CHOSE MARKSMEN TO SHOOT HIM

Condemned Murderer Picks
Out Six Crack Shots.

ONE GUN HAD NO CARTRIDGE

Executioners Flashed and Behind
Screen Send Bullet Straight to Heart.

Salt Lake City, Nov. 24.—Peter Mortensen was legally shot to death in the jail yard here Friday morning by men he himself had selected to fire the fatal bullets. For weeks applications from crack shots to take part had been pouring in, and the sheriff permitted the condemned man to choose the members of the squad.

With marvelous coolness Mortensen went over the list of applicants, closely questioned the sheriff and others as to their qualifications, and, having finally satisfied himself that no mistake could be made, marked off the names of the men upon whose certain aim depended his instant taking off.

Those men reported for duty Thursday night, coming singly to the jail under cover of darkness, to the north end of the prison inclosure. Early this morning the sheriff's assistants drew a screen across the doorway of the blacksmiths shop on the north end of the prison inclosure.

In the screen were six loopholes, two feet apart. The sharpshooters, clad in long linen dusters and wearing masks, filed into the yard, and took up their positions behind the screen.

The sheriff stepped into the screen and handed each man a rifle, which had been carefully selected the night before.

Only one of these rifles was harmless. The rest were loaded with bullet cartridges.

Mortensen was led into the inclosure. He stood quietly while the physician pointed over his heart a small bit of paper with a black "X" marked in his center.

He faced the screen when the blindfold had been placed over his eyes, and for a moment the silence of death fell on the scene.

The sheriff stepped across the screen and saw six muzzle opposite the loopholes.

"All ready, boys," he said in a low voice. "Steady, and don't make any mistake about it."

Mortensen, at the sound of the sheriff's voice, started slightly and took a step backward.

"Fire!" commanded the sheriff.

A sharp volley followed, and the condemned man fell on his face. Every bullet hit the mark.

YOU CAN LAUGH AT DYSPEPSIA

If You Have a Few of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets at Hand—Experience of Hon. Trudel, a Student of Three Rivers.

That nervous, irritable feeling—the feeling that keeps you from settling down to any kind of work—that makes you feel dissatisfied with yourself and worse still that everybody else is dissatisfied with you?

Are you bothered with a feeling of that kind? Here Trudel, a student of Three Rivers, Que., was bothered so badly that he resolved to give up his studies. But he didn't. He used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets instead, and was soon feeling as well as ever he did in his life. Mr. Trudel says:

"Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets brought sunshine into my life. I was troubled with dyspepsia to the point that I was discouraged. I used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, with the result that I have no pain, no headaches, no weariness. I am cured."

Dyspepsia is the comfort killer of the present age. With a few of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets in your pocket you can laugh at it.

Dropped Dead.

ABYSSINIANS TO ATTACK MULLAH

They Will Co-operate With the British Troops.

A PICKED FORCE TO BE SENT

No Definite Date Fixed for a Forward Movement of the British Troops.

London, Nov. 24.—It is understood that some 4,000 Abyssinian troops will co-operate with Gen. Egerton's force in the forthcoming operations against the Mullah.

On this occasion the Abyssinian force will not be composed only of Ras Makuan's army, but will also comprise troops from the Emperor's own regiments, some from the Abyssinian capital and some from the Harar district.

Mendlik has himself displayed great interest in the equipment of this force, and the recent reports that the Emperor was mobilizing his army were due to the extensive preparations both at Addis Ababa and at Harar—in the purchase of mules, ponies, etc.—which have been in progress for the dislodging of the army.

According to recent advices the Abyssinian army was to march from Harar towards the end of November, its aim being to prevent the Mullah, who is still supposed to be in the Nogal Valley, from breaking away south across the Webbe Shubole, Capt. A. A. Duff, Gordon Highlanders, vice-consul at Addis Ababa, and Mr. J. L. Baird, second secretary of the British embassy, will by this time have arrived at Harar from London, whence they were specially dispatched in order to meet the Emperor and Major Colbold in accompanying the Abyssinian army.

In well informed quarters a good deal of uncertainty exists as to the exact date for the British advance, while reports via Aden continually give fresh dates for this move. Officers' letters from Somaliland do not mention any definite date, but on the other hand refer to the great difficulties of transport which still exist, and to the mortality among the camels.

Invalued troops who arrived from Harar have reported that the Mullah, like a definite date was known generally in Somaliland, and state that the places the route from Beledweh was lined with dead camels.

U. S. BREEDERS AFRAID

Fear Canadian Competition at St. Louis Fair.

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 24.—It is understood here that the officials of the St. Louis exposition are unwilling to most representatives of the live stock interests of Canada, until the latter decide whether or not they will exhibit at St. Louis. This attitude is likely to bring about any change of front on the part of the breeders and stockmen of Canada. In fact, the likelihood is that they will issue an ultimatum refusing to send stock to St. Louis unless there is a decided modification of the regulations under which Canadian animals are admitted to the exposition, as well as of the conditions upon which the prize lists are based.

Breeders in Canada freely express their opinion that the Canadian live stock interests are being unfairly treated in the St. Louis exposition, and are afraid of Canadian competition. This, they say, is based upon the success of Canadian stock at the Philadelphia, Chicago and Buffalo.

GERONIMO A CHRISTIAN

The Apache Chief Joins the Dutch Reformed Church.

