BY RUTH CAMERON.

"No," said Molly, "Here's our nasturtiums. Mrs. M. would say: 'We save the seeds from our own plants each year. Don't you think they are wonderfully advanced for this time of year?' And then I'd have to rave for two or three minutes over some nasturtium plants that hadn't even begun to blossom. Then we'd move on to the next bed and repeat the process."
"After we had seen the garden we went upstairs, and they showed me some new dresses that Elaine was having made. Yes, they were lovely, all her things are, but still you don't want to have to say so forty-seven ways of a Sunday. Why they expect you to admire every separate seam. It was 'Didn't Mrs. H. finish this exquisitely?' and 'Did you ever see such a lovely color as that crepe meteor?' and so on and on, and if you didn't have an enthusiastic answer ready every time they'd tell people you were jealous because you didn't have such pretty things as Elaine."
"I think that was all that time. There were some pictures that Elaine's wealthy cousin had taken which they wanted to show me, but I had to catch a train so I escaped."
"Escaped, Molly?" said the wants-to-cynic reprovingly. "Do you think that's a pretty word to use about people whose guest you were?"
"If there was a worse one, I know you'd use it," said Molly with warmth. "Besides I wasn't a guest. I paid for every bit of my entertainment with enthusiasm."
"Did you ever do likewise, friend reader?"
"Well, then after dinner they took me out in their garden and I had to

A WOMAN'S GOOD LOOKS

Depend on her general health and freedom from pain. Many a woman looks old before her time because of those irregularities which are essentially feminine. Starting from early womanhood, she suffers from frequently recurring derangements that upset her womanly health. If she be beautiful she grows into that mellow age without wrinkles and crowfoot about the eyes or the blue circles underneath. It is invariably the rule that such women suffer little, or not at all, from those derangements which sap the health and leave in the face the tell-tale story of pain and suffering. Dr. R. V. Pierce, the famous specialist in the diseases of women, found a prescription in his early practice that soothed the organism peculiar to womanhood—oiled the machinery, as it were, of the human system—and helped the woman to pass those painful periods that scar-lined and aged her face. This remedy became the well-known Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, that has benefited thousands of women and saved them from misery and suffering at different periods in life.

See how a well woman after suffering for five years and doctoring with several different doctors, each one saying it was something different, and the last one, after putting me through a thorough examination, said I was suffering from a growth, which, in time, would result in cancer, and said I would live no more than two years if not operated upon right away. I became hopelessly discouraged but would not consent to the operation as I was too weak and too much afraid, but at last, through the advice of a friend, I tried Dr. Pierce's medicine, and after using two bottles of the "Favorite Prescription" I immediately felt a change. I also used two boxes of Healing Suppositories and eight boxes of "Lotion Tablets," and can safely praise the name of Dr. Pierce's medicine to all who suffer from any of the diseases for which his medicines are all they are claimed to be, and I hope will help others as they have helped me.

Household Notes.

When plain white lawn waists are worn around the neck and sleeves, they can often be made into corset covers.
If your gloves get wet, dry them in a cool place and rub a little olive oil into the kid before putting them on again.
To darn a rent in dark material, ravel out and use some of the thread of it instead of regular darning and sewing cotton.
If you keep your clean kitchen utensils in cupboards and drawers you will find them always ready for immediate use.
When the cake in the oven is ready for a final browning, throw a handful of chips on the fire or tuck in a newspaper.
If you wish to give a brass article a polish like new, heat them first, then rub on a paste of hot salt and lemon juice. Rub clear.
Clean milk strainers by rubbing a cake of soap over the wire, then pour boiling water through the strainer and rinse well.
An old Japan tray can be rejuvenated and its usefulness prolonged if you give it two coats of white paint and one of enamel.
If soot falls on a carpet, do not try to brush it off. Spread a handful of well dried salt upon it and sweep up salt and soot together.
If you wish to bring out the flavor of vegetables to perfection, add a teaspoonful of sugar to the water in which they are boiled.
Add a teaspoonful of baking pow-the Alps this summer. For eight hours Henry Van Goethen, a young German tourist, lay crouched with his feet braced against a boulder, holding the skirts of his sister, Miss Van Goethen, while she hung over a precipice nearly a mile high.

The girl, with her brother and her fiancé, Maurice Sombardier, ascended Mount Saussure, and in returning to the perilous pathway leading to the glacier of the Domenon. As they were rounding a granite ledge, clinging to the rocks with hands and feet, she slipped and slid away towards the edge of the precipice.
Startled by her shrieks for help, the girl's brother and fiancé sprang forward just in time to see her disappearing over the verge. The brother threw himself flat on the smooth rock and slid forward just in time to grasp the hem of her skirts as she was going over.
Luckily, his foot came against a small projecting boulder on the very edge of the precipice. Beyond that he was helpless. Sombardier tried to pull the two back, but could not.
"Run for help!" the brother cried between the gritting teeth, fearful the sack might tear his sister's skirt and send her crashing down 2,400 feet in to the rocks below. Sombardier rai-

24 Bulls at 1000 Yards.

Wakefield, Mass., Aug. 20.—Musician George W. Chesley, of New Haven, Conn., a member of the second company, Governor Foot's Guards, established a new world's record to-day when he made 23 consecutive bulls' eyes at the 1,000 yards range while competing in the annual shoot of the New England Military Rifle Association. Chesley was entered in the Winchester Individual match, which was open to all comers. The match called for 15 shots at the 1,000 yards range, slow fire. Chesley made a bull's eye time, winning the match, and was then allowed to continue for a record. On his 24th shot he fell off to four.
