OUR QUEBEC LETTER.

From Our Own Correspondent.]

Quebec, Jan. 10.—We shill keep an eye on Mr. Ben. Globeosky, lawyer, of Montreal. He is really "too fresh." He was down here the other day, and Quabec did not appear large enough to contain him. Why, Sir, by all accounts he talked as if he held the destiny of the province in the palm of his hand, and as for honors he had only to say presto, and they come blushing to his command. An for his "mission" to this fancient city, some of our politicians soon found out what that was. Globensky was the "go-between"—the "high, dare, Dick," as they say in the old country, and he just laid himself cut to "rope in" the Nationalists and Liberals to support the present administration. The Hon. Mr. Garne was, in some way present or prospective, to be made Lieutenant Governor of the province, if he was only mean enough to swallow all he had said against the Ross Government and go in and lend a helping hand. Tis nothing less than Lieutenant Governor, as I hear the story, and I think I have been well informed. Of course, Mr. Globensky mistook his man. Prospective QUEBEC, Jan. 10. - We should keep an eye on Mr. Glabensky mistook his man. Prospective or present, honors were not likely to induce Mr. Garneau to turn traitor on his friends. He is not made of the material necessary to produce the kind of animal necessary for that sort of deceit. His animal necessary for that sort of deceit. His career has been an honorable one. He has a stainless commercial record. He is a man of lofty principles, just motives and unimpeachable integrity. Whatever political mistake he, able integrity. Whatever political mistake he in common with most men, made in life treason in common with most men, made in the treason has not been one of them, and it is not likely that he would, at this time of day, stain his reputation by bartering his honor for social distinction and leave behind him a reputation for political deceit and fraud. If Mr. Globensky knew Mr. German better he would not have knew Mr. Garneau better he would not have approached him with a bribe in one hand and disgrace in the other, and I am satisfied that the Hon. Mr. Garneau had him to understand that between himself, his friends the Nationalists, and the pendards there can be nothing but political antagonism and an "open rupture" for many a long day to come. But Mr. Globensky, by all accounts, did not stop at the Hon. Mr. Garneau, for it appears that he tried his 'orantice hand on tried his 'prentice hand on for Quebec West, also. Anything he wanted, in reason, was at his command. A seat in the cabinet, hints about "boodle," anything and everything to secure his asistance for Ross, Tailon and Co. But here again they mistake their man. We who know Mr. Owen Murphy would as senseen as the member for Chahes would as soon suspect the front are. Mercler himself of treason as the member for Quebec West. Like Mr. Garneau, Mr. Murphy is not the class of man to tarnish a hitherto stainless character by an act of political treachery on the threshold of his Parliamentary career. He would not have his reputation for honor and honesty tarnished for all the honors the Minister could bestow on him. At least that is what his friends say about him, and that is what they generally believe. Of course, he spurned their offers, and, of course, to-day, he stands higher in the estimation of the public than he ever did before, and that is saying not a little for him, let me tell you. But these things prove the desperate straits the friends of the Government are in. They are not only grasping at straws, but at shadows. They are placing a price on political treasor, and they are attempting to encourage a system of deceit which would eventually wreck the constitutional practice altogether. If the treachery now proposed by the friends of Dr. Ross could by any corrupt practice succeed it would undermine the confidence of the people in the franchise and make them look on elections as a sham. But they cannot succeed, and the efforts they have made prove that one swallow does not make a summer, and that if some of Mr. Joly's friends left him that is no reason why the supporters of the Hon. Mr. Mercier will do likewise.

