and, by spring I was in a strong healthy condition. From my experience I can gratefully recommend Williams' Pink Pills to those in a run down condition."

GAIN WELL AND STRONG.

Under proof of the undoubted of this family tonic is offered. Mr. Ronald J. Gills, Margaree, N. S., who says: "I suffered an attack of influenza last winter and after getting over the acute of the disease, I experienced the dire after effects. I was left and run down, and although my strength seemed to be all right I did not feel like doing any work. My condition persisted I began to buy Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, a box which my brother had purchased for me. I confess, as an expectant mother, as I had never used the pills before. By the time the box was gone I began to notice beneficial effects. I felt stronger, and by the first of May I was strong and as well as ever in my life. The pills had brought renewed strength and vigor, had renewed my appetite, purified my blood and I am sure will prove equally beneficial to others who may be suffering from impaired or an impoverished condition of the blood."

MEDICINE WORTH TRYING.

Williams' Pink Pills are a tonic and stimulant. They build up the blood, and not only the disastrous effects of influenza but also those due to poor blood, such as anemia, rheumatism, indigestion and generally worn-out feeling that afflicts so many people, disappear. You get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents per box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ontario, Canada.

LIFT OFF CORNS

IT DOESN'T HURT

Get rid of every corn and callus for few cents

Drop a little Freezone on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. It doesn't pain one bit. Yes, magic!

Why wait? Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of Freezone for a few cents, sufficient to rid your feet of every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and calluses, without soreness or irritation. Freezone is the much talked of ether discovery of a Cincinnati genius.

Mr. Potts said that the idea was to give protection to the public and not the lawyers. It was amusing to hear a doctor stand up and accuse the lawyers of making excessive charges. Doctors made charges which had to be paid even after the patient was dead and it was not always the fault of the patient that death occurred. He thought a man employed in a registry office should not be allowed to perform work outside of his regular duties. It was seldom that lawyers charged more than $10.00 for drawing a deed.

Mr. McGrath said that the general public did not always understand the amount of trouble a doctor was put to in connection with the issuing of prescriptions. They had to listen to a lot of talk and then decide whether or not the patient was in need of a stimulating drug. In addition to the piece of paper the patient got the benefit of years of study and training. The work of a lawyer in drawing a deed was as nothing in comparison.

Mr. McCreary speaking on the section relating to the hours of the office objected to the St. John registry of fees being the only one which had a Saturday half holiday. Why should not other counties have the same consideration.

Mr. Potts said this was merely another of those little unpleasantnesses continually arising in connection with the city of St. John. The section showed that St. John people were alive to the advantages of a Saturday half holiday. Other counties could have it if they desired.

Mr. Tilley said the Saturday half

HOUSE TO GO INTO SUPPLY WEDNESDAY

Mr. Robinson said that the registry office in Woodstock was located at Dorchester but that location was not convenient to the people of Moncton, where a large amount of business was done. The city was growing rapidly and it was not willing to transfer the registry office, the time would come when a new one would have to be established at Moncton.

Mr. Tilley said that he thought the section was quite adequate. Any change in location could be made by Governor-in-Council and it would not be necessary to come to the legislature.

Mr. McGrath thought that the shire town of a county was the proper place to conduct the public business; there was a lot of public business carried on outside Fredericton which should be done at the capital.

Section 16 of the bill provides that no registrar, clerk or employee shall be permitted to act as agent for companies or corporations or give advice for a fee or otherwise with respect to the titles of land.

Mr. Murray said he had heard numerous complaints in regard to registrars drawing deeds and other documents and he had been urged to have the acts changed so that the practice could be stopped. He had heard of registrars drawing deeds for a fee less than that charged by the legal profession. Other industries in the public were protected and he thought there should be some protection for the lawyers.

Mr. Potts said that lawyers often overcharged clients for the service of drawing a deed. There were charges in the profession in St. John and elsewhere. He had heard of a case where a lawyer in St. John had charged a lady $50.00 for drawing a deed. She had only $25.00 so he took that and told her he would retain the document until she paid the balance. He thought there should be a scale of fees for drawing deeds as a protection for the public.