Fort Sill, Ok., Nov. 24.—The story circulated several months ago that Geronimo had become a member of a Christian church is true. He did not become a Methodist, as was told, but joined the Dutch Reformed Church, to which President Roosevelt belongs.

The Reverend Frank H. Wright, a Chautauque citizen, and the Reverend Walter C. Roe, missionary at Colony, both ministers of the church to which Geronimo had joined, were present at a meeting, held at Locos Camp near Medicine Bluff and administered baptism to a large number of Apaches.

At one meeting, when the usual invitation was extended to persons who wished to unite with the church, Geronimo was present. He was examined by the two missionaries and Professor J. T. Bergen, of Hope College, at Holland, Mich., and questioned closely as to his understanding of the idea of God and the atonement of Christ, and was asked if he was willing to abandon all Indian superstitions and evil practices. He was told that the change was not for a short time, but for all his life, and that he no longer could gamble and drink whisky. He said that he understood what was required of him and that he was in earnest.

The Reverend Mr. Roe, said that his answers and promises were such as to forbid their refusing admission. He was baptized by sprinkling. Reports from his village say that he seems really to be trying to lead a better life. He attended a mission among the Comanches after his conversion and sat in the front seat.

WITH CARGO AFIRE

Liner Races Into Port With Big Blaze in Hold.

New York, Nov. 24.—The Old Dominion liner Monroe raced to port on fire all the way from Atlantic City yesterday. Capt. John G. Huphurs was vice overcome by the smoke. Chief officer Crossley was also overcome, but either was affected seriously.

The fire was confined to cotton in No. 1 hold forward. The passengers at first showed excitement bordering on panic, but soon quieted.

The steamer is the latest addition to the Old Dominion Line. It left Norfolk at 7 o'clock on Friday night with about forty-seven passengers, nearly all first-class.

In the United States the distance of the average railway journey is 22 miles; in England it is scarcely 10, while in Germany it is 15 miles, in France 21 and in Russia 65 miles.

A DEMOCRATIC POPE

Plus Has Done Away With Much Heavy Ceremonial.

Rome, Nov. 24.—A Monsignor who, because of his position, is frequently received in private audience by the Pope, said the other day:

"When I went to the Vatican to see the late Pope, I was obliged to speak with him kneeling, sometimes for more than half an hour. With Pius X. it is different; he excuses you from kneeling, with a smile and a gesture that seem to say: 'Don't; it is not in keeping with the times.' He makes you sit down near him, and not only wants you to have your say, but he even proposes contradiction in order that he may know both sides of the question."

"An audience with the new Pope is a real treat instead of a ceremony, and, then, you are not in danger of falling into disgrace for a misplaced phrase or expression."

The several secretaries of the Roman congregations, who have to see the Pope once or twice every week because of their office, are unanimous in praising the new condition of affairs, although a few of the old prelates make a show of being horror-stricken at this invasion of democratic manners into the life of the Pope.

Pius X. does not even ring the electric bell when he is in need of his private secretaries for fear of giving trouble. He simply walks to his secretaries' office, and many a time visitors to these prelates have been greeted by an unexpected visit from the Pope, who never fails to address every one with the utmost affability. It is the simplicity and kindness of the new head of the Church that has made him so popular in ecclesiastical circles.

DISLIKES THE TACTICS

Prominent Conservative Says Party Does Too Much Abusing.

Peterboro, Nov. 23.—At a banquet tendered to Professor Hutton, principal of Toronto University, on the occasion of his delivering a lecture here on Friday night, Mr. J. Hatfield Burnham, in proposing the toast of "The Political Institutions of Canada," spoke to the effect as reported in the Peterboro Review: Mr. Hatfield Burnham proposed the toast of the "Political Institutions of Canada," and named as respondents the toast from J. K. Stratton, who, he said, had done much for the town of Peterboro and his constituency. He further said that the constituents of Mr. Stratton felt that it was time the Conservative party brought forward some policy that would be more creditable to it than that of abuse and affidavit-producing, which had recently characterized it.

Parliament, Green Hour.

Paris, Nov. 24.—The Parisian "green hour" is that genial season from 6 to 7 in the evening, when all the side-walks of the cafes of the boulevards and the Latin Quarter are lined with numberless little tables, on which stand green-tinted glasses with a morsel of sugar dripping appetizingly above them from a spoon across the brim. This is the immortal absinthe, known in the rich vernacular of the Parisian as the "petroleum" (parrot). A simple pure Parisian hasn't tapered off his day properly if he hasn't spent his "green hour" somewhere on the boulevards.

MAY BE LIFE PRISONER

Although According to Law He Is No Criminal.

Providence, Nov. 24.—In enforcing the law imposing a poll tax of $1 the city of Pawtucket has caused John Barden to be incarcerated in the prison of Howard.

Barden has written to Gov. Garvin, a pathetic plea for release. He recites that he has been held in prison for twenty-three weeks, and adds:

"I ain't got a cent and can't get it." The city is supposed to keep him in prison until he settles not only the tax of $1, but the costs of commitment and his board bill of $3 per week, which the city is now paying the state for enforcing a state law.

The Governor cannot pardon the man because he has not been convicted of any crime, and unless the Legislature, which will meet next January, orders his release, he may be kept there indefinitely.
