MILLIONS OF PEOPLE

Physicians Cornered!

I SUPPOSE there is not in the whole of a physician's experience anything so humiliating and disheartening as to witness the agonizing pangs of a poor mortal, suffering from that fearful disease.

RHEUMATISM!

Heretofore there has been a considerable diversity of opinion among medical men, as to the true character of this disease. Some leaving it in the hands of mysterious forces, others regarding it as an acute nervous disease, but it is now generally admitted to be a disease arising from a poison circulating in the blood, and further it is admitted that the same can never be thoroughly cured without exterminating each poisonous molecule from the blood, by a constitutional internal remedy. We feel confident that few will feel satisfied and refuse more, than the conscientious physician, until he has seen a cure effected, and born disease has been discovered. The following testimony from a patient who has suffered from this disease, cannot fail to do its duty.

DIAMOND RHEUMATIC CURE!

A wonderful medical discovery.

MR. ISAACSON'S ENDORSMENT.—
MONTREAL, 21st March, 1874.
Dear Sir,—I have pleasure, in connection with the advertisement of your Diamond Rhematic Cure, to state that I have been cured of a severe case of Rheumatism, which has been troubling me for several years. I have used three bottles of this wonderful medicine, and now feel as well as ever. I can truly say that it is a cure of the disease to try it, and you will not regret to do so for those who suffer from it.

FURTHER PROOF.

I AM ANOTHER MAN!
ST. JOHN, N. B., Sept. 20, 1874.
A. CHIPMAN SMITH,
Dear Sir,—I have suffered for fifteen months with Rheumatism, and could not find any relief, after trying every medicine that I have had. The advertisement of your Diamond Rhematic Cure, I have used three bottles of this wonderful remedy, and now feel as well as ever. I can truly say that it is a cure of the disease to try it, and you will not regret to do so for those who suffer from it.

DIAMOND RHEUMATIC CURE!

This medicine is for sale at all the druggists through Canada. It is supposed that your cure has not got in it, stock him 25 cents for 50.

NOTES AND NEWS.

UNITED STATES.

The ruins of an ancient city, a mile square, have been discovered on the Rio Grande near the boundary line between Colorado and New Mexico.

A four-year-old child in Tuscarora, Pa., has actually died of drunkenness. Its bearded mother fed it with whiskey until, after weeks of steady intoxication, it died.

"It is said that a donkey cannot bary nath his tail horizontally extended."—Indianapolis News.

A huge bear having invaded the premises of Mrs. Joel Hines of Spring Garden, N. C., that Spartan lady called her dogs and gave chase. Brain was treed, and shot by a neighbor, but the bear was correctly awarded to the lady.

The Virginia immigration convention pronounces the experiment of settlement in colonies a successful one, and the General Assembly is invited to encourage immigration by the repeal of usury laws, the improvement of the highways, the suppression of the dog tax, and the exemption of new capital from taxation for a definite period.

A New Bedford clergyman, amazed his congregation last Sunday by suddenly leaving his pulpit, trotting down the aisle, and holding out toward home. The choir sang, and then there was an awkward tussle with the sexton without explanation. He had forgotten his manuscript—that was all.

The most obstinate male on record turned up the other day in Sonoma county, Cal. His owner was hauling a load of line, when a warm rain shower set in. The line, slack by the rain, was soon in a high state of combustion, and the wagon caught fire. That the animal in question, which formed one of the team, stubbornly resisted all efforts to detach him from the burning wagon, and was cremated on the spot, while his unorthodox owner stood by and misapprehended Scripture.

Two Pennsylvania farmers quarrelled for twenty years over the ownership of a lane between their farms, which had been abandoned as a highway. The two owners and the daughter of the other managed to get acquainted, fell in love mutually, and ran away to get married; whereupon the old fellows dropped their quarrel, stopped their lawsuits, and were cremated on the spot, while his unorthodox owner stood by and misapprehended Scripture.

Mrs. Sarah Young, of Boston, faces badly when she goes out on a tour of exhibition as a spiritual medium. She plays a piano a few minutes, and then the instrument keeps time by lifting its front legs clear from the floor. She gave a course in Providence, and by inadvertence upon a low chair was provided for her act in St. John. So strenuous was she in insisting upon a higher stool being put that tub-levellers grew suspicious, and when the piano was raised to its normal position, she fell from it, playing they caught her hitting it with her knees. She was indignant at the exposure, and retired in tears.

By Butlerism, says the Boston Post, is meant all those corrupt, usurious, feckless, rick-making, salary-grabbing, profligate-swindling arts and schemes in legislation, which have practically displaced the demands of public beneficence. It means all those who have turned their backs upon the public interest, and are bent upon converting it into a money-making agency, a speculation for private fortunes. It should again be established, as it was in the days before mercenary motives pushed and hustled all others aside, that no honor is higher than that of the public service, and that to seek to convert it, even indirectly, into a money-making agency, is a degradation, and a sentiment of nationality itself.

Gov. Bradley of Nevada got on the train at Elko, last week, to go to Pullman. The car was crowded, and he was compelled to perambulate the entire length of the car to obtain a seat.

"Good-morning, my son; how'd-yo do to-day, sar?" said the Governor, in his good-natured way, to a big Missonian who had generously given up half his seat to the stranger who thus accosted him.

"That's all right, my friend; what's the stranger, 'but don't make yourself quite so familiar with me, 'yoo please; I have heard of you before—you're one of them good-for-nothing fellows—but you can't come to my eye, nor me, sar. I've been there myself, I have!"

Law practice in East St. Louis is made interesting by events which are uncommon in courts elsewhere. Counselor Grady and Justice Bunyan were enemies, because they had disagreed about the division of some fees. The quarrel was openly resumed while Bunyan was on the bench and Grady was at the bar. They called each other liars and thieves.

Then the Justice came down from his bench and there was a fight. Grady drew a knife and stabbed Bunyan so close to the heart that an interposing wench barely turned the blade aside. A mob, inimical to Grady, at once filled the court house, and when he was taken away by a marshal as a prisoner they chased and tried to lynch him, a hard run only saving him.

The last weekly numbers of The Living Age have been full of note-worthy articles, among which are the following:—
Contracts of Ancient and Modern History;
The Convert of St. Marco; Ritual and Ritualism by Hon. W. E. Gladstone; The Fauna of Fancy; Who Wrote "Shakespeare"; The Education of Women; A Modern Dead Language; International Vanities; Scholars and Friars, a Chapter in the History of Ecclesiastical Law; Lady Dun Gordon; Six Weeks in Elba; The Song of Fishes; Comets Talk; Archbishop Land, etc.; together with instalments of the remarkably fine serials, "Alice Lorraine"; "Far From the Marching Crowd"; "Three Feathers"; by William Black, and a short story by the author of "Patty"; choice poetry, miscellany, etc. The latest of these numbers (No. 187, dated Nov. 7th) is the first issued subsequent to the merger of Every Saturday in The Living Age; and contains the serials of Every Saturday from the point where they were discontinued in that periodical.