THE GENERAL ELECTIONS

Preparations for the general elections are going on all about us, and the Liberals are ahead of the Torics in the choice of candidates. The Nationalists will, it is expected, be stronger, have as yet been chosen for the Nationalists side, but, on the other hand, the Nationalists have more men in the field in other places as the following list will show :-- for instance is, it is said, likely to have too many Richmonds in the field. At least at present too many are spoken of. The Hor. Thomas McGreevy, the Liberal, will, of cause, be the government candidate, and in opposition we have still the names of Mr. Mathew Hearn, Q.C., Mr. George Humphries, and, of late, the Hon, John Harne is becoming an activation. C.C., Mr. George Humphries, and, of late, the Hon, John Herne is looming up with auspicious composure. At present no one appears to know who is who. But the West should be safe for any of the three who are mentioned as probable opposition candidates—Anti-Home-Rule, Orange Alliance Mail follower, Boodle Brigade Allegiance—McGreevy should be beaten out of his boots by any honest man. If he is not then the chances are that the mean If he is not then the chances are that the mem-ber for Quebec West will be in Opposition and he will let Parliament look after itself as he did during the days when Alexander Mackenzie guarded the policy of the Dominica and starved his friends into surrender. But those days have passed. When the Liberal party gets into power again, if there is any starving to be done, it will not be done by the Liberals themselves. Enough of that kind of thing is better than a feats, and tit for tat is fair play all over the QUEBEC, Jan. 11.—Quebec West can be redeemed at the next Dominion election. From all I can hear there does not appear to be a doubt about it. Although the division returns an Irishman, yet the majority of the electors is French Canadian, and they are not likely to follow the party led by Sir John A. Macdonald-of Ontario against the assaults of Sir John A. Macdonald's lieutenants, Dalton McCarthy and his organ The Mail. All have contributed to the result. And in this old city the Irishmen whom I meet laugh at the idea of The Mail being an "independent" paper. From Conservatives admit that that story is "too thin." "It is all a dodge" they say, and it requires no astute philosopher to see it. The Mail tailed as an organ of bigotry and intolerance. It cannot "swallow its wort's" or go back on its record. What then is it to do? If it continues in the old pa th it will ruin the last chance of the Te ries. So it tries the "independent" tack, in order to relieve." the pandent" tack, in order to release the party" of i all responsibility for its utterances. It is all a party dodge. The Mail will help the Tories now as it did before. I have not met; in Irishman in Quebee yet who does not think. to. The Mail will, they say, go one way and . Sir John will go another, but the destination is the same. They are taking the destination is the same. They are taking different reads to the same political heaven—gentlemen, whom the Nationalists have in view tor, Gaspe and Bonaventure, stand a contest, the the triumph of the Tories win, which few, about it. And if the Tories win, which few, very few, bolieve, "The Mail will shout the "District of Quebec," Sir John is not the "District of Quebec," Sir John is not sure of more than two or three seats. He may time past has been at points west of Toron to, $6.50 per 100 under light stocks.

deal to do in shaping the policy of the Government. That is where the danger carries it. But it won't do. It is "too thin," a long way too thin, and everybody knows

THE PUBLIC DEET.

But there are other reasons for believing that Quebec West will be redeemed. Apart-from the Irish, who will oppose McGreevy for his anti-Home Rule and Orange Alliance Association, there is a large commercial element in the constituency that will vote against the Boodlers simply on business principles. Just think of it. With emigration almost at a standstill, yet the public debt of the country has increased from $93,-457,000 in 1867 to $281,314,000 in 1886! That is, in twenty years the public debt has been trebled, something that perhaps no other country in the world can say. With no great army to support; no navy to guard our coasts; no diplomatic service to look after our interests abroad, yet we more than treble our public debt in twenty years and weight the people down with taxes. And all of that increase that the Liberals are responsible for is $7,232,000 during the five years of the Mackenzie administration. All the rest has been piled up by Sir John A. Macdonald. Why, sir, even during the 90 months that the present administration has been in power the verage increase of debt has been :-

AACTURE INCIDUATE OF GLOS NOT COLOR
Each month &	1,181.744.00
Each day	45,551.00
Each hour	4,545.00
Each minute	75.00

