Harbor Grace Notes.

A young gentleman who lately came to reside here, and a talented young lady teacher, a native of this town, but living in St. John's for some years, are shortly to embark on the voyage of life with one name. Congratulations in advance.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rogers, who had been at St. John's on the occasion of the death of Mrs. R.'s uncle, returned home by Monday night's train.

A number of the young girls of St. Andrew's Church Sabbath School are busily engaged at present preparing for a sale of work and sociable to be held shortly. Quite a lot of pretty and useful articles are being made by their nimble fingers. We understand the proceeds will be devoted to purchasing library books for the school. A very worthy object, and the sale should be well patronized.

Master Ronald Griffin, one of the C.C.C. lads, met with a serious accident while at work at the brigade's new armoury on Thursday. Ronald fell from the second floor and into a flour barrel, one leg going inside and the other outside of the barrel. After going home he was taken very ill and the doctor had to be called and attended him all night. We hope soon to see our young friend fully recovered.

The Methodist Ladies' Aid are preparing for a sale of work to be held the latter part of this month.

The invitations are out for the wedding of Miss Annie Josephine Casey, daughter of our respected townsman, John Casey, Esq., J.P., clerk of the District Court here, to Mr. Ronald K. Kennedy, Principal of the B. C. Academy, and son of another highly esteemed citizen, C. L. Kennedy, Esq. The marriage will take place on Tuesday, April 18th. Both the young people are very popular and will receive the best wishes of citizens generally.

Latest News From Sealers

Mr. R. B. Job had the following wireless message from the s.s. Neptune yesterday evening:

"Saturday, 7 p.m., s.s. Neptune. On board and stowed down, 8,000; searching for bedlamers. Have not seen Erik or Diana this week."

Last night Messrs. A. J. Harvey & Co. had this message from Capt. W. Keap of the Newfoundland:

"Saturday Evening.—Weight of 17,000 on board, am looking for more hoods; all well."

A message from the Bellaventure was received by the same firm Saturday afternoon but the latter part of it could not be deciphered, and a wireless was sent the ship asking for a repetition. It read:

"Nothing doing just now; ice loose and swell heaving in. On ship, &c."

It is hoped to have the latter part of the message interpreted to-day.

Drummer Talks.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—On my return trip from — I met at the station my quaint old friend again, as we were detained an hour or so, I gave my old friend all my time and greatly enjoyed his company and conversation.

I see, sir, he commenced, that whilst we've bin gone they fixed up the Cowd Storage deale to their liking, and faith, them "Portlanders" struck it—a regular squitter. They'll soon be like Rockefeller—millionaires, so they will. Sorrow the day they struck Newfoundland. Twenty-five thousand dollars a year, fair 'tis the arbitration talk and cost, that by flip of Sir E. P.'s finger they can get their bait free and slick from them "Portlanders." No need for Reciprocity now with the States. Help yourselves, gentlemen, and hand the job to the "Frigh!" Begor, 'tis rich. This sur, the Pale question, too, I don't mave pigs' pate, but the mossy part on the meshes, they hev, I'm towl, giv it all away to some English punkers who is goin' to try and bate (creation flaking coat) Begor, that will they be at next. And a trifle of timber land or a few rivers to drive machinery for squeezing it out, is all Sir E. P. is giving them for the woruck. 'Tis wonderf'ul what a toine we'll be having by and bye, eh? An the blinastin' powderman, too, a few blocks of timber land to build up his shacks, and mek his loxes wild, and another river or two to run his mills wild; how aisy some folks git along, and how generous a great man like Sir E. P. can be with other people's property, 'tis surpris. I suppose this fellow will hev to hustle, because there is nothing left now for Sir E. P. to giv away—barrin the moines. The timber is all gone, the rivers goin' fast and if this dynamite manufacturin' don't hurry up

I'm towl he is goin' to the crownation of King Garge, and sure 'tis himself should be getting crowned. Luk at his marvillus woruck on the Cold Man's Pension. No ould woman need apply, turns em down like the Orlish, just like em out. Givng five or six spalpins of his pawns 1500 dollars a year fer doing nothin' but harum, and thin offering the 30th part of sich amount as a pension to the grand old heroes who fer 70 years hev toiled and suffered day and night—summer and winter—in storm and snow, ice and cold, wid barely enuff grub to keep body and soul together to build up the Colony fer such com-morants to fatten on.

