City Magistrate One of Most Capable in Country, Mowat Declares.

WIFE DESERTION

Charles J. Scott's Lawyer Claims Case Outside Canadian Jurisdiction.

Appeal of Charles J. Scott's conviction in police court several weeks ago, when he was sentenced to the Ontario reformatory for wife desertion was dismissed at Osgoode hall yesterday by Mr. Justice Mowat. The appeal was entered by U. A. Buchner, who declared that as Scott had obtained a divorce in the United States, and as his home was in Detroit, Magistrate Graydon had no jurisdiction in the case.

LARGEST COCK MAIN BRINGS $220 FINES

Others present who were recognized by the high constable, and they will receive summons in the near future. Those who contributed a total of $16.50 each, without the formality of attending court were A. Thompson, Alex. Johnston, James Whitlock and Harry Whitlock, all of Sarnia; Geo. H. Hooper, Petrolia; George McWaine, Port Huron; Bert Smith, London.

Constable Mennie, questioned by Crown Attorney Albert Judd, who prosecuted the case, stated that business was brisk at the cocking main when he and High Constable Wharton arrived. A trap game was also in progress. Talbot said that he didn't know anything about the liquor which was found in the tent that had been erected for the day.

Never Saw Liquor.
"I know nothing about the liquor, and never had anything to drink for four years," Talbot declared. "I didn't know they were going to have a cock fight, or I'd never have allowed it. They told me it was going to be a picnic. I didn't know it was going to be a fight until Sunday night."

"Who asked for the picnic?" asked Mr. Judd.
"McDowell and Bert Smith," was the answer. "I never met them till last week."

Q—How much did you get for having the picnic there? A—Not a copper.
Q—Ever have any other picnics there? A—Yes, at a place two years ago.
Q—Did you ask where the liquor came from? A—No.

Q—You still think high constable is telling what is untrue? A—Of course, I deny it. Even if I were to have my head cut off, I'd deny it. I don't call all this a picnic. I have a good reputation all over the country. "You're the man to blame," declared the court in imposing the $25 and $50 fine on Talbot. "It is a pretty clear case for you."

"I'm sorry," replied Talbot. "I guess I'm to blame. How much will you take for six birds alive? If I'm going into the business, I'll have to make a start."

"There is one in the woods now that we couldn't catch," said the high constable. "I don't know where the boys came last night and got the birds. I had six I could run a pit next year if you fellows didn't watch me too close."

The gamecock first came upon the players gathered in a nook in the woods. Not being recognized, they did not bother the players for a while, but went into the woods further, and from whence yells and cheers were coming.

Once again they were not recognized. However, only for a few minutes. When Talbot looked up, according to Mr. Wharton, he cried, "It's Wharton!" And then there was a wild scramble for the woods. Some got away, others didn't.

Started for Cars.
A number started for their cars, but the officers beat them to it and grabbed the keys from the switches, and the owners could not start the machines. They also beat it for the woods. Mr. Wharton followed a number of them, while Mennie took care of the trap players.

The gamecocks which were loose at the time also flew to the woods, and according to Mr. Wharton, there is one tremendously big red fellow still roaming around here having been able to keep out of the clutches of the law.

It required several tries to get before all the cocks could be brought to the city, and then only a few of the dead ones were brought in to use as evidence against the men.

All Over Country.
The cages, in which the gamecocks were kept, bear express markings showing that they have been all over the United States and Canada.

Mr. Wharton believes that the event is an annual one, for preparations had been made to entertain the guests for a considerable length of time.

SALES OF BEER SHOW DROP OVER HOLIDAY

Demand For Beverages Decreased by Cold Weather and Showers.

Beer sales in London were light on the holiday. Cold weather and showers did their part to lessen the desire for ice cold lager.
"We do not expect a heavy demand for the new ale and beer every day," said one prominent hotel keeper today. "The beer is good, but the alcoholic content is not high enough to cause a rush on cold days. It is a good warm-weather beverage and no doubt will be popular in the summer."

Other hotel men expressed the opinion yesterday was not a day for drinks of any kind except hot concoctions.

"U" Collects Twelve Cents For Year's Wilful Damage

Loss Through Accidents Takes $1,100 From $2,500 "Caution" Fund.

BOTH PAID IN FULL

Inspectors Say Plan Brings Greater Respect For Equipment.

Twelve cents worth of damage, due to wilfulness or carelessness, was done the new university buildings this year by students. The damage to equipment by accident was about $1,100. Both amounts were paid in full, according to the records of the "caution" money, which was collected from the students at the beginning of the year and returned, less breakages, last week.

Every student entering the university pays in advance from $5 to $10 caution money to cover any damage done during the two terms. What is returned when the academic year closes is returned.