Just think of that! And a great deal of all this money went in boodle. It went to contractors, jobbers, newspapers and political tricksters of all kinds. And where is the return for all this money ? How much better off are the people? How much cheaper is living? Let the merchants of Quebec give the answer And remember that twenty years ago, in 1867. Sir John began Confederation with an annual expenditure of $13,000,000 in round figures. Well, in six years he increased it to $23,000,000. That was not so bad, eh? Then in 1874 Alexander Mackenzio came into power, and during the five years he was in power the expenditure was kept down to $23,000,000, as he found it, and there he left it. Then Sir John came in again in 1878, and away goes the expenditure like a rocket, from $23,000,000 up to $35,000,000 in 1885! Now Mackenzie kept too tight a grip of the money bage. He was, in fact too honest; but Sir John! why he just opened the strings and let the boys dive in and take all they wanted. These, Sir, are some of the reasons why the merchants of Quebec will oppose McGreevy at the coming Dominion elections, for he was one of the Boodlers, and should be sent to the well. EAST, CENTRE AND WEST. Laurier is sure of Quebec East. No one doubts that Langelier, the present Mayor, is almost equally sure to carry Quebec Centre— few doubt that,—and if the Liberals carry Quebec West, this city will present the singular spectacle of having six representatives, three for the provincial and three for the Dominion—all Liberals. And men who are well posted in the political ins and outs of affairs in and around Quebec believe that the large interpretation of the power of the provincial and three for the same of Ireland's friends and Ireland's foes. If Blake is returned to power it will mean that the Dominion of Canada will assist Gladstone and Parnell in securing Home Rule for Ireland. Blake will do it; Mowat will do it: Mercier will do it, and onr that this is just what will happen. Mowat will do it; Mercier will do it, and our Quebec wants to be abreast of the times friends in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick will in this matter. The people here do not want to have their M.P.'s and M.P.P. in opposition. There is no city, or town, in Canada whose prosperity depends more on Govern-ment help than Quebec. In fact, without Government help the city carnot at present prosper. Well, there is a belief abroad that Blake is coming into power. That belief is pretty general. It affects the people of Quebec as keenly as it does any other Quebec as keenly as it does any other people in Canada, and that fact will induce people in Canada, and that fact will induce many electors to cast their vote with what they believe to be the winning side. The cause. Here in Quebec McGreevy should, by 15c to 16c; low grades, 13c to 14c. Mationalists will, it is expected, be stronger, much stronger in the Dominion than they were in the Provincial elections. > reputation for ever. QUEDEC, Jan. 12 .- The Hon. Mr. Mercier is to be given an imposing reception when he comes to Quebec. If he arrive at night, which comes to Quebec. If he arrives at night, which is probable, he will be met at the station and a torchlight procession will be formed to escort him to his hotel. He will be hailed as the conquering here of the hour and winged and stringed instruments will sound sweet music in his honor. There is, too, some talk of a great public meeting in the Skating Rink, at which the Hon. Mr. Mercier and the heading to the Nationality narry stringed instruments will sound sweet music in his honor. There is too, some talk of a great public meeting in the Skating Rink, at which the Hon. Mr. Mercier and the leading lights of the Nationalist party will, in presence of the people, light their political lattles over-again, and tell us of the long pull, and the strong pull, and the pull all together, which is to place the Nationalists on the right hand side of Mr. Speaker in the comming, and, I believe, in many prospective sessions as well. Right or wrong, the people believe that the Hon. Mr. Mercier and his friends are coming into power to stay, and that is why he in particular is not beloved by the followers of Dr. Ross and the folicical lackeys of Sir John. Make no the to irical lackeys of Sir John. Make no mistake on that point. Mercier is, by lorg odds, the best Laberal tactician, as well as the ablest statesman, that Quebec has seen for many a decade, and his coining into power may well cause the Liberals, and their allies, the Nationalists, to rejo ce, for he is coming to "make himself at home."

A SIGNIFICANT STRAW.

I could at help hugging myself to-day because I heard a piece of news that made me laugh and be merry. Here it is, You know that when Mercier and McShane were fighting the Home Mercier and McShane were fighting the Home Rule question in the Legislature, one of the Government supp reers, a gentleman named Asselin, moved an amenoment to the effect that, "while this House sympathised with the Irish people in their desire to secure self-government, yet that it is not the business of this House to interfere." I in common with every Irish Home Ruler in Canada, have had no love for Mr. Asselin since then. I often regretted that he had not a large then. I often regretted that he had not a large Irish vote in his constituency, where some of us could work the nails off our fingers to punish him for that "amendment." But that was done without our aid. First of all Mr. Asselin was beaten at the Provincial election last October. That was one comfort. But to day I heard another piece of news to the effect that in the town of Rimoski, of which place Asselin is Mayor, that the Nationalists carried all the municipal contests, and that Asselin and his six followers have been defeated and seven Nationalists classed the details to mange the affects of the alists elected to manage the affairs of the patriotic people! Does not that look like business? And is it not a straw on the surface as well? Of course it may be wrong to conduct municipal contests on political grounds. That is, at best, an open question, but it appears that the context in kimouski was so conducted, and the Nationalists won "hand over fist." And that is only an indication of the cleaning out the Tories will get at the coming general elec-

