LONDON JUNCTION.

LOCAL MARKET.

London, Saturday, Dec. 9. Although the weather was not at all inviting, there was a large crowd in attendance at the market. Many grocers and other buyers were in attendance, and while they made large purchases, there seemed to be a dullness in the market. The demand for the smaller lines, the delivery of poultry was larger than was expected. Sales were, however, fairly brisk, considering the quantity offered. Prices in most of the lines offered were a trifle easier.

Grain—The demand for oats is as brisk as it has been for some time back; the millers are offering $1.05 per cwt., and when the private firms wanted any they had to get a load; sales were made at higher prices, viz., $1.06 to $1.09 per cwt., mostly at $1.07.

Butter and Eggs—Butter was in fair supply, at 21c to 22c for crocks and 23c for pound rolls. Eggs seemed to be more plentiful today, packed eggs sold at 40c per dozen, sales were made at 40c and 41c per dozen, and strictly fresh, laid at 40c to 41c.

Vegetables and Roots—The supply of potatoes was large, and as there were a couple of carloads shipped in, the demand was not as brisk as it has been for some time ago; prices were lower, most of the two ago; were made at 8c to 9c per bag; cabbages sold at 20c to 25c per dozen, and 40c per dozen; other vegetables unchanged in price.

Poultry—As mentioned above, the supply was large, as almost every vehicle had its quota; in the dairy hall there was also a considerable quantity of poultry offered, sold at 12c to 14c per lb.; dressed, 15c to 16c per lb.; live, 17c to 18c per lb.; by the pair they sold at 30c to 35c, dressed, or 40c to 45c alive; old hens sold at 5c to 7c per lb.; dressed, or 5c to 6c alive; ducks were in demand, at 15c to 16c per pair; geese, 10c to 12c.

Dressed Hogs—The carload received yesterday put the butchers on easy street, as they did not seem to care whether they did or not; sales, as a consequence, were made at lower prices; the market opened at 8c to 8.25 per cwt; later on sales were made at from 7.50 to 8.00 per cwt.

Live Hogs—The price for Monday's shipment will be 8c per cwt. for select; supply, sales were made at 8c to 8.25 per cwt; lamb sold at 15c to 16c per lb.; higher, at 17c to 18c per lb.

TALKED REUNION AND POLITICS, GAVE PRESIDENT A GOLD WATCH

Old Boys of the Home Guard Have a Banquet to Wind Up Year's Work.

The Old Boys' banquet in the Tecumseh House last night added another chapter to the splendid history of the home guard. About 50 guests sat down to a splendid spread, later in the evening listening to witty and eloquent speeches. The guest list included representatives of all the civic bodies of London, as well as the professions, while the toast list elicited responses from a large number of gentlemen with reputations as after dinner speakers.

From beginning to end, the Old Boys were the keynote of the addresses, but nevertheless other matters were not neglected, and certain members of the city council and other civic bodies took occasion to decry the presence of politics in municipal matters.

The feature of the evening was the presentation of an address and handsome gold watch and chain to President Robert A. Carrothers. The address, which was read by Mr. E. J. MacRobert, who also made the presentation, said some very nice things of the president. The watch was suitably engraved and contained the miniature photos of Mr. and Mrs. Carrothers. The president responded briefly, feelingly, declaring that Old Boys to have been too good to him. He took occasion to thank all the members of the executive and the secretary, Mr. B. C. McCann, for the work they had performed, and he also added a word of thanks for the ladies, who had done so much to make the big parade of Old Boys' week a success.

The Toast List.
The first half of the toast list was carried out by Mr. Carrothers, after which he handed the list to the vice-president, Mr. John Stevely, who took occasion to make a few remarks on the toast of the Old Boys, and of Mr. Nicholas Wilson. During the evening songs were rendered by Messrs. Wm. Skinner, J. W. Martin, S. S. Thorpe, Arthur W. White, Ald. Sam Stevely, Dr. C. Judd, Ald. W. Gerry, Chas. E. Wheeler, J. W. Martin, S. S. Thorpe, Herbert Middleton, Dan McIntyre, F. W. Pratt, H. S. Mara, H. Marshall, Graydon, W. T. Strong, C. B. Edwards, Alex. Purdon, Thomas Wilson, John Hinchins, William Ward, Dr. Fred Wood, A. L. Davis, Ald. Gillian, J. W. McIntosh, Walter Bartlett, B. C. McCann, M. E. Hickey, J. J. Carrothers, J. W. Pocock, S. H. Craig, John Fallahee, Francis Love, E. J. MacRobert, D. W. Blackwell, Thomas Wilson, T. H. Fallis, E. D. Grant, E. W. M. Flock, J. J. Dyer, F. J. Darch, Wm. Teates, T. H. Purdon, Nicholas Wilson, Frank E. Love, R. H. Avery, J. A. Tune, W. H. Mahon.

Regrets were read from Hon. C. S. Hyman, M. P. and James H. Herrick, Albany, N. Y.

The Toast List.
President Carrothers first proposed the toast of "The King" and it was drunk in a hearty manner, three cheers being given for his majesty.

Mr. C. B. Edwards, school inspector of London, responded to the toast of "Our Country." He said in the course of a bright little speech that Canada was three blessed in having a mixture of nationalities within its domain, as nations of mixed races always made the greatest progress in national life.