Mr. Tilley characterized the statement of his hon. colleague as a slur on the legal profession. He said that the scale of fees was prepared by the Barriesters' Society and that for drawing a deed was fixed at $5.00. If the hon. member knew of a lawyer who had charged a client $50.00 for drawing a deed, he should bring the matter to the notice of the Barriesters' Society. He (Tilley) felt that he could not allow such a statement to go unchallenged.

Mr. Potts said that he did not know the lady who had paid the excessive fee and had not received the information desired from her. If the proper fee for drawing the deed was $5.00 he would probably take steps to bring the case before the Barriesters' Society.

Mr. Murray cited a case where it had cost $257.00 to record a deed. It was a lengthy document and had to be recorded in three counties. He understood that $5.00 was the minimum fee a lawyer could charge. Competition in the profession prevented overcharging.

Mr. Potts said that the hon. Minister's statement put a new phase on the case. As the minimum charge was $5.00, the deed he had referred to might not have been an ordinary one. Mr. Dymally said he wished to concur in the remarks made by the hon. member for St. John (Tilley). He was glad that he had refuted the charge made against the legal profession.

Mr. McGrath did not see why any man should be prevented from drawing a deed, providing he could do it properly. It was a registrar's duty to serve the public and if he could draw up a deed or mortgage he should be allowed to do it.

Mr. Tilley said he did not think that doctors should be allowed to charge $10.00 for a prescription for stimulants. He thought the section should stand, as the lawyers were not suffering for the few dollars the registrars picked up.

Mr. Sweeney said that the idea was to give protection to the public and not the lawyers. It was amusing to hear a doctor stand up and accuse the lawyers of making excessive charges. Doctors made charges which had to be paid even after the patient was dead and it was not always the fault of the patient that death occurred. He thought a man employed in a registry office should not be allowed to perform work outside of his regular duties. It was seldom that lawyers charged more than $10.00 for drawing a deed.

Mr. McGrath said that the general public did not always understand the amount of trouble a doctor was put to in connection with the issuing of prescriptions. They had to listen to a lot of talk and then decide whether or not the patient was in need of a stimulating drug. In addition to the piece of paper the patient got the benefit of years of study and training. The work of a lawyer in drawing a deed was as nothing in comparison.

Mr. McCreary speaking on the section relating to the hours of the office objected to the St. John registry of fees being the only one which had a Saturday half holiday. Why should not other counties have the same consideration.

Mr. Potts said this was merely another of those little unpleasantnesses continually arising in connection with the city of St. John. The section showed that St. John people were alive to the advantages of a Saturday half holiday. Other counties could have it if they desired.

Mr. Tilley said the Saturday half holiday in St. John had been long established. The time was made up by the office being open earlier each morning than any other registry office in the province.

Mr. McCreary said there was no reason why every registry should not have the Saturday half holiday. As far as his own county of Sunbury was concerned it had an excellent registrar who had performed years of service. Some reference had been made to the charges of members of the legal fraternity. He could say that he had never been overcharged although he had transacted much business at the registry office.

Mr. Potts said he could hardly agree that there should be a Saturday half holiday for registry offices. It might be all right in St. John, but in many smaller places, Saturday was the chief day of business.

Many country people went to the shire town with the intention of having their legal business transacted Saturday afternoon. That was particularly true of Bailhurst. A Saturday half holiday might be a great convenience to the registrars but certainly could not be to the general public.

Mr. Young said the Registry office in Fredericton had closed at 5 o'clock on Saturday afternoons for a number of years and there must have been some authority for exercising that hour. Agreed with the previous speaker that it would not be convenient to everyone to have all registry offices closed on Saturday afternoon. Saturday was a market day in Fredericton and many people came to the city on that day to do business.

Mr. Sweeney said that he objected to sectional legislation of any kind. This looked as if the city of St. John had a special provision made. Laws should be general.

The section was allowed to stand. Mr. Sweeney, speaking on the section relating to searches said that plans should be classed with instruments and documents.

The section was allowed to stand. The Committee reported progress. The House adjourned at 5:15 p.m. to meet again at 3 p.m. Tuesday.