THE NATIONALISTS

expect to carry Rimonski, L'Islet, Komauraska, Bellechasse, Levis, Lotbiniere, Portneuf, Drummond and Arthabaska, Dorchester, Beauce, Champlain, Montgomery, and the three divisions of Quenec. On the other hand, if certain gentlemen, whom the Nationaliats have in view for Gaspe and Bonaventure, stand a context, the charges are that these constituencies too, may carry the County of Quebec, Chicoutimi and Temiscouata, but, as for the rest, he will get a clearer sweeping this time than his friends got in October. On this point the most astute nationalist politicians in Quebec are agreed. Nor do I see any reason why Pelletier, the brilliant young Nationalist, should not carry Three Rivers against Sir Hector Langevin. Mercier will be in power, and Pelletier will be assisted by Turcotte, the present popular M.P.P. And the friends of Sir John know that "danger" has been signalled from many a county in this district for some time. carry the County of Quebec, Chicoutimi and county in this district for some time. The long threatening will come at last, and the verdict given by the people on October the 14th will be emphasized the day the elections for the Dominion are held. That is the general belief here. Even Sir John's friends admit that in this district he will be badly beaten. I have heard a score of them say as much during the past few days, and I know a dozen or more who are already trimming their sails to catch the breeze which is to lift Blake to power.

THE MONTREAL MAYORALTY. The people of Quebec are taking a brief interest in your mayoralty contest. Here, as you are aware, the Mayor is elected by the members of the City Council, and the turnoil you have in Montreal, whether good or bad, is avoided. Opinions are, of course, divided as to the merits of Mr. Abbot. He may be all his friends claim for him, but there is one thing that he should atone for before he mounts the civic chair, and that is, let him tell the world, like a man, that he was an Orangeman, and that he is serry for it. Let him say that it was indiscretied of youth, and, so far as the Irish Catholics of concerned, if I understand them, I believe they will say "Granuch" Their is the man I they will say, "enough." That is the way I hear them speak here, anyhow. But if he persists in doing this, then, if I had my way, I would punish him, vote against him, work against him and deny him all the honors I could. Mr. Abbott got in the Heuse of Conformant heaves he was an Orangeman. He could. Mr. Abbott got in the House of Com-Commons because he was an Orangeman. He "commanded," and I believe does still, one of the most Orange battalions in Gauada, the Argenteuil Rangers. He has used Orangeism as a stepping stone to place and power, and if I could I would tight him on that line alone. Men who live by the sword must perish by the sword, and men who live by appealing to Orange preand men who live by appealing to Orange pre judices should be taught a lesson. I would deny them all position of trust and emolument.

I would not allow them to hold the position of a pound-keeper. At the same time I would heap honors on our Protestant friends without heap honors on our Protestant trends without stint. No exclusion there. On the contrary, I would ever be more than just. I would be generous to Protestants of all denominations. But as for Orangeism, I would try and make it not only unfashionable, but unprofitable as well, and if that was done the thing would fade away like a pollywag's tail.

QUEBEC, Jan. 16th. - Look out for February 15th. I know beyond all doubt that that is 15th. I know beyond all doubt that that is the day of nomination for the Dominion elections. Parliament was dissolved yes-terday, Saturday, and the elections will be held on January 22nd. And so now comes the tug of war. Now comes the fight between the stainless leader, Blake, on the one hand and his Orange Tory, No Popery, Boodle antagonist, Sir John A. Macdonald, on the other. What the Irishmen of Canada will do in such a contest cannot be doubted. This is, for them, something more than a mere political contest. It is something more than Liberalism or Conservativeism, for it embraces the issue of Ireland's friends and Irela lend a helping hand as well. Apart from the enormous public debt of $2$1,000,000 which Canada now labors under, apart from the story of the "Blind Shares," the squandered timber limits, the corruption of the press by outlandish print-ing contracts, and the heaping up of deficit after deficit, there is for the Irish people a special significance in the com-ing contest. Never again, perhaps, will the Irish Canadians have a chance of casting a vote that will be of such moment in the Irish ob-yed the commands of Sir John and pitched Home Rule to the dogs. There is only one physic far these gentry, and that is, punish them, vote them down, ruin, yes, attn them politically, and treat these treacherous and sycophantic voteens that they cannot trifle with the life and death of a nation without being subjected to the contempt and opposition of those whom they would seek to destroy,

The Amyot-Targe case is occupying a good deal of public attention in Queb-c. That redoubtable warror, Major-General Sir Frederick Middleton, has been down here giving evidence Gentlemen occurying mis position.

It is of course—all for the public service. It was, indeed, said that the General had "requisitioned" a handsome pony and a lot of furs for his own use, but we would be slow to believe anything of the kind. General Middleton is a gentleman, and, if not much of a soldier, yet he knows the difference between mine and thine, and it would require something more than insinuations to warrant us in believement that the General Middleton is a gentleman, and, if not much of a soldier, yet he knows the difference between mine and thine, and it would require something more than insinuations to warrant us in believement of the complex of turkeys at 8 to 10c, chickens at 5c to 6½2, geese 5c to 7c, and ducks 8c to 10c.
