Give the Miller His Due, Mrs. Housewife

If he selects his wheat—
Washes, brushes and scours it—
Grinds it 20 times, so the granules are all alike—
Sifts it 10 times through silk, so you get only utterly perfect flour—
Then bakes a batch from every lot before it leaves the mill—
He deserves Recognition.
It is fair to you and fair to him that you specify his flour.

That's why we tell you of Gold Medal Flour.
We do it to better your baking—to give you more for your money—and to win a bigger place.
And, because we have done it, more homes use Gold Medal than any other flour in existence.
In mutual fairness, next time say

WILLIAM REDMOND AND THE IRISH AMERICANS.

A few noisy Irish-Americans are dealing out goods "made in Germany," but they are not representatives of their race, either in the Empire or in the United States. Their fog-shouting, however, does tend to slightly embarrass and deeply anger and disgust the Irish leaders at home. Mr. William Redmond recently contributed a most powerful article to the London "Daily Chronicle," dealing with the attitude of Ireland in the present struggle. Besides her utter aversion to Prussian militarism, Ireland is bound in honor to Britain. Mr. Redmond says:

"But let me now deal with the consideration which is really, after all, the first—that of honour. In this respect we are heart and soul with the Allies. The vast, the overwhelming majority of Irishmen—that is to say, the Irish nation—believes that the passing of Home Rule is, in fact, a real treaty of peace with the British people. For thirty or forty years the Irish representatives in Parliament and on the platform have assured the British that with the restoration of Ireland's Parliament Ireland would truly end the quarrel and work out her destiny in peace and union with England and Scotland and all the Great lands where Irishmen have found a home, and which belong to Irishmen as much as to any one else. Acting on these assurances, given publicly with the cordial assent of the Irish constituencies and the Irish everywhere, the British people have made Home Rule law, and no man believes this can ever be undone. The British have kept faith with wonderful steadfastness, and Home Rule has passed three times in two years. Does any one really imagine that we in Ireland are going to repay trust and faith by welcoming to Ireland the Germans who have, within the last few days, slaughtered helpless women and children and smashed churches in England? No, sir! That is not the way, thank God, of the Irish!"

"Finally let me assure all who read my words that the news of the killing of men and helpless women and children by the German attacks upon unfortified and open towns in England has filled us in Ireland with as much indignation as it has filled the people of England."

CANADA'S WAR OUTLAY TO DEC. 31 WAS $26,231,974.

Ottawa, Feb. 11.—Expenditures in connection with the organization of the Canadian expeditionary forces and a list of the firms to whom contracts for the supply of boots, clothing, saddlery, etc., were given, are the features of a printed memorandum which was tabled by General Sam Hughes, minister of militia, in the house today.

The report also goes into detail in regard to the organization of the first contingent and of the forces which are now in training, or are being raised. It is pointed out in a report by Quarter-Master General MacDonalld that 38,000 men were all equipped in six weeks.

A list of expenditures for war purposes up to Dec. 31 last is given as follows:
Pay to troops, $11,885,107; separation allowances, $500,949; horses, $1,721,987; clothing, $3,809,415; ammunition, $200,848; field guns, $1,141,073; rifles, bayonets, $520,250; motor cars, etc., $871,023; saddlery and horse equipment, $235,628; other equipment, $1,871,602; engineering works, $520,177; railway transportation, $1,030,961; ocean transport, $1,454,281; censors, $74,320; general, $284,260; a total of $26,231,974.

PROTECT CANADA FROM INVASION.

Toronto, Feb. 11.—The Monroe Doctrine, its meaning and its application to Canada and other countries of the American continent, was the subject of ex-President W. H. Taft's address to the Canadian Club at their luncheon this afternoon.

Mr. Taft pointed out that the doctrine was not an international law; merely an expression of policy on the part of the United States. In turning to the doctrine's application to Canada, Mr. Taft pointed out that this country, as a belligerent, must take the consequences, but that Germany, if by any chance successful, would not be allowed to seize Canadian territory. There was even a charge that the doctrine would be stretched or a new policy followed, to protect Canada from even invasion, but that would not have anything to do with the original Monroe doctrine.

AN OMISSION.—The name of Robt. Louis Stevenson, of Mockbeggar, Bonavista, was inadvertently omitted from the list of naval volunteers published in a recent issue of the Telegram. This correction, however, does not affect the total as we credited Bonavista with 36 men though we only gave the names of 35.
