Queens Has Great Chance To Equal 'Varsity Record

Victory On Saturday Will Give Tri-Color Four Straight Championships.

TORONTO DIFFERS

Special to The Advertiser.

Toronto, Oct. 28.—Will Queens equal Varsitys' record of winning the Intercollegiate Union senior rugby title four times in succession? The blue and white accomplished this by winning in 1908, 1909, 1910 and 1911, and then in 1921 Frank Shaughnessy came along with his strong McGill team and stopped the rusb. Queens have now won the college title three years in a row. Another success and the Varsity mark will be equalled.

It must be admitted that Queens look to be a mighty good position to do the trick. Varsity have a fine chance to stop the long winning streak of the Presbyterians, but if Varsity wins on Saturday it simply means that in order to create a tie in the Intercollegiate race Varsity must beat McGill both in Toronto and in Montreal. And on top of that, to prevent Queens from annexing their fourth in a row Varsity would have to win the play-off as well.

Varsity Can Do It.

Nave to win the play-on as well.

Varsity Can Do It.

Such, a thing can be accomplished.

Of that there is no question. Varsity can defeat Queens here on Saturday-and those Varsty players believe they will—there is no reason why Varsity cannot beat McGill. For Queens did it, so a team that can defeat—if Varsity do—should be able to accomplish it also.

cannot beat McGill. For Queens did it, so a team that can defeat—if Varsity do—should be able to accomplish it also.

However, for Varsity it simply means there must not be a slip up of any kind. One false move, and they are done for. In the meantime Queens would be sitting idly by, recovering from any injuries that might be in order, and preparing to present their entire team at full strength in the play-off. But all this is only supposition—for Varsitys' first step is a victory here on Saturday.

College Record.

Here is the record of the Intercollegiate Union sentor race, and it will show the fans just how things have gone in past seasons:

1898—University of Toronto.
1899—University of Toronto.
1900—Queen's University.
1901—University of Toronto.
1906—McGill University.
1903—University of Toronto.
1906—McGill University.
1906—McGill University.
1907—Ottawa College.
1908—University of Toronto.
1910—University of Toronto.
1911—University of Toronto.
1911—University of Toronto.
1912—McGill University.
1913—McGill University.
1914—University of Toronto.
1915-18—War wears.
1919—McGill University.
1923—Queen's University.
1923—Queen's University.
1923—Queen's University.
Despite the good showing of Varsity down in Kingston and the fact that they outplayed Queens, but lost by 8 to 65, Queens are—and should be—favorites for Saturday's game But this does not mean anything. Favorites have been beaten before—and may again. Aueens on paper look to have the edge of the backfield and at outside wings.

The public know what Leadley and Batstone can do, and they know the tackling strength of Thomas and Walaker. But these same fans do not know to just what heights that Snyder-Trimble-McFayden backfield for Varsity may rise. Nor do they know just what tackling strength is possessed by Kirkpatrick, Irwin and Fraser for Varsity.

JACK STRUTTING STUFF

Ing Money.

Special to The Advertiser.

New York, Oct. 28—Jack Dempsey is sure strutting his stuff down in Mexico. Jack is a great student of human nature, and now it appears that he knows Latin human nature as well as any other.

Friends of Jack who think that he has gone off his conk with all this "I" stuff of his, have got to realize that this is what the Greasers want.

If he had gone into Mexico with an air of becoming humility and excessive modesty it is dollars to doughnuts not only that he could not have had a corporal's guard to see him go through them to import that he could not have had a corporal's guard to see him go through the motion of fighting against his sparring partners but that some three-cent Mexican might have taken a wallop at him. Those guys down there have to be kept in their places.

Suppose he had gone soft on the chesty stuff? Why, when he offered to let some Mexican pull and twist his nose to see that it was real flesh and gristle and not wax, the chances are that some Hidalgo would have taken him at his word and spoiled Jack for the movies—save as a comic character, a sort of nasal Ben Turpin.

The Chicago Nationals, and perhaps, the Philadelphila Nationals and one or two other clubs, are after Guyon, the Colonels' Indian outfielder, who batted over, 300 last season.

Cotter, the first baseman, has been taken on by the Shortstop, has been pretty carefully looked over, and there are others who is are likely to be found, jsewhere in 1925, among them Halley, the pitcher.

Guyon is in baseball because Jim Thorpe urged him to try for it some years ago. The two Indians played to other at Carlisle in 1912, and while Cuyon didn't prove to be the star that Thorpe became, he did well, and was noted for his speed.

Guyon was in the war, and when it was over, some time after Thorpe had finished his major league career, Guyon leside to put his athletic skill into the colon had a corporal's guard to see him got his with the war was will be head of the colon had a him at his word and spoiled Jack for the movies—save as a comic character, a sort of nasai Ben Turpin.

As it was, with Jack pulling his stuff and looking fierce, no Mexican would have taken up the offer any more than he would have agreed to pick his molars with the tip end of the horn of a raging bull.

Let Jack alone. He is making money, that is all.

There are quite a number who did not see them play last season. They were those who remained away from the Canadian final because they figured Balmy would be swamped by Queens, and the east-enders turned around and gave the champions a real argument. The Balmy Beach team is not far removed from last year's strength. They have lost Hughes and Britton from the backfield, but they have picked up a real star in this young fellow Robertson. He has all the earmarks of a comer, and, what is more, he improves each game.

son. He has an the comer, and, what is more, he improves each game.

Balmy right now is down to "hard licks" in preparation for Saturday's important O. R. F. U. senior title clash with Camp Borden up at Hamilton. This is Borden's home fixture, and is being played in Hamilton because the filers decided to try the Ambitious City fans out to see if they would support a game with two outside teams.

Newman, the Balmy Beach snap, was added to the casuality list last night. As Ogden, the regular snap, retired on Monday and Newman was hurt last night, it means that another will now have to be groomed for the position, keeve was shifted back to the rearguard last night again after a onenight's sojourn on the wing line. Ken Whetter returned to the squad again.

Declares Quebecers Able To Take Care of Themselves in Explaining Absence.

SPEAKS AT OTTAWA

E. C. BUCHANAN. Special to The Advertiser by a Staff Correspondent.

Ottawa, Oct. 28.-Mr. Meighen brought the Conservative campaign to a close with a final meeting in the capital tonight. The people of this city always are ready to pay respect to party leaders, and Mr. Meighen brought out a large audience and received an enthusiastic welcome home.

During the course of his accusa tions against the government, however, he was considerably heckled, especially on the subject of the Tory campaign in Quebec. He was asked why he had not spoken in that prov-ince. He replied that Quebec would who is believed in some quarters to ince. The Conservative leader on the Campaign Started in England last night of the campaign increased the number of Canadians alleged to have migrated to the United States. He placed the figure at close to 500.

Mr. Meighen repeated here most of the charges against the government he has made elsewhere. He declared Vincent Massey had become a friend of the government because it had compensated his company for loss it sustained by tariff reduction, the compessation being in the form of the free entry of goods used by the company.
