

QUESTION 2 (cont'd)

non-formal education: this sector is of special interest to Canada insofar as it provides to special categories of citizen, the opportunity to improve their participation and contribution to society; environment: there is a strong concern in Canada for environmental rehabilitation, both at the official and at the grass-root level, and a keen awareness of the need to coordinate efforts at the international level; technological development: there is interest in the area of the impact of technological development on societies and cultures, transfer of knowledge and technology;

communication: Canada has both expertise and hardware and would be willing to share both with other countries in the study of communication issues;