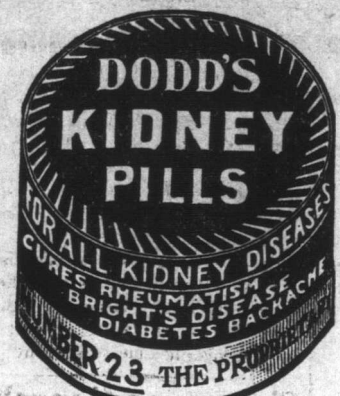

Just here I was delighted to hear the cry "all on board," as I was afraid my poor old friend himself, 70 years of age, would burst a blood vessel, and, Mr. Editor, I entirely sympathize with him.

Another Pleasant Sunday Afternoon.

Mr. A. W. Martin read a paper entitled: "Thinking—its hindrances and helps, its pleasures and profits," at the P. S. A. meeting yesterday. The essay was an excellent one. Mr. Martin dwelt on the great power of thought and the wonderful results that have come from intense concentration of the mind. He referred to the philosophy and the writings of the ancient sages and the great creations of modern science. Thought when controlled and properly applied was capable of great things and led to success. Man could control his thought and regulate his will power. Mr. Martin handled his subject very ably. Mr. S. J. Tucker was the soloist, favouring the audience with a most delightful rendition of "God of Light and God of Love." Mr. A. A. Parsons will lecture next Sunday.

Bitten by Dogs.

On Friday a little boy, Samuel Verge, whose father is dead, had a narrow escape from being bitten to death while returning from school. He was crossing Hart's Marsh when three dogs harnessed in a slide lying by the side of the road sprang after him. The boy ran and was making for Mr. Arthur Young's house when he ran into a bank of snow and the three dogs jumped on him. He managed to clear himself, but was again bitten as he ran through the gate. Mr. Elijah Maidment who was coming up the other road ran to his assistance and drove the dogs off.

We understand the little fellow who is about 14 years of age, is much excited and feverish. We trust he will soon recover.

The owner of the dogs is known, and we understand an investigation will be asked for on the Magistrate's return.—Twillingate Sun.

McMurdo's Store News.

MONDAY, April 3, '11.

It will soon be time to put away furs for the summer. For this purpose Moth Balls are essential. They are quite the most effective for keeping away moths and flies, while they have not the disagreeable properties of pepper, and are much cheaper than camphor. The odor of the moth balls soon disappears on exposing the furs to the air for a little time before beginning to wear them. Our Moth Balls are put up in handy packages, and sell for 20c. a box.

For the harsh winds of early April use Cream of Lilies. It will keep your skin and complexion right. Price 25c. a bottle.

At R. C. Cathedral.

PRACTICAL AND ELOQUENT SERMON BY RT. REV. MONSIGNOR ROCHE.

Right Rev. Monsignor Roche preached at Vespers last night. His text was taken from the first Epistle of St. Paul to the Thessalonians, 4 chap. 6th verse: "Let no man over reach or circumvent his brother in business." It was the ablest discourse on the Commandment "Thou Shalt not Steal," heard in the Cathedral since the days of the Mission given by the Jesuits. The different ways in which dishonesty may be committed were recounted by the rev. preacher; first there was domestic theft whereby the wife stole from the husband and the children from the parents; second, there is the theft of the employee who stole from his master; the other common cases included defrauding insurance companies by casting away ships and burning down houses; the thefts in using false weights and measures; putting bad material into work contracted for; keeping money paid one by mistake; retaining goods belonging to others; getting goods from dealers and contracting debts beyond our means and refusing to pay for them. This was as bad as stealing or the work of a burglar. Too many people were dishonest on account of the craze for living beyond their means and a foolish desire to shine in fashionable clothing. This kind of theft was as bad from a moral standpoint as any other when the persons concerned took the goods of another without any intention of paying for them. There was some excuse for those who were poor and stricken with illness in not paying the debts promised that they had an honest intention to pay for them when they contracted the debt. Almightly God would not be hard on the poor. He forgave the poor man who owed a debt in the Bible parable whereas the rich man would not in turn forgive him. No scruples of having a poor tenant put out on the street should he not be able to pay the rent, and the rich man will distrust on the poor man's furniture should he fail to pay the debt. God does not expect impossibilities but requires in the words of St. Paul: "That no man over reach or circumvent his brother in business." Every man's conscience will tell him when he does this. It is no avail to know it, however, without applying the remedy, viz. restitution and resolving to do so no more. Now is the time to do it while we are in life. Don't wait till the grave closes over us, depending on friends to do it; they may forget us. This is the Holy Season of Lent an acceptable time, the day of salvation. Let every one pay his debts and make restitution, resolving to live a straight, honest life in future, for even worldly philosophy avers that "Honesty is the best Policy," and the poet says that "An honest man is the noblest work of God."

