SELF-OILING — SELF-REGULATING

With the Strongest Tower Built

It's the "Toronto" Self-Oiling Windmill—requiring "oil only once a year". All gears operate in a bath of special oil affected by neither heat nor cold—every bearing and working part thoroughly and automatically lubricated.

TORONTO

If you have a "Toronto" Windmill now, you can obtain this self-oiling feature by interchanging the head and using your present wheel. Most Toronto Windmills, too, can be made absolutely self-regulating in operation. The "Toronto" Tower will stand for a lifetime because it is the heaviest, strongest and best-braced one built for any windmill. See this new Mill now—or get my booklet.

Moved by John A. Leitch, seconded by D. A. Mitchell, that Neil McEachlan be paid $11 for one sheep killed by dogs; C. C. McNaughton, 95c. freight charges on road drag repairs; Sawyer-Klessey Co., $12.50 for road drag repairs; P. E. Lumley, $11.25 for formaldehyde for fumigating. Carried.

Moved by D. A. Mitchell, seconded by James Gilbert, that the council meet as a committee on Saturday, June 2, at 3 o'clock, to arrange with Mrs. Mary Carson for the opening of the Carswell grave. Carried.

Moved by James Gilbert, seconded by D. A. Mitchell, that the clerk be hereby instructed to request the tax collector, W. H. Ryer, to have all unpaid taxes collected and turned over to the township treasurer at once. Carried.

Moved by D. A. Mitchell, seconded by A. McCready, that R. W. McKellar be paid $114 for his services as assessor and for postage in 1923. Carried.

The council adjourned to meet at Newbury on June 16th at 10 a.m. C. C. McNaughton, clerk.

PUBLICITY AND CRIME

Publicity as an incentive to crime was the subject of a protest by Calvin W. Rice, of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, at their convention in Montreal.

Mr. Rice declared that only eighty-three per cent. of the eight thousand murders, committing crimes in the United States last year were pinched. He displayed copies of daily newspapers from many cities with front pages marked in red where murders were reported and contended that the reading of such items daily panders to the criminal element and contributes to the prevalence of crime. He asked members to do what they could to eliminate such matters and to refuse to read it.

When a man is exalted to a public position he has a right to demand the support and loyalty of every citizen who approves of his action. It is not so easy to get men to accept a public office, and when we have men who are willing to act to the best of their ability in the performance of the duties of their office, they should be encouraged and not discouraged, which is too often the case.

One-half of the world is busy trying to separate the other half from its coin.

Many a man would be unable to paddle his own canoe if he couldn't borrow some other man's paddle. Extra copies of the Transcript may be had at the office ready wrapped for mailing to friends at a distance.

TWO OF A KIND

A menagerie-keeper was bemoaning his hard fate that his one and only lion had died that morning, when an Irishman approached and asked him for a job.

"Yes," said the proprietor, "I can give you a job, and an easy one at that. My only lion died this morning and we've just skinned him. If you'll wrap yourself in the skin and lie down in the corner of his cage, I'll give you two dollars a day."

"Good enough!" cried Pat. Having been robbed in the lion's skin and posed in apparent sleep in the corner of the cage the curtain was drawn, and Pat saw a curious crowd gazing at him.

"Now," said the proprietor, "this is a splendid lion from Nubia. He is the king of beasts, and it is astonishing how his mere presence subdues the most ferocious of his fellow wild beasts. I shall lift the intervening door and you will see this noble beast will enter the tiger's den."

"Here, mister," whispered Pat. "I didn't bargain for that!"

"Go on," cried the other; "there's no danger."

"I'm not going in."

"Well, then, not a cent do you get from this job. I tell you the tiger is harmless."

The prospect of no wages instilled some courage into the poor man, and he made a shuffling movement towards the door of his companion "wild beast."

But one look at the tiger sent him shivering all over as he moaned: "I can't go in!"

When the tiger saw his fear, he said in a stage whisper: "Come in, you idiot; I'm an Irishman, too!"

Miller's Worm Powders act so thoroughly that stomachic and intestinal worms pass from the child without being noticed and without inconvenience to the sufferer. They are painless and perfect in action, and at all times will be found a healthy medicine, strengthening the infantile stomach and maintaining it in vigorous operation, so that besides being an effective vermifuge, they are tonical and health-giving in their effects.