Coupled with a high compliment to the names of Mayor Campbell, Chairman Darch, of the water commission; Chairman Yeates, of the board of education; Ald. Stevely, Ald. Gerry, and Gillian, Dr. English, of the board of health, and Trustees Blackwell, Mayor Campbell was the first to respond. He said the Old Boys' reunion this year was the best ever held, and was a credit to the city, and the officers and committees of the home guard. And when the reunion again comes around, it will be found that the same energy and goodwill displayed this year will make it a grand success.

In speaking of the city council, he advised the people of London to return the men whom they think are fit, and allow those whom they feel are not of the proper sort to remain at home.

"Abominable Politics."
Chairman Yeates said the reason the board of education has kept pace with the progress of the city in educational matters has been because of the fact that as a rule good men have been selected as trustees by the people. He announced that the board will this year have a surplus. He referred in eulogistic terms to Mr. Nicholas Wilson, who for 60 years has been teaching the employment of the London Board of Education. Speaking of municipal matters, he said the "abominable politics" should be cut out. The efforts of good men to help had been frequently blocked by politics in the different municipal bodies.

Chairman Darch, speaking for the water commission, caused a laugh by asserting that good water is necessary to every person who wishes to enjoy the other liquids. He said the Old Boy movement is one of the greatest importance to London, if only from an advertising standpoint. All the people of London should be proud of the fact of the city irrespective of politics.

"I hope we'll all hang together," he said.

"I hope not," a voice interrupted.

"I hope not that way," said Mr. Darch, laughing.

Dr. English said the board of health is doing its best to keep the people of London healthy, and to keep the water pure. The members of the board had always had a good word for the Old Boys.

Will Not Be Behind.
Ald. Stevely said that despite the adverse criticism in certain quarters the council of this year will not be behind its predecessors. The year has been a most important one to London, and the council has made the best of its opportunities. The council had been good to the Old Boys and will be good to the Old Boys and will be good to the Old Boys.

Among the important business which will come up next year will be the matter of raising the salary of London's police magistrate, who is recognized as one of the very best magistrates in Canada. (Cheers.)

Ald. Gerry said that the record of No. 2 committee of the city council, of which he is a member, will speak for itself this year, and all work done will be found to have been in the best interests of the citizens at large.

Ald. Gillian said he had done his best during the year to discharge his duties faithfully as an alderman. He said the Old Boys' reunion and the success of the big reunion, and congratulated the officers on the presence at the banquet of Mr. Nicholas Wilson, the daddy of them all.

Trustee Blackwell was called upon as "the Mark Twain of the municipal bodies." He said all the brains men of the different civic bodies had received their start in the board of education, pointing to Mayor Campbell and others.

Mr. E. J. MacRobert also referred to the deep interest taken by citizens of all classes in the reunion, as shown by the generous financial aid given to the executive, without which it would have been impossible to have attempted the reunion.

Proud of His Children.
Mr. Nicholas Wilson was first to respond to the toast of "The Old Boys." He spoke of the old days, and looked with pride on the faces of many of his old pupils gathered around the board.

"I am not ashamed of my children," he concluded. "And when I am laid for a last sleep on the banks of the river, I shall have the satisfaction of knowing that my thoughts will revert to the Old Boys who have been so good to me."

Mr. Thomas Purdon said Londoners should look at Canadians, not from the standpoint of Sarah Bernhardt, but from the viewpoint of the London Old Boys. If Sarah had looked this way, she might have seen a real, a famous artist; Arthur Stringer, a poet, Sir John Murray, a famous explorer, and Frank Love, a good magistrate, if she had been looking for one. It's a grand thing to be a London Old Boy. Many judges had come from London, including the late Judge Wilson, Judge Street, Chief Justice W. R. Meredith, Judge Richard M. Meredith, Judge Magee, Judge MacMahon, and others. And Mr. E. J. MacRobert, general manager of the Merchants' Bank of Canada, is a London Old Boy. In the railroad, we have George Bell and our own Rev. Dr. Ball and Rev. Mr. Herridge. This is London's record. Canada can take care of itself.

Words for Bob and Barney.
Police Magistrate Love said that the success of the Old Boys' reunion was due in a great measure to the selection of President Carrothers and Secretary McCann as the heads of the home guard. He said that the home guard was a hole-in-the-wall, but that the men who met the Old Boys and Old Girls and make them feel at home, "Old Nick" Wilson had often lambasted him in the old union school, he has no desire now to get even with "Old Nick." In fact, he believed the old teacher was still man enough to whip any of his old pupils who might have been obstreperous.

Mr. William Ward made a humorous speech, in which he told of some of the boyhood pranks of the Old Boys and Tom Purdon in the old union school, the recital of which greatly pleased all present.

Mr. Walter Bartlett also spoke briefly, paying a high compliment to the Old Boy officers who had made the reunion this year a success.

Mr. B. C. McCann said it gave him the greatest pleasure to work for the Old Boys and to add his mite to the success of the great home-coming of Old Boys and Old Girls. He gave the names of the great home-coming of Old Boys and Old Girls, the chairmen of committees and the committees great credit for the work they performed. A proof of the good management this year was the fact that the reunion was a success, the big men of London, who had come out with surplus, had come out with surplus.

Mr. W. T. Strong said every citizen of London should feel grateful to President Carrothers and Secretary McCann for the grand success they had made of the Old Boys'
