L. Collins, of Leinster street church, offered prayer. The chairman read the scriptural lesson after singing "Onward Christian Soldiers." The chairman introduced Mr.
Ritchie who delivered a timely address on Good Citizenship.

Serg. Beach of the Army Service Corps, sang a solo, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," in a splendid voice.
The Rev. Mr. McPherson of the Brussels street Baptist church addressed the gathering on "The Motive of the Subject." His presentation of the subject was listened to with great attention and was spoken of by many present as a masterly effort.

Mr. Robert Mahoney sang a solo with much acceptance.
The Rev. H. E. Thomas, Rev. F. P.
Dennison and Rev. F. H. Wentworth also addressed the gathering. After singing the National Anthem and prayer by Rev. H. E. Thomas the meeting closed.

SAYS HUNGARY WILL STAND BY HER ALLY

Former Premier denies story of separate Peace proposals — Will try to give neutrals better understanding of her foreign policy.

Venice, via London, Jan. 25.—Count Julius Andrássy, former Premier and Minister of the Interior of Hungary, according to a despatch from budapest, characterizes as utterly mendacious a report that Hungary is tired of the war and is desirous of seeking a separate peace, and declares that peace will be concluded only in union with Germany, and on terms satisfactory to both countries.

One of the chief tasks of the new Austro-Hungarian Foreign Minister, the despatch credits Count Andrássy with saying, will be to give the neutral countries a better understanding of the Austro-Hungarian foreign policy, and gain their approval of it.

BURNS NIGHT AT ST. DAVID'S CHURCH

Young People of St. David's provide fine entertainment—Large number present.

Yesterday was the birthday of Robert Burns, Scotland's national poet, and throughout the world where Scotsmen are to be found, and this means everywhere, the unequalled song-writer of the country he loved so well was, it is safe to say, remembered and celebrated in a way that showed that even after the lapse of 156 years —for Bobbie was born in the year 1759—his memory is as green as ever.

Certainly the Young People's Association of St. David's church did not forget the date of Burns' birth, for in the lecture room of the church last evening they provided a concert in honor of the poet that was enjoyable in every way.

The programme was carefully arranged, and the large number present were delighted with the evening's entertainment. Piper Andrew Stewart was there, and the Skirl or Pipes, cock of the North and all, pleased everybody. Members of the choir sang "Duncan Gray" as a chorus. This number was well received, as it described the life of Thomas Guy's solo "Blue Bonnets over the Border" was rendered in fine form, as were his Lauder songs.

"Scots Wha Hae" was sung by Major F. McKean in first-class style; his appreciation of the subject and fine voice giving great pleasure to his hearers. Mrs. L. Murray Curran sang "My Ain Folk" in irreproachable fashion. Her interpretation of this number was excellent. Miss Culver and Miss E. Doherty played a duet on the piano, consisting of Scotch airs and marches. This well-executed effort was much appreciated.

Miss Blenda S. Thomson, so well known to St. John music lovers, sang "Burns and Scotland Yet," with such fine effect that an unanimous request for another song was inevitable. Master and Miss Gibbs danced in true Highland fashion. "I'm a Scot" was well rendered by De Witt Cairns, who has certainly lost none of his popularity as a vocalist of unusual ability.
"A Hundred Pipers," was the subject for a very fine reading by Miss Carrie Ballie, who was recalled again and again. The duet "When we Gang Awa Jamic," by De Witt Cairns and Miss Thomson was very pleasingly given, as was the duet by Mrs. Barnes and Miss Climo. The two ladies laid vocalists, "My Love is Like a Red, Red Rose," in finished style, the blending of their voices being much admired. The National Anthem closed a most enjoyable entertainment. Mrs.
J. M. Darnley presided at the pianoforte with her usual efficiency.

FOUNDER OF ELDER DEMPSTER LINE DEAD

London, Jan. 25.—The death is announced at Southampton of Alexander Elder, founder of the British and African Steam and Navigation Company, and the Elder-Dempster Line. He was also a director of the Pacific Steam Navigation Company, and chairman of the Steamship Owners' Association.
He founded the chair of naval architecture in Liverpool University and held the Royal Humane Society's bronze medal for life saving.

IGNITING EXPLOSIVES BY WIRELESS APPARATUS

Wm. E. Weathercoo, of Village Hotel, Hampton, who was in the city yesterday, has received word that his cousin Charles Probbisher of Castleford, England, had been given an opportunity to demonstrate at the War Office an invention for igniting explosives by wireless. A Castleford paper says:
"Charles Probbisher, of Queen street, Castleford, assistant surveyor and draughtsman at Allerton Bywater Collieries, recently gave a successful exhibition of an apparatus he has invented for igniting explosives in steel shells by wireless electricity. This took place at the experimental court of the War Office, when Mr. Probbisher obtained successful ignitions of 'A' (type shrapnel shells (miniature) at a distance of 200 yards. The apparatus

MOTHERS!

Don't neglect every-day injuries to which children are subject. A "little" injury if neglected may lead to serious complications.
A small cut or scratch neglected may mean blood poison, and may result in the loss of an arm or leg, and sometimes of a life.

Why take chances?
Apply Zambuk as soon as injuries or skin diseases occur. Zambuk quickly kills all germs, stops the bleeding, prevents suppuration and blood poison, and heals quickly.

Mrs. J. E. Bierwirth, of Camdull, Sask., writes: "My son cut the end of his finger.
Zambuk stopped the bleeding and gave him such relief that he ceased crying. I decided to see if Zambuk would heal the wound, and continued using nothing but Zambuk. Complete cure resulted."

The Zambuk for cuts, burns, ulcers, bruises, eczema, piles, cold sores, chilblains, chapped hands, and all skin diseases and injuries. Refuse substitutes. The name "Zambuk" on every package.
All druggists and stores, 50c box.

is worked by a combination of electricity of high voltage and six Crookes vacuum tubes, giving off the hard 'catodine' rays, which will penetrate 3-inch steel plates and conduct the electricity through. At present the apparatus is in its most primitive form, but when it is developed it is stated that it will be introduced into warfare. After the tests Mr. Probbisher was congratulated by Prof. Silvanus Thompson of Oxford University, who remarked that the apparatus gave off artificial forked lightning. Mr. Probbisher is the secretary of the Yorkshire Engineering Students' Institute.