READ CIRCULAR LETTER.

The Monsignor also read a circular letter from the Archbishop to the faithful all over the Archdiocese. It referred to the celebration called for by the Civil Authorities under Mayor Nathan, a Whitechapel Jew, to commemorate the taking away of the Papal States and the seating on the property of the Pope by Victor Emmanuel and Garibaldi in 1870. The Circular Letter asked the prayers of the faithful for His Holiness in attacks that were now being made upon the Church by her enemies.

Ontario Murderer Confesses Crime.

Claiming Temporary Insanity. Goderich, Ont., March 20.—Edward Jardine, aged 22 years, now confined in the county jail here awaiting trial at the spring Assizes next month for the alleged murder of Lizzie Anderson, has made a complete confession that he alone committed the deed. This confession was secured by Dr. R. W. Bruce Smith, inspector of prisons and asylums of Toronto, who was here Saturday. Chief Coroner Arthur Jukes Johnson, of Toronto, was also here to examine the sanity of Jardine and George Vanstone. The latter is awaiting trial on a charge of murdering his six year old son here last fall. In the statement said to have been given, Jardine admits that he enticed the Anderson girl from the Fair grounds to the vacant building a short distance away. After some alterations, in which she threatened exposure, he struck her once with the jack knife and she died almost immediately. This murderous attack, Jardine alleges, was due to a fit of temporary insanity. Later, he returned and stripped the body off its clothing by slashing away each article with his knife. Insanity will be the defence in the case of both Jardine and Vanstone.

Uncle Walt THE POET PHILOSOPHER.

If you take a gloomy view, as your journey you pursue, you will have a weary jaunt, getting nothing that you want, for the man who always knocks finds his pathway strewn with rocks. In our village there's a man who has followed up this plan, saying, as he jogs along that all things on earth are wrong, and the gods have weary grown of his dismal monotone, and they surely make him prance every time they have a chance. If a thunderstorm is loose, lightning his cheap caboose; if a food is a raging round, it's the only one that's drowned; if the fire fend visits town, it will burn his haystacks down; and his pigs all roam astray, and his hens have ceased to lay, and his daughters all elope, and his heart is void of hope. For the man who always falls of misfortune seldom fails to encounter all there is of that melancholy biz.

The Mongolian Here.

The Allan liner Mongolian, Capt. A. J. Peters, the first of the Allan ships to arrive here this season, entered port at 2.30 a.m. to-day from Liverpool. She left there Saturday and met with very fine weather crossing the Atlantic, and to avoid ice she ran away nearly 300 miles south of Cape Race. She brought 25 bags and 12 baskets of mail and 415 tons cargo. Her passengers were: W. J. Redstone, S. H. Rodger, J. Ross, Miss Seymour, J. Stick, G. Somerville, J. Black, Mrs. Black, H. Blair, F. Burnham, Mark Chaplin, P. Dalton, M. J. Dyer, Mr. Gore, Dr. Keegan, Miss Keegan, in saloon; A. Bedelsky, M. A. Bernstein, P. H. Parrence, L. C. Horneat, J. Keynes, Mr. Shannon, intermediate. The ship since she was here last has been thoroughly overhauled and renovated at Glasgow. Her engines and boilers were given particular attention and her steaming capacity has been greatly increased, a fact which was displayed on her run to port, which she did in 9 days, though running south and thus lengthening the voyage.

NOTE OF THANKS.—Mrs. George Craig, of Kelligrews, desires to express her thanks to Drs. Fraser and Cowperthwaite, also Miss Southcott, Miss Hannaford and Nurse Sheppard and others for kind attention and treatment during her recent operation and illness in the General Hospital.—advtd.

Growth of Trinity East

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir.—Kindly allow me space to make a few remarks about the growth of this place in a few years. Where there was one church then, we have three now; one near finished and the new Parish Church going ahead rapidly. We have three schools, a High School included. They have been a great benefit to this place, thanks to Miss Brown and Mr. Rowse, and we wish Mr. Goodland success at the next exams. We have a doctor, a shoemaker, and a branch business of one of the best firms in St. John's. We hope to have a blacksmith in the near future. And the best of all, we have the railway running right through the town, and we are glad to learn that our friends on the West Side are to enjoy the same privilege when the Spur Line is built. A motor ferry has been promised us by the Government, but I think it would be a waste of money, as the time is not far distant when we won't want the old ferry which is running now.

Thanking you for space, I remain, Yours, etc. TYRO. Trinity East, March 29th, 1911.
