In two vols. royal 8vo, pp. xxix, 507, and 465, cloth, gilt tops, 24s. nett.

These two volumes relating to the military controversy between Sir Henry Clinton and Lord Cornwallis will be found to be a valuable contribution to the History of the American Campaign of 1781, by which the Independence of the United States was virtually secured. The six pamphlets here reprinted are of such rarity that only one library—that of the Department of State, Washington—possesses all of them, and of the "Parting Word" no other copy is known. In the copious Index many biographical notices are given, of which the bulk of the information has grown out of Mr. Stevens's memoranda and indexes of American correspondence and documents: the European archives.
