[Special to The Advertiser.] Huntinton, W. Va , April 22 .- Hunting ton and London engaged in one of the best games of baseball ever seen on thes grounds today. The score does not sho the full extent of the hitting done by the London Club. The high class fielding the Huntington Club saved them from d feat many times during the game. Ca dert, by sensational fielding, saved l club from defeat three times during th game, in getting line drives while m were on bases. The London Club is t best hitting minor league club ever see on the local grounds. The tie score wa due to an error by Reisling in the ninth inning otherwise the game would have ended there. The features for London were the fielding of Mullin and Munn, Heck's pitching and the hitting of McGonagle. Outfielder Okay has been released to the Clarksburg Club. MANUACTURERS' LEAGUE WANTS A SIXTH TEAM

Five Firms Have Already Entered Nines, and Prospect is That League Will Have Successful Season.

Five teams were represented at the Manufacturers' Baseball League meeting held in the board of trade rooms last evening. The firms desiring to enter were McCormicks, Perrins, Greene-Swifts, Leonards and Brener Bros. All were enthusiastic over the prospect of organizing the league and with a sixth team to make it complete the organization should prove a successful one.

The games will be played at Springbank Park, in all probability, and will be staged every Saturday afternoon. Cameron Lawton was elected secretary of the league at last night's meeting and he will set about making arrangements to have the details of organization complete before the next meeting, which will be held next Wednesday evening in the same place.

A MERE SMELL WAS SUFFICIENT

The plans of a very light-draught gunboat were once shown to Abraham Lincoln, the martyred president of the United States. Great stress was laid on the fact that this boat would manoeuvre in very little water. "Oh, yes," hazarded the President, " presume it will run wherever the ground s slightly damp.' Which reminds us of Professor Price's remark during the Russell test. About the tenth day of the test, Proessor Price and Mr. Russell were comparing the figures for fuel and oil consumption with the best previous world's records, which were being shattered hour by hour.

"Is she using much 'gas'?" inquired Mr. Russell. "She's using so little," replied Professor, "that I believe she'd run on the mere smell of gasoline."