The caution money insures the university against loss. The fact that, if no breakages occur the money is refunded to the student, has a stabilizing effect upon his treatment of instruments and apparatus, according to the instructors.

This year the amount of caution money paid in at the beginning of the year was $2,500. Of this $1,100 was returned, leaving the amount of damage paid for $1,100.

There was but one case of wilful damage, and it totalled 12 cents.

Running Water For Park Swimming Pool Urged By Health Board Chief

C. H. Mitchell Will Present Idea at Tonight's Meeting.

A. O. HUNT'S OPINION

Matter of Opening Pool Will Depend Entirely on Provincial Authorities.

Running water in the Thames park swimming pool (on a larger scale than at present) would solve the matter of opening the pool this summer in the opinion of C. H. Mitchell, chairman of the local board of health. At tonight's meeting of the board, Mr. Mitchell will propose that the provincial board of health, Toronto, be asked to grant consent to the opening of the pool, providing this be done.

The cost of putting more running water into the pool would not be very much," says Mr. Mitchell, "and I believe that if this were done the provincial authorities would be quite willing to allow the pool to be opened. In any case this seems to be the most economical solution of the present difficulty, and I shall propose this tonight."

Last year the pool was at times almost stagnant, and this is one of the serious objections to it by provincial authorities. Henry Fleschner of Brunner drove his car into the side of the caboose and wrecked the machine. He suffered severe scalp wounds and fractured ribs. Miss Irene Girth of Kitchener was badly cut on the face, head, back and shoulders while another passenger, Miss Freda Schwindt of Milberton escaped with a slight cut on her left hand.

Mr. Fleschner stated after the mishap that he thought the train would clear the crossing and accordingly he did not bring his car to a stop. He was driving at about four miles an hour when he hit the caboose.

Unless some compromise is reached," the paper remarks, "it looks as if Great Britain and France will have to pursue separate paths."

Nothing has been learned officially regarding the reply, but it is understood that it will be discussed by the cabinet tomorrow.

MOVIES AID IN U. S. TRADE, LONDON DAILY CLAIMS

Associated Press Despatch.
London, May 25.—Trade follows the film," says the London Daily News in an article relating to the benefits obtained by American industry through the medium of the moving picture. American clothing and shoes and various other articles have become the most known through the film in various parts of the world that there is a regular demand for them and British dealers have started fashioning their goods accordingly, says the newspaper.

In this respect the Daily News quotes Percy Nash, one of the best known British producers, as saying: "So great is the influence of the American film that many British manufacturers of ready-made clothing and shoes have had to alter their designs and to manufacture on American models with which their overseas customers have been familiarized by the American moving picture."

MRS. FRANK ANDERSON IS AGAIN BOARD HEAD

Re-elected President of Huron Diocesan Board of W. A. At Session Today.

SLATE DRAWN UP

"All Our Plans Are Means To an End," Officer Tells Delegates.

Mrs. Frank Anderson was re-elected president of the Huron diocesan board of the W. A. at the opening session of the annual meeting this afternoon, held in Cronyn hall.

The slate of the nominating committee was as follows: 1st vice-president, Mrs. Barrett; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Bowen; editor of Living Message, Mrs. Bartram; Dorcas secretary-treasurer, Miss Smith; girls' secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Bice; junior secretary-treasurer, Miss Waugh; literary secretary-treasurer, Miss Moore; extra-cent-a-day fund, Mrs. Edwards; educational secretary, Mrs. Shore; editor of Living Message, Miss Hart; superintendent of Little Helms; Miss Harrison; convener of work among the Indians, Mrs. Pugsley; convener of the nominating committee, Mrs. Orr; and convener of deaconry secretary-treasurer, Mrs. D. Dolph.

Means to Amend.
"All our plans and methods are means to an end," this was the statement made by Mrs. Anderson in her address before the opening session.

"This end," she explained, "is that we may be enabled to pray more intelligently and to give more generously; and this will mean that we serve more worthily. To serve more worthily," she continued, "we must learn to live more worthily. As it has been said 'we are living more worthily only when we are living victoriously ourselves at every point, when we are inspiring and helping others to live victoriously, and when our life is a song of hope, and courage, even though we sing out of tears and pain.'"

It has been brought home to us that the success of missions abroad is in exact measure the intensity of the prayer and the living in the home lands; but have we realized how deeply the sincerity and uprightness and purity of our lives affect the work in the mission fields?"

Crash Injuries Thought Cause of Development in N. Grover's Condition.

Norman Grover, fire truck driver, who was injured when his machine hit a motor car at the corner of King and Talbot streets, in response to a fire alarm two weeks ago, has developed typhoid fever, indirectly brought on, it is believed, as a result of the accident.

Grover was taken to Victoria hospital the night of the crash. He suffered from a broken rib and face and head injuries. Shock from the accident weakened his strength, which in turn made him susceptible to typhoid.
