WEDDING BELLS.

HANLON-FRAZELL.

MR. JOHN MARSHALL, ST. IGNACE. Citizens of London were grieved to learn of the sad accident which deprived a former well-known resident of life. Below we give a re-port of the sad affair, as described by the St. Ignace Enterprise, of November 3. To his mother, Mrs. Margaret Marshall, and his brothers and sisters, we offer sur sincere sym-mathy. — The eity received a terrible shock on Satur-day afternoon when, about 3:30 o'clock. the news was passed from one to another that John Marshall, one of the yard brakemen, had been killed while assisting to switch cars in the upper yard. — The permanent crew of the railread yards here consisted of Andrew Marshall, foreman; and his brother John and Eichard Bazeley, brakemen. Michael McTierney is switchman and crossing watchman, but the fatal accident ocured at the other end. — "The orew, it seems, were engaged switching flat ore cars in the yard above the round-house. The cars were given a push by the engine, and were being sent on to different tracks in sec-tions, each in charge of one of the brakemen. Bazeley had three or four cars in front; and deceased had the next section. — "To obtain a greater leverage, the men have are at liking; he had used it for some consider ator about sind for which he had a great liking; he had used it for some consider-able time. To all outward appearance it was beyond the ordinary strength of man to break it. HADDING BELLES. "Undertaker Walker prepared the remains for burial, and a large number of friends called at the residence, and assisted in the sad, silent watches of the night. "On Sunday evening the corpse was taken by his brother to their home in London Ont, for interment. Father Kunes conducted the preliminary burial rites at the house, and a large number of sympathizers accompanied the remains to the Ste, Marie Ferry. The pall-bearers were John Murphy, Geo, Litchard, Richard Bazeley, Harry Heeke, Wm, Hookwith and J.J. Melugh. Many floral tributes were sent, among them being a beautiful one from Mr. and Mrs. Campbell and the guests of the Dunham house, and one ent by Rev. Faiher Kunes. The boys on the dock could not get flowers here in time, but made arrangements to have them sent on direct to London. ## A SWEDISH CONVERT.

Hartford, Nov. 2 - An item that has been going the round is calculated to give the reader the impression that Mme. Helena Nyblom, had quite recently become a convert to the faith. The facts, however, are, says the Cath olic Transcript, that this well-known authoress joined the Catholic Church three years ago. Mme. Helena Nyblom was born at Copenhagen fifty five years ago, her tather being a professor of the Royal Academy of Fine Arts at Copenhagen and a man of large artistic abilities. Her girlhood was spent at home, and her education directed by her father, whose house was the resort of many distinguished literateurs, artists and

Though not a Swede by nativity, the gifted convert has been regarded as a wedish author for many a long year back ; and the Swedish people have been proud to claim her as one of their daughters. Mme. Nyblom, though a great literary woman, did not write much in her earlier years. It was not until her children had grown up and left her more time and freedom that she began to contribute to Swedish literature. Her pen is both prolific and versatile. She writes apparently with the same facility in prose and verse; and sketches, stories, poems and essays signed by her name appear very frequently in the leading Swedish magazines. Her poetry is character ized by its musical rhythm, and her love for music is often noticeable in her

A TEST THAT FAILED.

The Ottawa Journal of the 5th inst, is re-sponsible for the following: A minister of the Gospel from the Eastern townships, who came here as a member of the delegation which on Thursday waited on Sir Wilfrid Laurier in regard to prohibition, nar-rowly escaped getting into a serious trouble Thursday night. He wanted to test how the into a liquor store kept by a French Canadian, who is also a justice of the pace. After look-ing at and pricing various bottles of whiskey. The law prevents the sale of whiskey. The law prevents the sale of whiskey. The law prevents the sale of whiskey. The by all except saloon and bottlemen. In less quantities than three half pints, although the sale of sealed flasks of whiskey containing one half pint, or less is allowed. The liquor dealer showed the minister a flask. The num-ister, however, said he wanted liquor from the barrel. The liquor seller knew then that he was being tested, so he determined to turn the tables on the clergyman. 'I see you are a minister of the Gospel, and you try to make me, a justice of the pace, break the law. Now for this offence, I, as justice of the law. Now for this offence, I, as justice of the pace, will call a policemen and have you arrested immediately.'' The minister had to beg the liquor man's pardon and say he was sincerely sorry for his attempt to make the man break the law. He was finally allowed to leave the store. The story is related by the liquor man, who, however, does not want his name published.

Can Maky Money. For several months I have noticed advertise-ments in different religious parers describing an improved Dish Washer. As I had grown so tired of washing the dishes the old way. I sent for information to Iron City Dish Washer Co., 73 Station A. Pittsburg, Pa., regarding their Washer. They sent me one and I have found it to do just as they said it would. It washes and dries the dishes in less than one-half the girl aged Syears, thusks it lots of fun to wash the dishes and she can do it as well as myself. Several of my neighbors came in to see It work and they all owed ne a comm-sion. They also wrote and told me how to become their agent, tam now making $10 a week and still attend it where. I show it and that makes the work wrote and told me now to become their agent. I am now making $10 a week and still attendt is able to take charge of a choir per-where. I show it and that makes the work easy. I understand they still want a few gook agents, and anyone desiring to make money easy should write them. A Constant Reader. I am now work. The Dish wasner sener some where. I show it and that makes the work easy. I understand they still want a few good easy is and anyone desiring to make money

The one who will be found in trial capable of great acts of love is ever the one always doing considerate small ones.-F. W. Robertson.
