

News of the World Near and Far Told By the Camera

Bulgarian Woman Diplomat.

MISS NADEJDA STANCIOFF has just received the appointment of first secretary of the Bulgarian legation at Washington. She is just 27 years old, and has for years assisted her father in his diplomatic duties as representative of his country at such places as Bucharest, Vienna, Petrograd, Paris, Rome, and lately as minister to London.

The model's definition of "diplomat" is "one who knows how to keep a secret." Miss Nadejda Stancioff knows how. She proved it during the last eleven years as secretary to her father. "I love the work, the service to my country," she says. "And what advancement I have gained I owe to my training with my father and friendship with the Bulgarian premier."

Two Other Lloyd Georges.

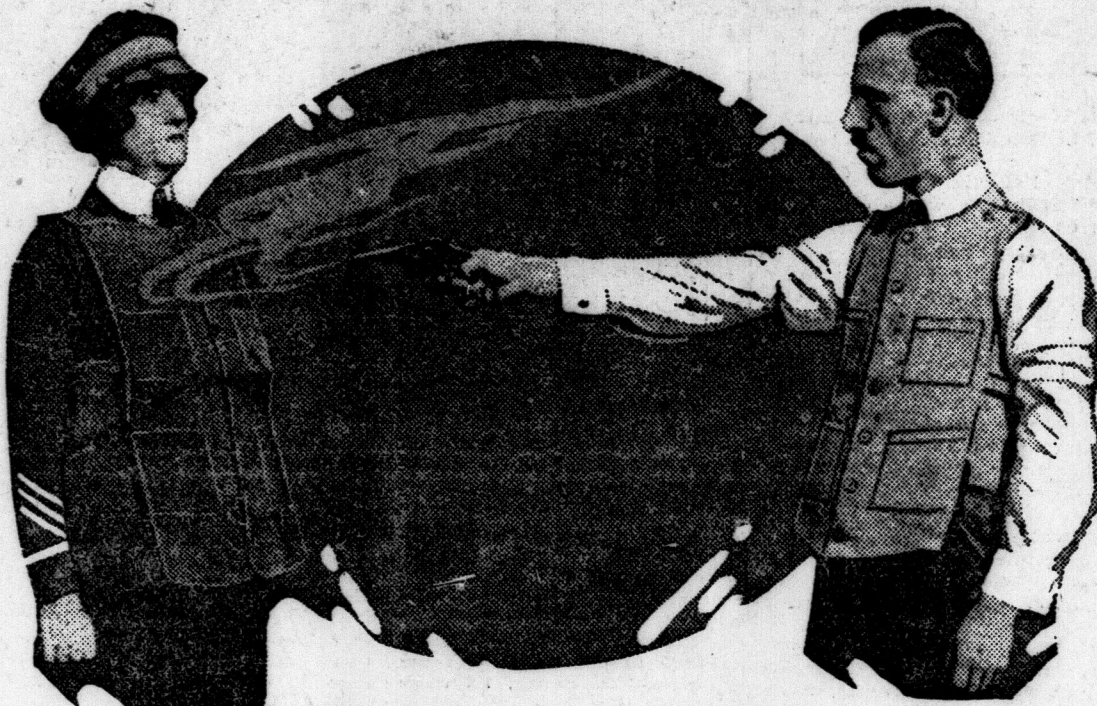

GWILYM LLOYD GEORGE and Miss Megan Lloyd George, son and daughter of the British premier, played opposite each other in a historical pageant at Harlech Castle. The photo shows them as Sir Edmund Mortimer and Lady Mortimer in a farewell scene.

Champion Woman Trick Rider.

BONNIE GRAY didn't learn the above trick at the University of Idaho, of which she is a graduate, nor yet at the University of Chicago, of which she is a post-graduate. She won the women's championship of the world for trick riding at Pike's Peak rodeo.

Bullets Don't Even Tickle When This Vest Is Worn.

