TEA TABLE TALK,

BY MRS. MATTHEWS.

"Livingstone's Africa, and Mrs. Matthews' Tea Table Talk will be the two most popular works of the season."—Bicester Herald.

"It is ordinary criticism to say of a good gossiping book, that it is a volume for the sea-side, or for the fire-side, or wet weather, or for a sunny nook, or in a shady grove, or for after dinner over wine and walnuts. Now these lively, gossiping volumes will be found adapted to all these places, times, and circumstances. They are brim-full of anecdotes. There are pleasant little biographical sketches and ambitious essays."—Athenæum.

"The anecdotes are replete with point and novelty and truthfulness."—Sporting Magazine.

"No better praise can be given to us than to say, that we consider this work one of, if not the most agreeable books that has come under our notice."—Guardian.

"For Book Clubs and Reading Societies no work can be found that will prove more agreeable."—Express.

"The widow of the late, and the mother of the present Charles Matthews would, under any circumstances, command our respect, and if we could not conscientiously praise her work, we should be slow to condemn it. Happily, however, the volumes in question are so good, that in giving this our favourable notice we are only doing justice to the literary character of the writer; her anecdotes are replete with point and novelty and truthfulness that stamps them genuine."—Sporting Review.