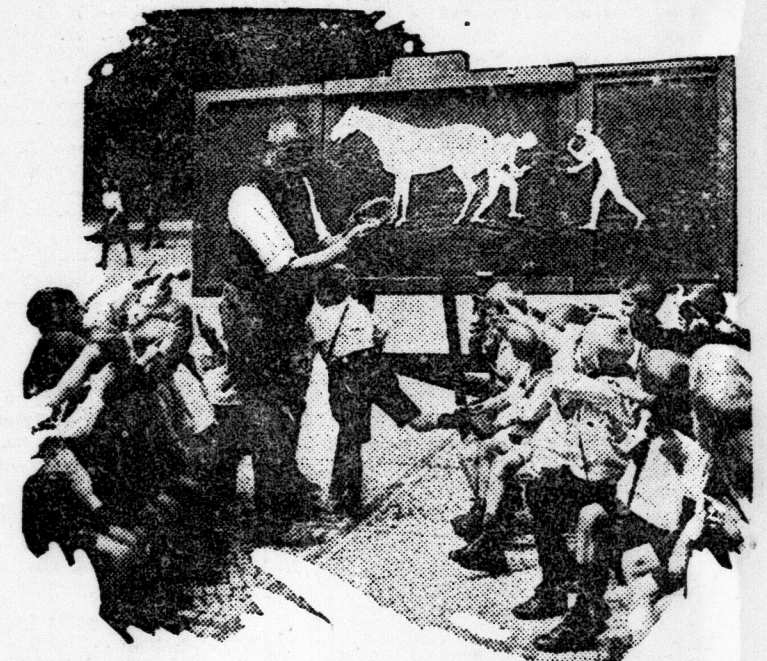

LEO KRAUSE used Captain Edna Pitkin of the New York police reserves as a target to test out his invention of a bullet-proof vest. The vest, which has been adopted by the New York police department for officers assigned to perilous duties, weighs only 12 pounds, protects every vital part of the body, front, back and sides, and can be worn under an ordinary coat without its presence being betrayed.

The Smile That Won the Prize.

MISS RUTH JANE BRADSHAW of Denver, Col., is happy. No wonder she has just been declared the winner in a magazine beauty contest. Ruth is just 15 years old, but she has won several beauty contests.

Germany Prepares for Future.

EVEN the little shaved-pates in the first grades of school are taught some industry so that they may help in Germany's industrial revival when they grow up. Here's one class at Charlottenburg School being taught how to shoe horses, with one of the youngsters acting as the horse.

Daredevil Driver Injured.

THE auto driven by Peter De Paola was one of the several machines that met with accidents during the racing on the Kansas City motor speedway recently. Picture shows Harry Henning, mechanic, dragging his pilot, De Paola, who suffered serious injury from under the car.

Dobbin, Out of Work, Dolls Up.

SINCE autos and tractors are doing a great deal of the work formerly done by horses, Dobbin has had more time to spend on his personal attire. Here's Gee-Gee dressed up as Charlie Chaplin, escorted by his owner, at the Barnet (England) Fair.

Allies Go Over the Top Again.

AGAIN the British and French go over the top together. But this time it is in an international women's athletic meet in Brussels. Miss Lines, British contestant (left) secured the hurdle honors. Much prowess was exhibited by the fair contestants in the various athletic events on the Cincepad program, which included all the different lines of sport.

WHEN Milwaukee lost the beer out of its slogan, Matthew Schimenz came across with a new sign. Here's "The Sunflower That Made Milwaukee Famous."

BABY BUSTER KEATON, son of the movie star, who never smiles in his pictures, in his first appearance before a camera.

Just a Friendly Little Mix-up.

HERE'S a little practice scrimmage for the linemen at Princeton, N. J., just rough enough to give the fellows a little hardening for what's to follow in the coming season. Instruction in preliminary tactics for this season's grid team has been going for some weeks back.

Heroic Efforts of No Avail.

THE rescue crew, who "broke through" to the section of the Argonaut mine in Jackson, Cal., where 47 miners were entombed for three weeks, only to find their comrades dead. As a result of their brave efforts, the crew of 30 wins $5,000.

DR. CHARLES MAYO, the famous Rochester surgeon, who was recently called to the White House for a consultation on the illness of President Harding's wife.

JACKO, this little monkey, likes nothing better than a pull at his pipe while riding in the pocket of his master, H. I. Le Neve of Barnet, England.

LATEST picture of Baron Kato, now premier of Japan. The premier, who is an independent politician, is said to have incurred the wrath of a large portion of his country by his concessions at the Washington conference.

Tenement Boys Tennis Champs.

THESE youngsters, who live in a tenement district of New York, indulge their tennis proclivities by stretching a net across the street for a court and making wooden paddles for racquets.